City Voting Seen 'Light' In Forenoon

Check Of Precincts Shows Turnout Is Less Than In 1959

A lighter than anticipated forenoon turnout in the municipal general election indicated East Liverpool's total vote today will hit 7,000 or slightly less.

The total vote in the 34 precincts up until 11 this morning was estimated at 1,824, against 2,328 at the same time in the last comparable election in 1959.

In the 1959 election, East Liverpool cast 7,624 of the county's 30,981 ballots. In the 1957 municipal election, the forenoon vote was 1,677 and the total vote was 6,587. In 1955, 1,506 turned out before noon and the total vote was 6,356.

The forenoon turnout was 1,803 in 1953, when the total vote was 6,736. The 1951 forenoon turnout was 1,849 and the total vote was 7,771.

Of the precincts sampled this morning, every one showed a turnout far less than at the same time in the 1959 balloting.

In 1-B, which votes on St. George St., the forenoon vote was 54 today, against 83 in 1959. And 2-B, voting on Bradshaw Ave., had 89 today against 110 two years ago.

At 3-C, voting at Central Fire Station, 50 voted up until 11 this morning, against 61 at the same time in 1959.

Here's the sampling in other precincts, listing first today's forenoon vote and then the turnout at the same time in 1959: 1-C, 40 and 50; 2-E, 84 and 99; 2-A, 50 and 70; and 4-C, 35 and 46.

Pre-election forecasts called for a total turnout of 7,000 to 7,500 in East Liverpool, with about 30,000 countywide.

The 165 polling places in Columbiana County opened at 6:30 this morning and will close at 6:30 tonight.

Because of the long list of candidates and special questions and issues, returns tonight are expected to be comparatively late.

In addition to naming new local officials in cities, villages, townships and school districts, voters are deciding the fate of 40 special

Call For Results

The Review will have a staff on hand tonight to furnish vote results as rapidly as they become available from the Board of Elections.

A "flash count" is planned by the board on both the city income tax repeal ordinance and the race for mayor. The complete ballot count, however, is expected to take some time in view of the number of issues and definite results in most contests are unlikely until late at night.

FBI To Question Robber Of Bank

A 57-year-old Minerva factory worker, caught within an hour after robbing the Farmers National Bank at Hanoverton Monday, was being held today at the Columbiana County Jail at Lisbon awaiting Federal Bureau of Investigation agents.

William Claude Brown, who threatened four employes in the bank with four sticks of dynamite in taking $4,875 yesterday morning, faces federal charges, Sheriff Russell VanFossan said.

Two Federal Bureau of Investigation agents were at the County Jail late this morning, preparing to take Brown to Youngstown for arraignment on federal charges.

He was to be transferred later to Cleveland, according to Sheriff VanFossan.

Sheriff VanFossan said Brown in admitting the robbery indicated he "had been playing the horses a little heavy" and needed money. He has been married three times, is the father of a boy, 7½, and is an inspector at the Kolcast Industries at Minerva.

Brown drove off from the bank holdup in a dark blue 1961 sedan, its license plates covered with tape, but was nabbed by State Highway Patrolman Dwight Horn north of Minerva when Horn spotted his car as matching the description of the one sought.

The revolver Brown had jammed in his belt during the holdup, along with the dynamite and money were in the car, and he was identified by four bank employes and two others.

The bandit entered the bank office about 10:15 and went to Lee Bowman, manager, at his desk in the front part of the room.

Brown sat down and opened the lid of a cigar box, revealing four sticks of wired dynamite inside. Holding a battery in the other hand, he asked Bowman, "'Do you know what this is? All I have to do is touch this wire and you know what will happen'."

When Bowman moved, Brown said, "'Don't get any funny ideas'." He pulled the revolver from beneath his coat, and told the manager to walk behind the counter and give him all the cash in the drawers.

Robert Kidder of Hanoverton R. D., a customer, then walked into the bank, and Brown forced him to walk with Bowman.

President's Advised On S. Viet Nam

Reportedly Told By Nehru Not To Send U.S. Troops There

WASHINGTON (AP) — India Prime Minister Nehru was reported today to have strongly advised President Kennedy against sending U.S. combat troops to South Viet Nam.

Three weeks ago, when Kennedy dispatched his military adviser, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, to the Communist-besieged nation, there was wide speculation that Kennedy might send a U.S. force to South Viet Nam. When Taylor returned Friday he had no public word of support for sending troops.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy and Nehru discussed both Laos and South Viet Nam in their first meeting Monday.

Nehru, a leader of the nonaligned nations, scheduled a midmorning White House meeting with Kennedy today to discuss subjects ranging from Southeast Asia to Berlin to nuclear testing.

Their meeting at Newport, R.I., Monday was the first chance for the two men to take each other's measure. The atmosphere was described as friendly. They flew here together from Kennedy's vacation headquarters.

"With us peace is a passion," he told Kennedy in an impromptu statement at Andrews Air Force Base.

He also took note of recent U.S. criticism of Indian policies and said one purpose of his visit was to "explain what we have in our own minds."

Relationships between friendly countries, he said, are more basic than "temporary policies and events that happen."

FIREMAN'S FUTILITY. A reflextion in a pool of water shows the futility experienced by firefighters as flames consumed an expensive home in the Bel Air area, Beverly Hills, Calif., Monday. Firefighters were hampered all day by high winds, heat and a shortage of water and water pressure. More than 200 homes were burned as flames raged unchecked throughout this exclusive area. Many homes in the area are owned by movie and television personalities. (UPI Telephoto)

Fashionable Palisades Is Threatened

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two disastrous fires threatened early today to join and burn oceanward on a 10-mile front that officials said would threaten a whole new community — fashionable Pacific Palisades.

The major multimillion-dollar blaze—the worst in Southern California history—already had destroyed more than 200 costly homes including those of such film stars as Burt Lancaster, Joe E. Brown and Zsa Zsa Gabor. Ex-Vice President Richard M. Nixon was among those who fled the flames Monday.

Eating through Topanga Canyon's explosively dry brush during the night, a companion fire that also broke out Monday moved to within slightly more than a mile of the Bel-Air fire.

The Topanga fire had raged through 4,000 acres, the Bel-Air through 3,200. Only Rustic Canyon, which has a few expensive homes, separated the two.

Officials said the fires probably will join, forming a 10-mile flaming front. If they continue burning southward, all of heavily populated Pacific Palisades, near the ocean, would be in danger, the officials said. The two fires already were only three or four miles from that community.

"We are making full preparations for the worst," said County Fire Chief Keith Klinger.

Men and equipment in large numbers moved into the southern end of the Topanga Canyon holocaust. Twenty-four bombers, 12 for each fire, were loaded for daylight bombing of the flames

School Merger Foes Win Point

LISBON — Judge Raymond S. Buzzard Monday afternoon granted a mandamus petition in the Franklin Township school merger case, paving the way for a possible election on a consolidation with Carroll County.

The ruling, which directs the Columbiana County Board of Education to submit a transfer petition to the Board of Elections for verification of signatures, does not immediately effect the status of the recently merged Southern Local and Franklin Local school districts.

HOWEVER, should the Board of Elections officially determine that 55 per cent of the qualified voters of Franklin were on the transfer petition submitted to the county school board in September, the county school board would be required to have the Board of Elections set up a special election on the proposed merger with Carroll County.

The mandamus action was filed last month by Fred Johnson of Summitville, leader of a group of Franklin Township residents which has opposed the merger with the Southern Local district because of the distance to the planned new Southern Local High School.

The county board in August merged the two districts, effective Sept. 15 in event a remonstrance or referendum petition was not filed.

Boost In Pay Held Possible For Teachers

Betts Tells Board State Might Raise Foundation Grants

The Board of Education was told Monday night that it may be possible to grant salary increases for all personnel, plus boosting some other operating accounts next year, if additional funds are received under the state school foundation program.

However, a big "if" remains to be answered, Supt. Ralph W. Betts informed the board in announcing the possibility city schools may get an additional $43,000 in the foundation program.

Any boosts would be contingent upon all other items, including property valuations in the school district, remaining the same, the superintendent said.

Betts said the last session of the State Legislature granted $100 increases in each salary category and $100 per classroom unit for general operating expenses.

The Legislature boosted the allotment for each approved unit for teachers with less than three

Deering Gets Prison Term

Accomplices In Gas Theft Go To Jail

An East Liverpool man was sentenced to prison Monday in connection with the "wholesale" theft of gasoline from the American Oil Co. terminal here. Two accomplices were given county jail terms with probation.

Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp sentenced Robert Deering, 43, of Lisbon St., to 1-7 years at the Ohio Penitentiary.

He pleaded guilty to taking over 2,500 gallons of gasoline from the River Rd. terminal over a two-year period.

James H. Martin, 38, of 2021 Chester Ave., Wellsville, was sentenced to 60 days in the County Jail and was placed on five years probation. He must make $1,446 in restitution.

Robert Wright, 30, of Pleasant Heights was sentenced to 30 days in the County Jail and also placed on five years probation. He must make $1,235 restitution.

Both Martin and Wright also has pleaded guilty and requested probation.

Deering provided two trucks with disguised tanks which were loaded by Martin while Wright served as the lookout man at the terminal. James Glover of Chester delivered the gasoline to stations in the Tri-State area. The thefts started in 1959 and became larger in 1960, the men said.

Glover was sentenced earlier to 30 days in the County Jail and fined, along with several gas station owners.

Deering also asked probation but Judge Sharp refused.

$1 Million Cost Seen

Group In St. Clair Hears Review Of Water Project

A preliminary survey for a public water supply for St. Clair Township, estimated to cost $1 million, was reviewed by a Wheeling engineer at a meeting of the St. Clair Township Development Association Monday night.

A. R. Todd of Wheeling, head of A. R. Todd Associates, engineers, presented a "feasibility" report for such a water system which would include a water purification plant on Beaver Creek near Sprucevale.

A number of area homes have had water shortages in wells in recent months, and Todd pointed out that the township — which had a population of 5,737 in 1960— is expected to have 8,500 by 1985 at the present rate of growth.

With an average need of 36 gallons of water daily per person, Todd said there would be a need for a daily supply of 306,000 in 25 years.

The plan would call for furnishing water to Calcutta, Glenmoor and intermediate points, providing 90 per cent of available customers sign a contract to take water and providing that money is available for the project.

Asked later in the meeting if the cost of supply water would be cheaper if an arrangement were made to have the city of East Liverpool extend mains, Todd indicated it would be cheaper to use the city water supply.

Todd said he feels St. Clair Township would be a good site for market interest in a bond issue because of its rapid growth.

He said the project may be eligible for federal aid, and discussed financing arrangements. Todd also referred to the lower fire insurance rates which would be available in a district with a water supply.

He said a 6-inch pump line would be used from the purification plant to Calcutta, 8-inch lines along state routes and a 10-inch line to a storage tank. Then an 8-inch line would be used from the storage tank to a second storage tank near Glenmoor, and 8-inch mains with smaller laterals to homes.

He said no home would be farther than 500 feet from a fire hydrant. The two steel storage tanks would have 200,000-gallon capacity each.

Todd said a water supply is needed because the increase of new homes has resulted in taking water out of the ground faster than it is put in, thus lowering the water table.

At an informal vote after the discussion, 22 of the 55 attending the meeting at the Calcutta fire station indicated support for such a project. The remainder did not express either support or opposition.

In other action, a nominating committee submitted a slate of officers for election at the next meeting Dec. 4. The slate includes Stewart Snyder, president; John Duffy, vice president; Bill Smith, secretary; Calvert Bryan, treasurer, and Phil Miraglata, trustee.

Raimond Due Transfer To State Prison

Jerome (Jerry) Raimond, former city special officer convicted of a 1952 burglary of a hardware store, was in the County Jail at Lisbon today while commitment papers were being prepared for his transfer to the Ohio Penitentiary at Columbus.

Raimond of Newell turned himself over to the custody of the Sheriff's Department Monday afternoon.

He and Ira Cunningham, former city police officer, were convicted in 1958 of a burglary of the Burbick Hardware Co. store—one of nine indictments returned against seven officers in 1956.

Cunningham is currently serving a 1-5-year term for bribery of a prospective juror in the Burbick trial.

The Ohio Supreme Court last week turned down a bid for a rehearing on their appeal of the conviction, and Prosecutor William Brokaw obtained a writ for Raimond. However, at his request, he was permitted to remain free on bond until yesterday.

Woman, 103, Skips Trip To Lisbon Poll

LISBON — Mrs. Mary Smith, 103-year-old resident of the County Home, is not expected to vote today as she has in past years because she "is a little under the weather," Supt. Russell Phillis reported.

Mrs. Smith in previous years has visited in town to ballot and go through the stores.

Pedestrian Struck While On W. 5th St.

A 76-year-old East Liverpool woman is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered Monday afternoon when she was bumped by a backing car after stepping off a curb on W. 5th St. about 100 feet west of Market St.

Mrs. Eliza Kuhn, 321 E. 3rd St., suffered injuries of both hips and the right elbow when bumped by a 1956 model car operated by Thomas K. Gerace, 25, of 183 Sanford St. The mishap was timed about 4:55.

Gerace told police he was backing to leave a parking place and didn't see Mrs. Kuhn until she was bumped by the car. Mrs. Kuhn said she stepped off the curb to cross the street and didn't see anyone in the parked auto, but it began to move and knocked her down. A passerby tapped on the car window and told Gerace to halt the car, she said.

Two eye-witnesses corroborated the stories of the two principals, police said. They said Mrs. Kuhn stepped off the curb between two parked autos and was bumped by the backing car. The witnesses were Leanna Jones, 1317 Riverview St., an employe of a dry cleaning shop near the accident scene, and Jessie Emerson, 123½ W. 5th St.

Regiment Of Engineers Rebel In Ecuador Strife

BULLETIN

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — A military uprising by an engineer regiment objecting to the arrest of leftist Vice President Carlos Rosemena was beaten down by loyal troops today in a seven-hour battle in the southern part of Quito.

QUITO, Eucador (AP)—A regiment of engineers rebelled against the Ecuadorean government today a short time after leftist Vice President Carlos Arosemena was arrested on orders of President Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra.

Arosemena, who appears to have backing of a majority in Congress, was arrested around midnight. Aides with him also were taken into custody and imprisoned in the federal penitentiary.

They offered no resistance when approached on the street by Gonzalo Jacome, director of national security, and informed they were under arrest.

The Chimborazo regiment of engineers rose as soon as news of the arrest spread. The soldiers marched out of their barracks in the southern part of the city with weapons ready.

Three air force planes took off from a base outside the city and flew over the city. It was not clear where they stood in the political fight between the two leaders.

$165 Loss Reported In Burglary At Home

Mrs. Lila Veglia, 336 Norton St., told police Monday night at 6:42 that property worth $154 and $11 in cash were stolen from her home sometime between Oct. 31 and last Saturday night.

Costume jewelry valued at $148 was taken from a sample case and the intruder also removed $11 from an insurance receipt book and took $6 worth of groceries from a cupboard, Mrs. Veglia said.

There was no sign of forcible entry, officers said. Mrs. Veglia said the missing jewelry included 13 necklaces, seven bracelets, a "beauty chain," three men's tie bars, 14 pairs of earrings, two rings and four decorative pins.

The ruling, which directs the Columbiana County Board of Education to submit a transfer petition to the Board of Elections for verification of signatures, does not immediately effect the status of the recently merged Southern Local and Franklin Local school districts.

HOWEVER, should the Board of Elections officially determine that 55 per cent of the qualified voters of Franklin were on the transfer petition submitted to the county school board in September, the county school board would be required to have the Board of Elections set up a special election on the proposed merger with Carroll County.

The mandamus action was filed last month by Fred Johnson of Summitville, leader of a group of Franklin Township residents which has opposed the merger with the Southern Local district because of the distance to the planned new Southern Local High School.

The county board in August merged the two districts, effective Sept. 15 in event a remonstrance or referendum petition was not filed.

Regiment Of Engineers Rebel In Ecuador Strife

BULLETIN

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — A military uprising by an engineer regiment objecting to the arrest of leftist Vice President Carlos Rosemena was beaten down by loyal troops today in a seven-hour battle in the southern part of Quito.

QUITO, Eucador (AP)—A regiment of engineers rebelled against the Ecuadorean government today a short time after leftist Vice President Carlos Arosemena was arrested on orders of President Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra.

Arosemena, who appears to have backing of a majority in Congress, was arrested around midnight. Aides with him also were taken into custody and imprisoned in the federal penitentiary.

They offered no resistance when approached on the street by Gonzalo Jacome, director of national security, and informed they were under arrest.

The Chimborazo regiment of engineers rose as soon as news of the arrest spread. The soldiers marched out of their barracks in the southern part of the city with weapons ready.

Three air force planes took off from a base outside the city and flew over the city. It was not clear where they stood in the political fight between the two leaders.

Boost In Pay Held Possible For Teachers

Betts Tells Board State Might Raise Foundation Grants

The Board of Education was told Monday night that it may be possible to grant salary increases for all personnel, plus boosting some other operating accounts next year, if additional funds are received under the state school foundation program.

However, a big "if" remains to be answered, Supt. Ralph W. Betts informed the board in announcing the possibility city schools may get an additional $43,000 in the foundation program.

Any boosts would be contingent upon all other items, including property valuations in the school district, remaining the same, the superintendent said.

Betts said the last session of the State Legislature granted $100 increases in each salary category and $100 per classroom unit for general operating expenses.

The Legislature boosted the allotment for each approved unit for teachers with less than three

$165 Loss Reported In Burglary At Home

Mrs. Lila Veglia, 336 Norton St., told police Monday night at 6:42 that property worth $154 and $11 in cash were stolen from her home sometime between Oct. 31 and last Saturday night.

Costume jewelry valued at $148 was taken from a sample case and the intruder also removed $11 from an insurance receipt book and took $6 worth of groceries from a cupboard, Mrs. Veglia said.

There was no sign of forcible entry, officers said. Mrs. Veglia said the missing jewelry included 13 necklaces, seven bracelets, a "beauty chain," three men's tie bars, 14 pairs of earrings, two rings and four decorative pins.

Fashionable Palisades Is Threatened

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two disastrous fires threatened early today to join and burn oceanward on a 10-mile front that officials said would threaten a whole new community — fashionable Pacific Palisades.

The major multimillion-dollar blaze—the worst in Southern California history—already had destroyed more than 200 costly homes including those of such film stars as Burt Lancaster, Joe E. Brown and Zsa Zsa Gabor. Ex-Vice President Richard M. Nixon was among those who fled the flames Monday.

Eating through Topanga Canyon's explosively dry brush during the night, a companion fire that also broke out Monday moved to within slightly more than a mile of the Bel-Air fire.

The Topanga fire had raged through 4,000 acres, the Bel-Air through 3,200. Only Rustic Canyon, which has a few expensive homes, separated the two.

Officials said the fires probably will join, forming a 10-mile flaming front. If they continue burning southward, all of heavily populated Pacific Palisades, near the ocean, would be in danger, the officials said. The two fires already were only three or four miles from that community.

"We are making full preparations for the worst," said County Fire Chief Keith Klinger.

Men and equipment in large numbers moved into the southern end of the Topanga Canyon holocaust. Twenty-four bombers, 12 for each fire, were loaded for daylight bombing of the flames

Deering Gets Prison Term

Accomplices In Gas Theft Go To Jail

An East Liverpool man was sentenced to prison Monday in connection with the "wholesale" theft of gasoline from the American Oil Co. terminal here. Two accomplices were given county jail terms with probation.

Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp sentenced Robert Deering, 43, of Lisbon St., to 1-7 years at the Ohio Penitentiary.

He pleaded guilty to taking over 2,500 gallons of gasoline from the River Rd. terminal over a two-year period.

James H. Martin, 38, of 2021 Chester Ave., Wellsville, was sentenced to 60 days in the County Jail and was placed on five years probation. He must make $1,446 in restitution.

Robert Wright, 30, of Pleasant Heights was sentenced to 30 days in the County Jail and also placed on five years probation. He must make $1,235 restitution.

Both Martin and Wright also has pleaded guilty and requested probation.

Deering provided two trucks with disguised tanks which were loaded by Martin while Wright served as the lookout man at the terminal. James Glover of Chester delivered the gasoline to stations in the Tri-State area. The thefts started in 1959 and became larger in 1960, the men said.

Glover was sentenced earlier to 30 days in the County Jail and fined, along with several gas station owners.

Deering also asked probation but Judge Sharp refused.

Clear, Crisp Weather Due For Ohio Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Clear but crisp weather was forecast throughout Ohio during today's general election. However, less than half of Ohio's potential voters were expected to go to the polls.

Temperatures in the morning were expected to be mostly in the upper 20s but the Weather Bureau said sunshine would prevail over all but the northeastern counties and no rain is expected. The sunshine was expected to lift temperatures into the 40s.

The only statewide issues on the ballot are four proposed amendments to the state constitution but most communities will be electing local officials and deciding bond issues.

Nine of the state's 23 congressional districts will be selecting representatives on the state board of education. The board has 23 members with their elections staggered.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown forecasts 2,618,100 voters will come out, but probably far fewer than that will vote on the constitutional amendments because most of the interest is concentrated in the local issues.

Ohio congressmen of both parties are reported unhappy about the first of the proposed amendments, which would authorize members of the Ohio Senate to fill vacancies in that body by appointment.

They say state senators with four-year terms could make bids for membership in the U.S. House mid-way in their Senate terms without running the risk of losing their Senate seats.

This is the only star the amendments have caused, and even it is countered by the fact that both houses of the legislature voted by wide margins to put the issue on the ballot. The proposal is intended to do away with expensive special election to fill possible Senate vacancies.

The other amendments would give the legislature emergency power to provide for continuity of state and local government in event of enemy attack, make the militia section of the constitution conform to federal statutes and would give the state Senate the right to advise and consent to major appointments by the governor. The last would only give it a prerogative it had been exercising without written authority until an Ohio Supreme Court decision upset the practice earlier this year.

Man Gets Life Term For Slaying Woman

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — John Moore Jr., 36, of Middletown has been sentenced to life imprisonment for the fatal shooting of Mrs. Minnie Belle Ford, 37, of Middletown last July 15.

Moore pleaded guilty Monday in Butler County Common Pleas Court to charges of second-degree murder and shooting with intent to kill. A companion of Mrs. Ford, Charles Harris, 24, of Senia was wounded in the shooting on a Middletown street.

Portsmouth Boy Seen 'Washed Up' At West Point

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Paul Weaver, the 18 - year - old West Point plebe from Portsmouth, Ohio, who disappeared for 66 days before turning up Saturday, is washed up at the military academy, a spokesman says.

No matter whether the action against Weaver is administrative or judicial, "he's finished as a cadet," said Col. Joel Stevens, academy public information officer. "He can never be a cadet again."

Weaver suddenly turned up in Portsmouth Saturday, appearing bewildered and unaware that he had been the object of a nationwide search, according to his father.

An academy spokesman said Monday the boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Weaver, were en route to West Point and would be allowed to visit their son.

There has been speculation that young Weaver may be allowed to resign from the academy instead of facing disciplinary action. The spokesman said only that an investigation was under way and that Weaver would have defense council appointed for him if he desired.

There has been no word on why Weaver left the academy. He has said he hitchhiked around the South, picking up odd jobs as he went.

Lorain Man, 38, Admits Fatally Shooting Ex-Wife

CLEVELAND (AP) — A man fired five or six bullets at a waitress behind the lunch counter at the Mayflower Drugstore in the Cedar Center shopping center in suburban South Euclid Monday. Andrew House, 38, of Lorain, later admitted fatally shooting his former wife, Mrs. Dorothy Ferguson, 34, police said.

South Euclid Police Lt. Thomas E. Tranter said House and Mrs. Ferguson were divorced six years ago. Mrs. Ferguson remarried and recently separated from her second husband. House told police he had been trying to regain her affection.

Tranter quoted House as telling this story of the shooting:

He drank two cups of coffee at the counter while talking to Mrs. Ferguson. Then he left, returned with a .25-caliber automatic from his car and began firing at her. Mrs. Ferguson was shot three times. She died shortly afterward at Doctors Hospital.

Retired Steelworker Kills Wife And Self

CLEVELAND (AP)—A retired steelworker apparently fired two bullets into his wife's head and one into his own, killing them both Monday, police reported.

The bodies of George Jacob, 65, and his wife, Veronica, 58, were found in the bedroom of their East Side home. Mrs. Jacob was dressed in a nightgown and was in bed. Jacob was slumped over it. A revolver was nearby, police reported.

DiSalle Wants Explanation

Liquor Director Admits Locker Club Membership

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Liquor Director Richard C. Crouch admits he has been a member of a Dayton "locker club" the past eight years. So Gov. Michael V. DiSalle wants to know if there's a difference between that and the "bottle clubs" which Crouch has denounced as prohibition era "speak-easys."

DiSalle said Monday night that "bottle clubs" are illegal because they are "operated without permits in selling liquor over the bar."

The governor was asked, then, if "locker clubs" weren't illegal also?

'This is the thing I wanted to check," said DiSalle, explaining why he wants to talk to Crouch. "I don't know the method of operation and the distinction the liquor department makes."

Generally, a private "bottle club" is one in which the bartender stores a member's liquor with the member's name on it until the member asks for it.

Ivan Smith, state liquor enforcement chief, was quoted as saying last spring, "A locker system or bottle club eventually must have money running from the consumer of liquor to the operator of the club. When you have that, it's bootlegging."

Crouch was quoted by the Cleveland Plain Dealer as replying in a letter that he has been—and still is—a member of the Dayton Club, Inc. He described it as "a locker club which utilitizes a true locker system; that is, individual members purchase their own alcoholic beverages, personally transport such alcoholic beverages to the club location and store the beverages in their individual locker, to which the member retains possession of the only key suitable for opening the locker.

"There is no bar on the premises," Crouch continued, "and the bottles are not labeled by the management with the name of the member."

The liquor director's letter, the Plain Dealer said, went to Clarence D. Welsh, identified as being associated with a bomb shelter firm.

Welsh, according to the newspaper, said Crouch's answer to his question gives him the go-ahead signal to rent a downtown Cleveland building for display purposes, and start a locker club in the basement shelter.

"We will place lockers there with protective clothing to guard against (atomic) fallout," Welsh was quoted as saying. "If the members of the club want to bring their own bottles to keep in their lockers, that will be their business. If the liquor director can do it, so can we."

Crouch was not immediately available for comment.

The Plain Dealer reported that Crouch said last May he was issuing a special directive to crack down on all "bottle clubs."

'They are the old speak-easy of prohibition days returned," the newspaper quoted him as saying then. "Even when they start out legally these bottle clubs don't stay that way long. Soon the bartender is buying the liquor and selling it and that's the speak-easy."

DiSalle said there has been "some activity on the part of the liquor department in the Cleveland area on bottle clubs, so I was going to talk to Dick (Crouch) to see what the difference is (between them and locker clubs)."

Ceramic Razing Work To Await Firm's Bond

City officials are awaiting the posting of necessary insurance papers and a performance bond before giving a Youngstown firm official approval to proceed with the razing of the Ceramic Theater.

Safety - Service Director Robert Owen said the M. & S. Wrecking Co. will be given permission to start the demolition as soon as the necessary papers are received.

The firm was awarded the contract Friday by the Board of Control on its low bid of $10,000 to clear the theater site for a new municipal parking lot.

The board had re-advertised for bids after rejecting a lone offer of $16,630 received in the first call because the price would have sent the total cost above the $65,000 available.

Board Denies School Use In Card Parties

A policy refusing the use of school property for public card parties was adopted unanimously Monday night by the Board of Education.

The board decided on the ban after Supt. Ralph W. Betts said he had received an informal request from the Lincoln Home and School Association about renting East Junior High for a public card party late in January.

Betts said he was unable to recall schools being used for card parties during his term of office, but informed the board the Taft parent-teacher organization held a card party several years ago at the Country Club.

Board members indicated they frown upon card parties by school groups but there is little they can do if the affairs are held in privately-owned buildings.

The board authorized the rental of the Westgate cafeteria to the Kiwanis Club Dec. 9 for a pancake supper at a fee of $18 plus any extra charges for cafeteria and custodial fees.

It also approved the rental of Memorial Auditorium to Job's Daughters on Dec. 16 for installation of officers. The fee will be $20.

In response to an inquiry from Mrs. James Schafer and Clarence Coen, C. Walter Ashbaugh, president, said the board has not reached a decision on their request to restore two bus stops on Hess Rd. off Shadyside Ave.

The complaint about elimination of the bus stops was received at the meeting Oct. 16. Residents said the stops had been eliminated after being in the same location for more than 18 years. They said they did not object to children walking to the bus stops but pointed out the children are forced to walk on the road because there is no berm.

Ashbaugh informed the residents the entire board has not been able to inspect the area in question. Leo C. Lawrence and James Lowe are scheduled to examine the area this week.

The board authorized award of a diploma to Thomas Earl Anderson, who completed the requirements for a high school certificate in summer school.

It also approved a resolution establishing the tax rates set by the County Budget Commission. The only change is the millage for bond retirement is reduced from 3.7 to 3.6.

Board members were invited by Supt. Betts to attend a meeting of the high school faculty at 4 p. m. Wednesday when a demonstration will be given on the teaching of speed reading.

The superintendent also informed the board that 97½ per cent of top eighth grade students who were enrolled in freshman algebra this year received grades of B or better in the first six-week grading period.

Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk-treasurer, reported receipt of $122,930 as an advance on the personal property tax. The money included $97,710 for the general fund, $19,860 for bond retirement and $5,360 for the repair and maintenance account.

There is a total of $270,951 in all school funds at present, including $183,083 in the general operating fund, she reported.

Samuel W. Brown, who is seeking re-election to a second term in the general election today, expressed his appreciation for the opportunity of serving on the board. Brown said he has enjoyed his four years' work, adding he was glad he "could do what I could."

Lisbon Area Man Falls From Truck

A Lisbon area man, hurt in a fall from a truck, is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital. A city youth and a woman were treated Monday and early this morning after separate mishaps.

Donald Blair, 32, of Lisbon, employe of the Tassi Coal Co., was admitted last night at 7:30 with a possible skull injury suffered in a fall from a truck.

Ruth Schwartz, 35, of 7th and Jackson Sts. was treated at 12:15 a. m. for lacerations of the fingers of the right hand she said were received on a knife.

Good Turnout Seen In Palestine Ballot

EAST PALESTINE — Late morning balloting at city polls indicated a fairly good turnout for today's general election, observers reported.

However, only nine had voted at the new Precinct 4-A at the Angle home of W. North Ave. where there had been some misunderstanding concerning the new limits of the precinct.

Elsewhere the forenoon vote was averaging 42 at most polls.

Householder Busy On Calls About Blaze

A Chester man, in whose home a kitchen blaze was ignited by a can of grease, called for firemen Monday night, then extinguished the blaze and called back to cancel the alarm before the siren was sounded.

James Waggle of California Ave phoned an operator to summon firemen when a can of grease being heated on an electric stove in the kitchen ignited at 10:55 p.m.

He left the telephone off the hook to run into the kitchen, after grabbing a blanket to smother the flames, then threw the blazing blanket into the back yard. He doused the blanket with water.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Sylvia Bishop, caretaker at the City Hall, who had been notified to send firemen, questioned the operator about the address. While the operator tried to contact Waggle, he returned to the phone and reported firemen were not needed.

Later, however, he telephoned the City Hall to ask that a firemen be sent to check the home. Patrolman Clarence Lennens, also a volunteer firemen, went to the home and reported damage estimated at $500.

The electric stove was destroyed, and the plastic covering on walls was cracked, and there was smoke damage in the kitchen, livingroom and bedroom.

Power Local Airs Dispute

Members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 696 of Bellaire, representing Ohio Power Co. workers between Barnesville and East Liverpool held a grievance meeting Monday night in Steubenville to discuss a change in a safety code for operating procedure.

The union said a "lock-out of three linemen and one groundman" exists in the Cadiz District of the utility as a result of the dispute.

The Brotherhood was informed that Ohio Power contemplated changing its safety manual to require workers to wear rubber gloves on working voltages over 5,000 instead of using "hot sticks."

A "hot stick" is a length of insulated material, varying in length, that is so adapted that a tool can be fastened to one end enabling the worker to complete the job without touching the lines with his hands.

The local said a survey showed that "all linemen involved were unanimous in their support to have their bargaining committee oppose this change and refuse to co-operate with the company in attempting to change their present working procedures."

The utility is proposing the use of a "bucket" from which the men would work on the lines.

The "working bucket" is a stand at the end of a hydraulic, insulated arm in which the worker can stand to work on lines and not be "grounded."

The union added it has requested federal mediators to arrange negotiations between the local and the utility to discuss the change.

The local includes 27 East Liverpool employes. The local represents 177.

Utility Contends New Plan Is Safer

A new method adopted by Ohio Power Co. for linemen to work on live 12,000-volt circuits from insulated boards with rubber gloves and other equipment much safer than employing the use of "hot sticks," W. E. Williams, commercial manager of the utility in East Liverpool, said today.

Williams said the new method has been used by Appalachian Power Co., Dayton Power & Light Co. and other neighboring utility companies for some time.

He added: "Under the labor agreement with its union, Eastern Division of Ohio Power determines the work methods to be used."

One of the Cadiz workmen returned to work Monday, while the other three continue to refuse assigned work which involves the new method, he claimed.

Wellsville Balloting Reported As Normal

The forenoon vote at Wellsville appeared to be about normal. A total of 258 had cast ballots in five of the precincts checked. The city has a total of 11 precincts.

The count was 1-B, City Hall, 5th and Main Sts., 69 (plus 13 absentee ballots); 2-B, Fire Station, 9th and Main Sts., 79; 4-A, Mrs. P. E. Newville residence, 1510 Chester Ave., 52; 4-D, W. S. Robinson residence, 1753 Crawford Ave., 37, and 4-E, Mrs. Leonard J. Kinzel residence, 1914 Nevada St., 21.

Sewer Work Passes Over Initial Hurdle

Council gave unanimous approval Monday night to the first enabling legislation calling for installation of a sanitary sewer to serve 49 pieces of property on N. Surrey Rd. and S. Surrey Rd., Fisher Park.

In a deviation from standard procedure because of the unusual shape of the lots involved, property-owners will be assessed on the basis of "benefits which result" from the improvement, rather than on the foot frontage of each parcel of land.

Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper advised Council the alternate method of computing assessments was suggested by Squire, Saunders & Dempsey, the Cleveland law firm that clears the paper work for most Ohio public bond issues.

The law firm suggested the method because the tract involved is made up principally of curving streets in which the foot frontage of many lots would be difficult to compute, the solicitor said.

Cooper said it is the first time in memory an assessment for such a project has been determined on the basis of benefits resulting to property, rather than the foot frontage. Both methods are permitted under Ohio law, but the Cleveland law firm felt the alternative would be more equitable because of the unusual shape of the lots involved, Cooper said.

The legislation says the sewer will serve: Lots 10 to 17, inclusive, in Block F, Third Addition; Lots 18 and 19, Block F, Fourth Addition; Lots 10 to 15 and 22 to 29, both inclusive, in Block G, Third Addition; Lots 16 to 21, inclusive, Block G, Third Addition; Lots 8 to 14, inclusive, Block I, Third Addition, and Lots 29 to 40, inclusive, Block J, Fourth Addition.

As is the practice in such projects, the legislation provides the property-owners will be able to pay the cost in cash at the time of completion or in five annual installments after the assessments have been certified to the county auditor.

The legislation provides that city bonds will be issued to cover the cost of the project. The bonds, less the city's share, later will be retired by special assessments against property-owners.

Most of the Fisher Park area was sewered about six years ago. The impending project would serve homes in the rear of the residential area.

In other business, Council approved a resolution authorizing payment of $500 to Mrs. Bertha Wood in settlement of a claim for damages and injuries as a result of a fall July 16 in East Alley at W. 5th St.

Lawrence Applegate Jr. of Huston Ave. appeared in person to ask what procedure he should follow in seeking to lease a piece of city-owned ground on the riverfront for use as a boat dock. He said he and three others are interested in obtaining the ground, but he did not give the location.

The solicitor told Council he already has advised Applegate that the first step is for Council to determine whether the land is needed for public use. If not, it may be advertised publicly for lease. If Applegate's group presented the highest bid, it would obtain the ground, he explained.

Council president Charles N. Edwards suggested that Applegate confer with Council on the question at the next meeting Nov. 20, naming the location. Then the question probably will be referred for committee study, he said.

The meeting opened with invocation by the Rev. Charles W. Kampmeyer of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The robber then herded the five into the bank vault and warned them to remain there for five minutes. He said he was going to "'light this'" — the dynamite, but said if they stayed where they were, they wouldn't get hurt.

Bowman said he realized the fuse and explosive were not connected, and after the bandit ran out the front door, Bowman hurried to a window, saw him enter his car and head north on Route 9.

Bowman then phoned the patrol at Lisbon with a description of the robber, and in seconds area patrolmen, police and sheriff's deputies were on the alert.

Roadblocks were set up and the patrol's airplane was put into service.

Patrolman Horn spotted the car near the intersection of Routes 172 and 80 north of Minerva, and halted Brown, still wearing his tan topcoat and cap, only 38 minutes after he entered the bank.

Hearing Set On Plea For Retrial Of Case

LISBON — A motion for a new trial filed for Glenn Ritchie of Salem, found guilty Friday by a jury of embezzling $3,175 from the Salem Eagles Aerie, will be heard Friday, Dec. 1, at 10 a.m.

Ritchie had three days in which to seek a new trial. The charge carries a penalty of 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary. He is out on $1,000 bond pending the hearing.

Joint Board Airs Plans On New School

The Southern Beaver County Joint Board of Education met Monday evening and worked on specifications for the new 10-classroom addition and other additions to South Side High School near Hookstown.

After specifications are finally decided upon, then bids will be asked, Victor Thomas, supervising principal, said.

The State Public School Building Authority reported in September that bonds of $586,720 had been sold to finance the work.

The board accepted the resignations of Dominic N. Scandale, librarian, and Harold J. Howarth, band director, who will go to Beaver Junior High School to be instrumental music teacher.

The board hired Joseph N. Ceravolo of Aliquippa as music teacher. He did practice teaching at Hopewell - Independence - Raccoon District and will complete his practice teaching at South Side. He studied at Geneva College.

Robert J. Wilczek of Monaca was hired as librarian. Substitute teachers approved were Duane Stewart of Midland, formerly of Mars, and Mary J. Portman of Bridgeville.

David L. Wern, sixth grade teacher at South Side elementary, was hired as junior high basketball coach. He served as assistant football coach the past season.

The band was authorized to participate in the Veterans Day parade to be held Saturday morning at Baden and in the East Liverpool Christmas parade Nov. 24 at 6 p. m.

An all-new Ford...
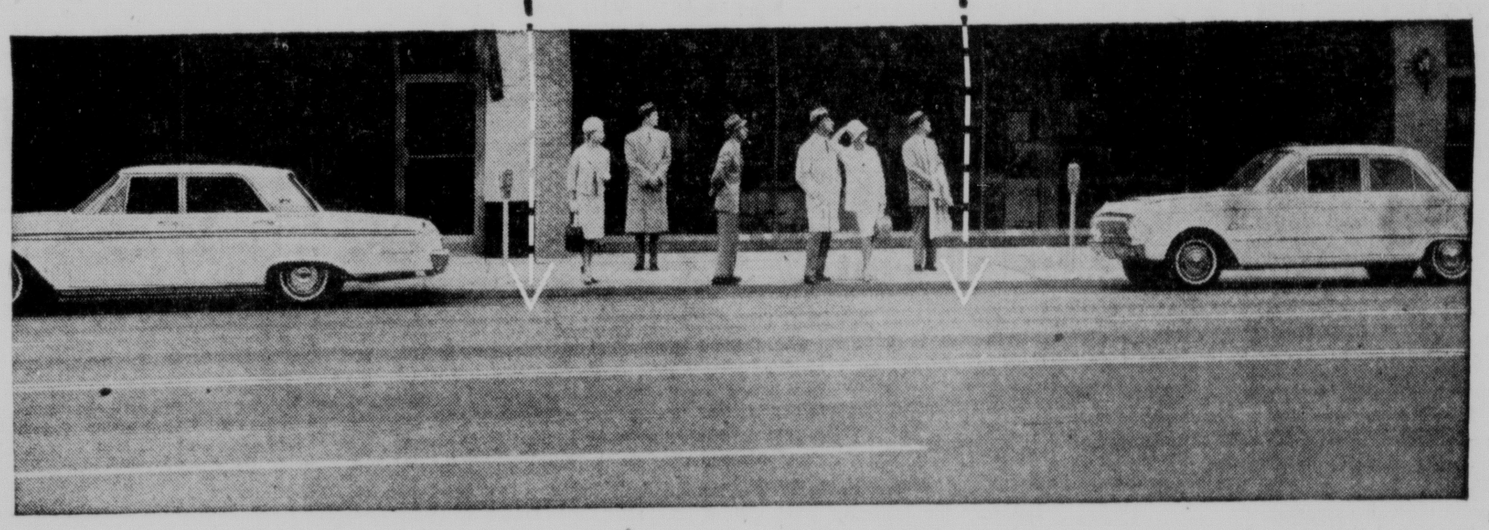
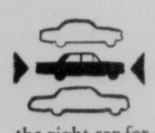
Galaxie and Falcon



Some cars have new names... this name will have a new car!

The name is familiar—the Ford Fairlane 500. The car itself is totally new—so new you'll see nothing else like it this year. It is one of Ford's milestone designs—and will be as influential in its way as the first mass-produced car (a Ford Model T), the first popular station wagon (a Ford Wagon), the first four-passenger luxury car (a Ford Thunderbird), the world's most successful compact (a Ford Falcon).



Right between Galaxie and Falcon in size and in price, the 1962 Ford Fairlane 500 is just the right car for just about everybody; you have never been able to buy anything so right before.

Before the new Fairlane 500 this was your choice: big-car room, ride and performance, or compact-car economy and maneuverability. The new Fairlane 500 renders that choice obsolete. Big in room, ride and performance, it is still priced under most compacts. It nurses a nickel as though it never expected to see another. It moves like a rabbit on roller skates.

This is the story of the happiest change in cars in years.

Ford engineers have changed the proportions of the car: a completely new unitized body gives you more room inside with less bulk outside. A foot shorter than previous Fairlanes, the new Fairlane 500 is pleasantly parkable, delightfully driveable, easily garageable. Suddenly the world is full of wide-open spaces that never seemed to exist before.

At the same time the new Fairlane 500 packs into its neat and nifty 197 inches as much passenger room as you had in some of the biggest Fords ever built. And its 115.5-inch wheelbase—substantially longer than any of the so-called super-compacts—means that your passengers ride as well as sit in complete comfort.

Twice-a-year maintenance

Routine service has been reduced to a minimum—30,000 miles on many items, twice a year on the rest. You go 30,000 miles between major lubrications, 6,000 miles between oil changes and minor lubrications. You don't even have to touch the engine coolant-antifreeze for two years—or 30,000 miles—at a time. Brakes adjust themselves. Special processing to resist rust and corrosion protects the body life of your car toward the prime moment of trade-in—when all that Ford has put into the new Fairlane pays off in your pocket.

All-new economy Eight from world's V-8 leader

The hand that honed the Thunderbird—and sped the Falcon to all-time Economy Run honors—turned to a new problem here, the world's first economy V-8. Made possible by new Ford foundry methods, the new Challenger V-8 is as strong as iron—and a lot lighter than iron's ever been before. As lively as you'd like . . . thriftier than you'd ever expect a V-8 to be . . . it's a natural powerplant for America's first eat-your-cake-and-have-it car.

For those who want even greater thrift, there's a new Fairlane Six. Its economy would be gratifying in a smaller car. In a car this size it's a downright delight.

Preview America's newest car now

As part of Preview Run U.S.A., new Fairlane 500's are riding the nation's highways and main streets right now. Watch for them. See what thousands have already seen—and raved about. Take a turn at the wheel—and perhaps do a little raving yourself.

We think you'll agree: this all-new Ford is just right for just about everybody. No matter how many new cars you've looked at, you haven't seen anything like this one. It will be at your Ford Dealer's next week. If you miss it now, be sure to see it then.

JUST RIGHT FOR JUST ABOUT EVERYBODY!

FORD FAIRLANE 500

ONLY THE NAME'S THE SAME!

Board Denies School Use In Card Parties

A policy refusing the use of school property for public card parties was adopted unanimously Monday night by the Board of Education.

The board decided on the ban after Supt. Ralph W. Betts said he had received an informal request from the Lincoln Home and School Association about renting East Junior High for a public card party late in January.

Betts said he was unable to recall schools being used for card parties during his term of office, but informed the board the Taft parent-teacher organization held a card party several years ago at the Country Club.

Board members indicated they frown upon card parties by school groups but there is little they can do if the affairs are held in privately-owned buildings.

The board authorized the rental of the Westgate cafeteria to the Kiwanis Club Dec. 9 for a pancake supper at a fee of $18 plus any extra charges for cafeteria and custodial fees.

It also approved the rental of Memorial Auditorium to Job's Daughters on Dec. 16 for installation of officers. The fee will be $20.

In response to an inquiry from Mrs. James Schafer and Clarence Coen, C. Walter Ashbaugh, president, said the board has not reached a decision on their request to restore two bus stops on Hess Rd. off Shadyside Ave.

The complaint about elimination of the bus stops was received at the meeting Oct. 16. Residents said the stops had been eliminated after being in the same location for more than 18 years. They said they did not object to children walking to the bus stops but pointed out the children are forced to walk on the road because there is no berm.

Ashbaugh informed the residents the entire board has not been able to inspect the area in question. Leo C. Lawrence and James Lowe are scheduled to examine the area this week.

The board authorized award of a diploma to Thomas Earl Anderson, who completed the requirements for a high school certificate in summer school.

It also approved a resolution establishing the tax rates set by the County Budget Commission. The only change is the millage for bond retirement is reduced from 3.7 to 3.6.

Board members were invited by Supt. Betts to attend a meeting of the high school faculty at 4 p. m. Wednesday when a demonstration will be given on the teaching of speed reading.

The superintendent also informed the board that 97½ per cent of top eighth grade students who were enrolled in freshman algebra this year received grades of B or better in the first six-week grading period.

Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk-treasurer, reported receipt of $122,930 as an advance on the personal property tax. The money included $97,710 for the general fund, $19,860 for bond retirement and $5,360 for the repair and maintenance account.

There is a total of $270,951 in all school funds at present, including $183,083 in the general operating fund, she reported.

Samuel W. Brown, who is seeking re-election to a second term in the general election today, expressed his appreciation for the opportunity of serving on the board. Brown said he has enjoyed his four years' work, adding he was glad he "could do what I could."

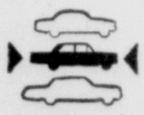
Some cars have new names... this name will have a new car!

The name is familiar—the Ford Fairlane 500. The car itself is totally new—so new you'll see nothing else like it this year. It is one of Ford's milestone designs—and will be as influential in its way as the first mass-produced car (a Ford Model T), the first popular station wagon (a Ford Wagon), the first four-passenger luxury car (a Ford Thunderbird), the world's most successful compact (a Ford Falcon).



Right between Galaxie and Falcon in size and in price, the 1962 Ford Fairlane 500 is just the right car for just about everybody; you have never been able to buy anything so right before.

Before the new Fairlane 500 this was your choice: big-car room, ride and performance, or compact-car economy and maneuverability. The new Fairlane 500 renders that choice obsolete. Big in room, ride and performance, it is still priced under most compacts. It nurses a nickel as though it never expected to see another. It moves like a rabbit on roller skates.

This is the story of the happiest change in cars in years.

Ford engineers have changed the proportions of the car: a completely new unitized body gives you more room inside with less bulk outside. A foot shorter than previous Fairlanes, the new Fairlane 500 is pleasantly parkable, delightfully driveable, easily garageable. Suddenly the world is full of wide-open spaces that never seemed to exist before.

At the same time the new Fairlane 500 packs into its neat and nifty 197 inches as much passenger room as you had in some of the biggest Fords ever built. And its 115.5-inch wheelbase—substantially longer than any of the so-called super-compacts—means that your passengers ride as well as sit in complete comfort.

Twice-a-year maintenance

Routine service has been reduced to a minimum—30,000 miles on many items, twice a year on the rest. You go 30,000 miles between major lubrications, 6,000 miles between oil changes and minor lubrications. You don't even have to touch the engine coolant-antifreeze for two years—or 30,000 miles—at a time. Brakes adjust themselves. Special processing to resist rust and corrosion protects the body life of your car toward the prime moment of trade-in—when all that Ford has put into the new Fairlane pays off in your pocket.

All-new economy Eight from world's V-8 leader

The hand that honed the Thunderbird—and sped the Falcon to all-time Economy Run honors—turned to a new problem here, the world's first economy V-8. Made possible by new Ford foundry methods, the new Challenger V-8 is as strong as iron—and a lot lighter than iron's ever been before. As lively as you'd like . . . thriftier than you'd ever expect a V-8 to be . . . it's a natural powerplant for America's first eat-your-cake-and-have-it car.

For those who want even greater thrift, there's a new Fairlane Six. Its economy would be gratifying in a smaller car. In a car this size it's a downright delight.

Preview America's newest car now

As part of Preview Run U.S.A., new Fairlane 500's are riding the nation's highways and main streets right now. Watch for them. See what thousands have already seen—and raved about. Take a turn at the wheel—and perhaps do a little raving yourself.

We think you'll agree: this all-new Ford is just right for just about everybody. No matter how many new cars you've looked at, you haven't seen anything like this one. It will be at your Ford Dealer's next week. If you miss it now, be sure to see it then.

JUST RIGHT FOR JUST ABOUT EVERYBODY!

Have You Been To School Yet?

East Liverpool and district schools are observing American Education Week.

It presents another opportunity for parents of school-age youngsters to become better acquainted with facilities which play such an important part in their everyday lives.

The schools have their doors wide open. If you fail to step inside, you have no one to blame but yourself. This is the time to discuss Junior or Peggy with their teachers. Next April or next May could be too late. If a child is having trouble in a certain subject, now's the time to find out, not later.

If he or she is doing outstanding work, now's the time to give that pat on the back, that word of encouragement which could supply the impetus for even greater achievement in the months ahead.

No one is more important in the school system than the parent. The teachers and the pupils face the problems that go with proper education day after day—and endeavor to do something about them. But too often it's only on report card day that the parent reacts. A daily interest would prove more beneficial to parent, to pupil and to teacher.

Each year education becomes more important as our complex society by necessity turns more and more to outstanding students as the leaders of tomorrow. As parents, you owe it to your youngsters to do everything possible to see that they are in the forefront of the education parade.

Visit the schools this week. Talk with your children's teachers. Find out what's going on. Heed their advice. A better school system, a better-educated youngster and a better community will result.

Up The Ladder

East Liverpool, Chester and Newell can join hands in wishing success to Dr. Paul A. Miller, who has been named president of West Virginia University.

All three communities share in the background which served as the base for his climb up the ladder of success.

To Dr. Miller, congratulations on past achievements and heart-felt hopes for an even more brilliant future.

A War Of Atomic Strategy

What the world needs at this instant in its troubled affairs is a new Karl von Clausewitz, to tell it about the strategy of atomic maneuver, as the great Prussian student of warfare told it about the grand strategy of his era.

President Kennedy has declared that the United States will exercise its right to carry on atomic explosions to match the Soviet Union's explosions whenever it believes there is something to be gained.

He has assured nations without capacity to stage such demonstrations that the United States will be more careful than the Russians have been. But the net impact of his declaration is to deepen the impression of nonatomic nations that they are trapped between two great atomic powers in a contest already in progress.

It is not like the saber-rattling of former times, which was harmless as long as the sabers were only rattled and not used. Nuclear explosions in the atmosphere are of direct concern to all human beings within range of the radioactive material dispersed into the earth's atmosphere.

TO CALL the explosions "tests" is a euphemism that does not conceal the fact the testing has a deadly purpose. It is as if the Axis Powers had carried on such large-scale "testing" of poison gas in 1940 that the British, French and American gas-warfare experts had been forced to release comparable quantities of poison gas to prove they were not going to come out second best in a showdown.

Fortunately, this wasn't done. Gas was of such a nature that testing it would have been foolish. Its release in significant quantities might have been fatal to the testers. Gas would not have discriminated between friend and foe.

There is no difference between the radioactivity of atomic blasts, either.

The United States cannot claim that its hazards are negligible and that only the Soviet Union creates serious hazards. It can say it intends to be more careful, but that will be limited assurance when the Russian propagandists get through with it and the neutralists who kept their mouths shut about Russian "tests" squeal in consternation about U.S. "tests."

THIS IS a kind of war.

It is the saber-rattling of the mid-20th century — but deadly in its new form.

Perhaps thermonuclear bombs are too terrible ever to be used directly, but are they being used indirectly to bend the will of governments and their citizens?

A Von Clausewitz could understand this and describe it. He could build a new school of military studies on it.

Lacking a genius to see it whole, we who are affected and could be destroyed can try only to see its emerging patterns.

A war of atomic strategy is being fought. It is being called "testing." Whether it is testing only atomic fission, fusion, triggering devices and the like or also the will of mankind to resist is the question. If the latter is included, there can be no doubt that militarists have moved in ahead of technologists — that it's not bombs being tested but nations.

Good Luck To U Thant

The thing the late Dag Hammarskjold feared most as secretary-general of the United Nations is still gnawing at his successor, U Thant of Burma.

It is the bad habit the major powers, especially the United States, have formed of dumping insoluble problems on the United Nations, then snarling at it for failure to come up with easy solutions.

The United Nations can be no more than the sum of its members' determination to make its charter meaningful. It has no separate will or power of its own. If its members lack the collective will to use it to guarantee their collective security, it must fail—and failure will not be its fault.

Dag Hammarskjold was in trouble because he tried to make the United Nations assert itself strongly — more strongly than some of its powerful members wanted it to assert itself. He was under fire for his assertiveness as its executive agent in dealing with the Congo problem of revolt in Katanga Province.

U Thant will come under the same kind of fire if he tries to be a strong secretary-general. This has been the problem of those who asserted power throughout history. But the United Nations was designed to be a cooperative organization; it was supposed to be all-inclusive, thereby ridding itself of the problem of outside opposition. With its more than 100 members, it has theoretically established a basis of worldwide cooperation.

But only the collective good will of its members can make a worldwide practice of theory. Its new secretary-general knows the organization inside-out. He knows the problems of his predecessors in the job. He is familiar with the issues that plagued them.

It is to be expected that he will rise to the challenge and that in so rising he will offend people who try to keep the United Nations from growing strong, then condemn it in the next breath for being too weak to solve the insoluble problems they load it with.

Dag Hammarskjold warned in a letter to Max Ascoli, which was published after Hammarskjold's death, that the United Nations was being overloaded. U Thant has inherited Hammarskjold's besetting problem.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

"Disunited" Nations, the hope of world peace, is pretty worn out from its wars. Never has an organization devoted to peace had so many combatants. It hadn't been in session more than a few hours before it seemed a question where it would get blood plasma necessary to continue.

More than anything else, U.N. needs truce flags and Red Cross nurses. There is danger of fallout from the speeches, most of which are a form of gas warfare. Shelters in which to take refuge from some orators could be useful.

Quite a few delegates are attending peace session on furlough from combat service. They arrived in full war uniforms and immediately wrote relatives "Survived coatroom and cocktail-bar preliminaries. But heavy firing has begun. I shall fight, face forward, regretting that I have but one provocative speech to give for my country."

Severe fights were reported in room dedicated to contemplation and there was guerrilla warfare during coffee breaks. Soviet peace-seeking team never worked so hard for global discord.

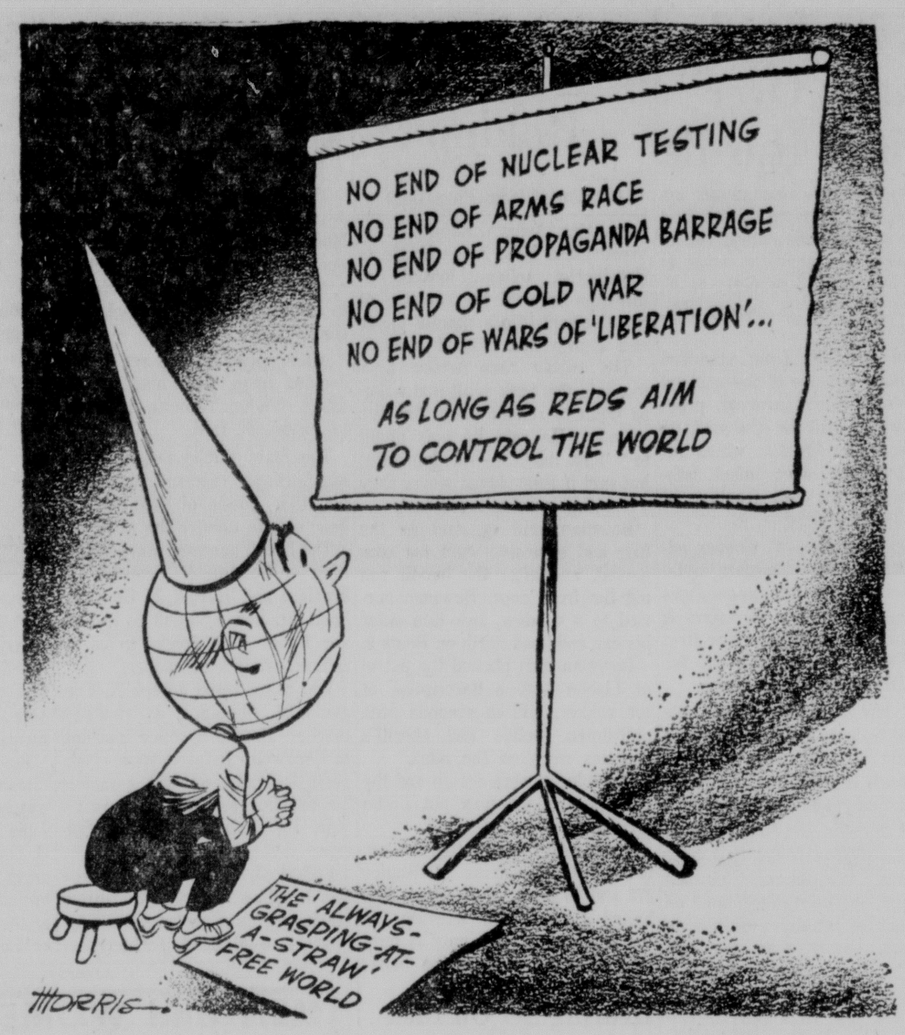
A Tough Lesson To Grasp



Revolts Continue Against Hoffa

By Victor Riesel

COLUMBUS, OHIO

Jimmy Hoffa may yet have to quit boasting that he doesn't get ulcers, he gives them. There are a lot of men in this state with guts who refuse to take them. The big story is not that there's a revolt against Jimmy H., but that it is flash firing through Ohio. This has been his fortress, yet a handful of men in Columbus, another group of 20 over in Cleveland, and loners elsewhere through the state are organizing followings within the Teamsters and are urging thousands to bolt the Teamsters.

Victor Riesel

What sparked them was the lancing of the legend of invincibility over in Cincinnati. Hoffa oversold himself. He said he couldn't be beaten. He poured more than a quarter of a million dollars into the fight against the leader of 4,000 Cincinnati drivers, Jim Luken. He set up headquarters in that city under the command of the militant Harold Gibbons. There was a vote and Hoffa was beaten 1,664—12.

THIS FANTASTIC victory by the rebels hit the headlines because Hoffa insisted on making it a personal popularity poll. But it isn't his first defeat. It's the only loud one.

There have been scores of losses. Futilely his men have gone after the crews of some 500 shrimp boats in the Gulf. Unsuccessfully he tried to win workers at the Roswell, N. M., missile base.

He tried to take metal workers at the Brunswick Corp., Muskegon, in his own Michigan bailiwick, from the Machinists union. He lost by a score of 987—385.

He moved, in coalition with nine other unions, to organize the maintenance men in the Titan missile area at Larson Air Force Base, Moses Lake, Wash. The Machinists beat his entire combine.

There's lots of drama in all this. But folks don't get to see it unless someone spotlights the stage.

Let's throw the switch on another Hoffa drive. He has been eager to take over a union known as the Bakery and Confectionery Workers. It would fit neatly into his milk and food delivery combination.

Let me tell you about this union. The Justice Department went into federal court last Wednesday and told the judge that the Bakery and Confectionery's national leadership has attempted to thwart and delay a grand jury investigation of its finances.

THE JUSTICE Department lawyer, Harry T. Alexander said that the grand jury was looking into possible misuse of union funds through false expense accounts, embezzlement or conversion.

The attorney said that it had taken three months to get the union to produce just one document — and then part of it was ripped off.

This is the union Hoffa has been trying to merge, rather submerge, into the Teamsters.

These Bakery and Confectionery Workers have a convention scheduled for Cleveland next January. There have been elections of delegates in the Bakery and Confectionery locals.

There have been pro - Hoffa slates. There have been anti-Hoffa tickets running on a pledge that they would clean up the union, defy Hoffa, refuse to merge with the Teamsters and then go into the AFL-CIO.

Local No. 3 in New York City has 5,200 members. Since it's the biggest, it's the bellwether local. On Oct. 24 it ran its election for convention delegates. The issue was clear — pro-or-anti-Hoffa. The anti-Hoffa ticket won by a vote of 2,600 — 1,400, almost a 2-1 defeat for Jimmy H.

THIS TOOK COURAGE. This was the voice of the "little" fellows, the men who work in individual shops and small bread and cake plants. It was easy for the pro-Teamsters crowd to pressure them. But they just would not be pushed around.

These are tiny legions but their courage makes each one 10 feet tall. They may really never cut into Hoffa's power. Yet they may. They're trying.

Those actually in the Teamsters now, but who want "out," and those who are out already, appear to have chosen Cincinnati's Jim Luken as their national leader.

When 20 members of the big Teamsters Local No. 413 in Columbus, broke away and launched their own "Drivers and Warehousemen's Local," they asked Jim Luken to come up. That was in mid-October. Ten days later he came and denounced Hoffa.

Soon he will be flying the land to aid those who ask. Soon he will invade giant New York where there now is civil war. Soon thousands will rally to him.

He will give hardworking Teamsters everywhere a chance to choose to do what he did—stand up and fight for their heritage. That is the right not to be pushed around.

Letters To The Editor

Surely, when a football coach needs a new backfield to carry the ball in a new season, he examines the new prospects from every angle, point and qualification available.

Likewise, only more seriously, a voter should know the candidates he is about to put into the city offices. Admittedly, the running of a city is vastly different than running a ball team. However, the goals are difficult to reach in both, complex planning is usually needed and they both had better do some kind of roadwork. But, the relation must stop, as the dirt in football shouldn't be found in politics.

You, the district's voters, are members of the coaching staff of your respective cities. Each city is represented by one important team, called the "City Officials". During the years, you voters—I mean coaches—have tended to divide the team into two sections, the first string and second string, more commonly known as the two political parties.

Here, of course, tempers flare and helmets fly as the coaches argue over which are the first-stringers, the Democrats or Republicans. To any disinterested persons, if there could be such, the status of the two teams greatly depends on which coach you're conferring with.

But it's relieving to note that, as in football, when there's a crucial job ahead and the best man is needed, he is usually provided by the coaches regardless of which string he belongs to. Wouldn't it be an esteemed pleasure to know that your own coaching provided your city with a superior team capable of dealing wisely with any problem or opportunity that may confront it?

So, for the coming election, let's have everyone backing their teams. For supporting your team is supporting your town, yourself and your loved ones. Give your town the chance to reach her greatest heights. Give her that winning season she may be dying for. See you at the game, or should I say polls.

I have a few words to say in behalf of Miss Jennie Schact and at the same time inform the citizens of East Liverpool that this little girl deserves a tremendous round of applause.

If the city of East Liverpool would have more teen-agers like Miss Schact, to speak up and to be heard, East Liverpool would be a lot better city to reside in.

When it comes to spending money, I often wondered if the city government ever gave it a thought about establishing a public recreation center for our teen-age population, like a teen club, which would consist of roller skating, ice skating, dancing, etc.

Or would the city government rather invest the taxpayers' money to build freeways and other roads to have the kids slaughtered on? Or to throw the money down the drain, exactly which they did when they re-surfaced the streets. Or would they rather have all these car dealers buy up all the property in East Liverpool and convert it into a used car lot.

I have a gripe also, Jennie. I am unemployed at present and there are a few hundred more that is in the same category as I. Oh, yes, they try to blame it all on automation, but that is not all true. I know quite a few families and some of these families just consist of man and wife and both are employed and some have dependent children, also husband and wife are employed, and I am wondering if it would hurt that much for the wife to surrender her job so that some unfortunate man could be employed once again, whereas the wife with the children could stay at home where all married women should be, taking care of their children instead of paying a baby-sitter the meager wage that they pay or offer to pay.

So I say to you Miss Schact and all teen-agers and unemployed men, stand up, speak up and allow yourselves to be heard.

GEORGE A. FALLON

After reading a letter that appeared in Friday's paper signed by Harry Springer, I am still going around in circles trying to figure what he was trying to put across.

If my memory serves me right, he signed his name to a letter two years ago condemning the idea of a new school in our district. Now since we have it and we are the envy of communities for miles around, he makes himself a candidate for election to the school board. I would like to know why? Does he have an ax to grind? If he does, let him grind it elsewhere.

The present school board members are to be commended for the good work they have done. I hope they may be able to continue.

America's Opportunity

By David Lawrence

U.S. Should Publicize 'People's Capitalism'

So preoccupied has the nation become with the threats of a hot war that many important moves which could help to win the cold war are being neglected. Yet it is by reaching the hearts and minds of peoples everywhere, including the peoples behind the Iron Curtain, that a hot war can be prevented.

David Lawrence

The Russians, too long have been getting away with the misuse of words. One of the words that they have often bandied about in Soviet radio broadcasts and in the speeches of their leaders is capitalism.

They have built up an impression far and wide that capitalism is a sinful philosophy and that only through an economic system dominated by socialism can people thrive. Yet People's Capitalism has made America the nation with the highest standard of living in the world.

How long will the United States let the Soviet propagandists get away with their distortions of truth?

A remarkable speech on this very point was made the other day by Lee H. Bristol as he addressed the Association of National Advertisers at their annual convention at Hot Springs, Va.

He wasn't discussing his own business of which he is chairman of the board — or the material side of anybody else's business. He was talking about something that would aid his country in time of peril.

AS CHAIRMAN of the Advertising Council of America, which devotes itself to helping in many worthy causes in the national interest, Mr. Bristol made this comment:

"A good start was made when the Advertising Council came up with the words 'People's Capitalism' as a quick and easily understood description of our economy. We know that the term 'People's Capitalism' struck home. Up till then the Russians had established a practical monopoly of the word 'people'—'People's Democracy,' 'People's Government,' 'People's Soviets,' etc.

"Soon after launching 'People's Capitalism,' the Moscow papers started to howl.

"We knew then we had struck their public relations and publicity nerve, and it hurt. Then what happened? That was four or five years ago when there was a strong element in our government who were even then counseling a softer, less irritating public posture toward Russia.

"We don't know the complete inside story in Washington and we probably never will, but this much we do know — the idea of the term 'People's Capitalism' was soft - pedalled and then dropped.

"Speaking personally, I hope it can now be revived. The image it conjures up is true, clear, quickly understood and generally attractive — it rather combines the best features of both.

"We must rededicate our public, our government, our own private lives to making 'People's Capitalism' not only a system of sound economics, but also an inspiration that goes beyond mere material condiserations."

MR. BRISTOL puts his finger on a weakness in Washington. There has for years been timidity in propaganda broadcasts. The Russians can use almost any argument they wish, whether or not it is palatable to America but the American broadcasts have been timid, and, indeed, instructions were issued a few years ago to keep the Voice of America from expressing any opinions of its own.

The attitude of the diplomats in the State Department is always inclined toward soft pedalling strong expressions and the tendency is to use the polite phrases of diplomacy.

This has been changed somewhat recently but not enough for the Voice of America to do the job that has to be done with world opinion in the "cold war."

There are, of course, many fine examples in America of "People's Capitalism." The Bell Telephone System is one. The American Telephone & Telegraph Company has more than 2 million stockholders. No one group of persons or companies owns more than a few per cent of the total. Most of the stockholders are working people who have invested some of their savings in a company that has proved to be superior in telephone service to any government-owned telephone system in the world.

There are several other companies, too, in various industries which are owned by millions of individual stockholders.

The idea that a few rich men own America is a falsehood. The people of the United States control their own economic system.

THE RUSSIAN people could do the same, and they probably would if they ever got the facts about what has happened in America to make the people the true owners of their own enterprises.

"People's Capitalism" is America's best argument against Communist socialism. Maybe if the story is repeatedly told inside as well as outside the United States, it might even convince some of the academic theorists in this country who, in advocating government ownership for almost everything, little realize that this is the sure road, in the long run, to Communist socialism.

There's no reason why the American government and American business and labor groups shouldn't publicize intensively throughout the whole world the great benefits of "People's Capitalism."

It should interest especially the peoples of the Soviet Union and the captive states and also the peoples of the so-called "nonaligned" nations who are being tempted to move toward autocracy rather than democracy in modern government.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — An organization known as the Fiber and Fisher Club was formed at Wellsville High School under the sponsorship of Miss Mary Jenkins.

The First Methodist Episcopal Church observed its 104th anniversary with special services.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Miss Doris Meiser was elected chairman of the Deborah Circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church.

Following 10 consecutive years of service as president of the East Liverpool Dahlia Society, George H. Schepp was succeeded by Harold J. Gallimore.

TEN YEARS AGO — Miss Gretchen Kaufman of Newell and Jerry Flint of Park Ave. were winners in a television show at Cleveland.

J. Nessly Porter, architect, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Colonial Club at the home of Mrs. Robert T. Hall of Park Blvd.

For The Birds

Despite decades of careful study, ornithologists still do not know why birds rub their feathers with live ants.

One of nature's strangest mysteries, "anting" fascinates and confounds bird watchers. A bird, clutching an ant in its bill, contorts itself to stroke the insect against wing and tail feathers. The bird seems to experience an almost trancelike ecstasy.

A variety of passerine, or perching, birds indulge in anting at times. It is also practiced by a few other birds — for example, the wryneck, green woodpecker and species of parrots.

Anting went virtually unnoticed by bird watchers until 1934 when an Australian schoolboy, Peter Bradley, wrote the nature editor of the Melbourne Argus to report that he had observed starlings placing live ants beneath their wings. He wondered why.

At first the letter made little impression on the nature editor, A. H. Chisholm, but when he happened to read an almost identical query from a Sydney man he realized that he had come upon a discovery.

It can say it intends to be more careful, but that will be limited assurance when the Russian propagandists get through with it and the neutralists who kept their mouths shut about Russian "tests" squeal in consternation about U.S. "tests."

THIS IS a kind of war.

It is the saber-rattling of the mid-20th century — but deadly in its new form.

Perhaps thermonuclear bombs are too terrible ever to be used directly, but are they being used indirectly to bend the will of governments and their citizens?

A Von Clausewitz could understand this and describe it. He could build a new school of military studies on it.

Lacking a genius to see it whole, we who are affected and could be destroyed can try only to see its emerging patterns.

A war of atomic strategy is being fought. It is being called "testing." Whether it is testing only atomic fission, fusion, triggering devices and the like or also the will of mankind to resist is the question. If the latter is included, there can be no doubt that militarists have moved in ahead of technologists — that it's not bombs being tested but nations.

Good Luck To U Thant

The thing the late Dag Hammarskjold feared most as secretary-general of the United Nations is still gnawing at his successor, U Thant of Burma.

It is the bad habit the major powers, especially the United States, have formed of dumping insoluble problems on the United Nations, then snarling at it for failure to come up with easy solutions.

The United Nations can be no more than the sum of its members' determination to make its charter meaningful. It has no separate will or power of its own. If its members lack the collective will to use it to guarantee their collective security, it must fail—and failure will not be its fault.

Dag Hammarskjold was in trouble because he tried to make the United Nations assert itself strongly — more strongly than some of its powerful members wanted it to assert itself. He was under fire for his assertiveness as its executive agent in dealing with the Congo problem of revolt in Katanga Province.

U Thant will come under the same kind of fire if he tries to be a strong secretary-general. This has been the problem of those who asserted power throughout history. But the United Nations was designed to be a cooperative organization; it was supposed to be all-inclusive, thereby ridding itself of the problem of outside opposition. With its more than 100 members, it has theoretically established a basis of worldwide cooperation.

But only the collective good will of its members can make a worldwide practice of theory. Its new secretary-general knows the organization inside-out. He knows the problems of his predecessors in the job. He is familiar with the issues that plagued them.

It is to be expected that he will rise to the challenge and that in so rising he will offend people who try to keep the United Nations from growing strong, then condemn it in the next breath for being too weak to solve the insoluble problems they load it with.

Dag Hammarskjold warned in a letter to Max Ascoli, which was published after Hammarskjold's death, that the United Nations was being overloaded. U Thant has inherited Hammarskjold's besetting problem.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

"Disunited" Nations, the hope of world peace, is pretty worn out from its wars. Never has an organization devoted to peace had so many combatants. It hadn't been in session more than a few hours before it seemed a question where it would get blood plasma necessary to continue.

More than anything else, U.N. needs truce flags and Red Cross nurses. There is danger of fallout from the speeches, most of which are a form of gas warfare. Shelters in which to take refuge from some orators could be useful.

Quite a few delegates are attending peace session on furlough from combat service. They arrived in full war uniforms and immediately wrote relatives "Survived coatroom and cocktail-bar preliminaries. But heavy firing has begun. I shall fight, face forward, regretting that I have but one provocative speech to give for my country."

Severe fights were reported in room dedicated to contemplation and there was guerrilla warfare during coffee breaks. Soviet peace-seeking team never worked so hard for global discord.

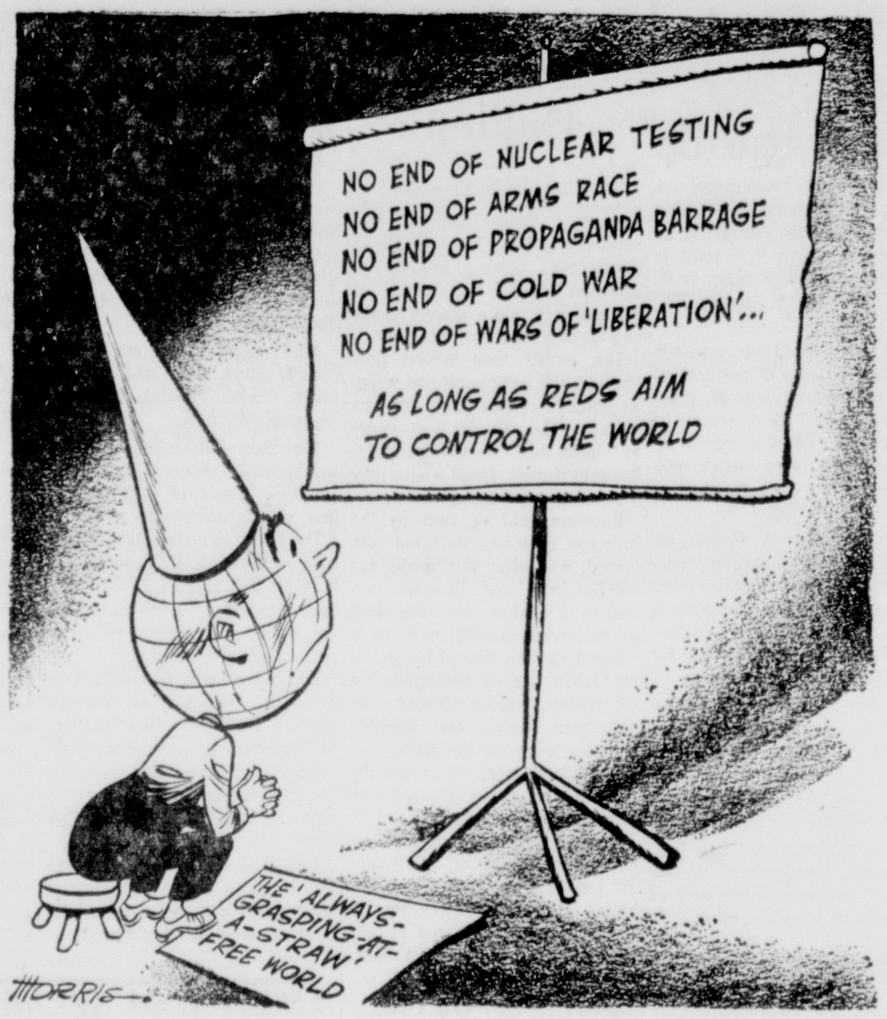
A Tough Lesson To Grasp



Revolts Continue Against Hoffa

By Victor Riesel

COLUMBUS, OHIO

Jimmy Hoffa may yet have to quit boasting that he doesn't get ulcers, he gives them. There are a lot of men in this state with guts who refuse to take them. The big story is not that there's a revolt against Jimmy H., but that it is flash firing through Ohio. This has been his fortress, yet a handful of men in Columbus, another group of 20 over in Cleveland, and loners elsewhere through the state are organizing followings within the Teamsters and are urging thousands to bolt the Teamsters.

Victor Riesel

What sparked them was the lancing of the legend of invincibility over in Cincinnati. Hoffa oversold himself. He said he couldn't be beaten. He poured more than a quarter of a million dollars into the fight against the leader of 4,000 Cincinnati drivers, Jim Luken. He set up headquarters in that city under the command of the militant Harold Gibbons. There was a vote and Hoffa was beaten 1,664—12.

THIS FANTASTIC victory by the rebels hit the headlines because Hoffa insisted on making it a personal popularity poll. But it isn't his first defeat. It's the only loud one.

There have been scores of losses. Futilely his men have gone after the crews of some 500 shrimp boats in the Gulf. Unsuccessfully he tried to win workers at the Roswell, N. M., missile base.

He tried to take metal workers at the Brunswick Corp., Muskegon, in his own Michigan bailiwick, from the Machinists union. He lost by a score of 987—385.

He moved, in coalition with nine other unions, to organize the maintenance men in the Titan missile area at Larson Air Force Base, Moses Lake, Wash. The Machinists beat his entire combine.

There's lots of drama in all this. But folks don't get to see it unless someone spotlights the stage.

Let's throw the switch on another Hoffa drive. He has been eager to take over a union known as the Bakery and Confectionery Workers. It would fit neatly into his milk and food delivery combination.

Let me tell you about this union. The Justice Department went into federal court last Wednesday and told the judge that the Bakery and Confectionery's national leadership has attempted to thwart and delay a grand jury investigation of its finances.

THE JUSTICE Department lawyer, Harry T. Alexander said that the grand jury was looking into possible misuse of union funds through false expense accounts, embezzlement or conversion.

The attorney said that it had taken three months to get the union to produce just one document — and then part of it was ripped off.

This is the union Hoffa has been trying to merge, rather submerge, into the Teamsters.

These Bakery and Confectionery Workers have a convention scheduled for Cleveland next January. There have been elections of delegates in the Bakery and Confectionery locals.

There have been pro-Hoffa slates. There have been anti-Hoffa tickets running on a pledge that they would clean up the union, defy Hoffa, refuse to merge with the Teamsters and then go into the AFL-CIO.

Local No. 3 in New York City has 5,200 members. Since it's the biggest, it's the bellwether local. On Oct. 24 it ran its election for convention delegates. The issue was clear — pro-or-anti-Hoffa. The anti-Hoffa ticket won by a vote of 2,600 — 1,400, almost a 2-1 defeat for Jimmy H.

THIS TOOK COURAGE. This was the voice of the "little" fellows, the men who work in individual shops and small bread and cake plants. It was easy for the pro-Teamsters crowd to pressure them. But they just would not be pushed around.

These are tiny legions but their courage makes each one 10 feet tall. They may really never cut into Hoffa's power. Yet they may. They're trying.

Those actually in the Teamsters now, but who want "out," and those who are out already, appear to have chosen Cincinnati's Jim Luken as their national leader.

When 20 members of the big Teamsters Local No. 413 in Columbus, broke away and launched their own "Drivers and Warehousemen's Local," they asked Jim Luken to come up. That was in mid-October. Ten days later he came and denounced Hoffa.

Soon he will be flying the land to aid those who ask. Soon he will invade giant New York where there now is civil war. Soon thousands will rally to him.

He will give hardworking Teamsters everywhere a chance to choose to do what he did—stand up and fight for their heritage. That is the right not to be pushed around.

Letters To The Editor

Surely, when a football coach needs a new backfield to carry the ball in a new season, he examines the new prospects from every angle, point and qualification available.

Likewise, only more seriously, a voter should know the candidates he is about to put into the city offices. Admittedly, the running of a city is vastly different than running a ball team. However, the goals are difficult to reach in both, complex planning is usually needed and they both had better do some kind of roadwork. But, the relation must stop, as the dirt in football shouldn't be found in politics.

You, the district's voters, are members of the coaching staff of your respective cities. Each city is represented by one important team, called the "City Officials". During the years, you voters—I mean coaches—have tended to divide the team into two sections, the first string and second string, more commonly known as the two political parties.

Here, of course, tempers flare and helmets fly as the coaches argue over which are the first-stringers, the Democrats or Republicans. To any disinterested persons, if there could be such, the status of the two teams greatly depends on which coach you're conferring with.

But it's relieving to note that, as in football, when there's a crucial job ahead and the best man is needed, he is usually provided by the coaches regardless of which string he belongs to. Wouldn't it be an esteemed pleasure to know that your own coaching provided your city with a superior team capable of dealing wisely with any problem or opportunity that may confront it?

So, for the coming election, let's have everyone backing their teams. For supporting your team is supporting your town, yourself and your loved ones. Give your town the chance to reach her greatest heights. Give her that winning season she may be dying for. See you at the game, or should I say polls.

I have a few words to say in behalf of Miss Jennie Schact and at the same time inform the citizens of East Liverpool that this little girl deserves a tremendous round of applause.

If the city of East Liverpool would have more teen-agers like Miss Schact, to speak up and to be heard, East Liverpool would be a lot better city to reside in.

When it comes to spending money, I often wondered if the city government ever gave it a thought about establishing a public recreation center for our teen-age population, like a teen club, which would consist of roller skating, ice skating, dancing, etc.

Or would the city government rather invest the taxpayers' money to build freeways and other roads to have the kids slaughtered on? Or to throw the money down the drain, exactly which they did when they re-surfaced the streets. Or would they rather have all these car dealers buy up all the property in East Liverpool and convert it into a used car lot.

I have a gripe also, Jennie. I am unemployed at present and there are a few hundred more that is in the same category as I. Oh, yes, they try to blame it all on automation, but that is not all true. I know quite a few families and some of these families just consist of man and wife and both are employed and some have dependent children, also husband and wife are employed, and I am wondering if it would hurt that much for the wife to surrender her job so that some unfortunate man could be employed once again, whereas the wife with the children could stay at home where all married women should be, taking care of their children instead of paying a baby-sitter the meager wage that they pay or offer to pay.

So I say to you Miss Schact and all teen-agers and unemployed men, stand up, speak up and allow yourselves to be heard.

After reading a letter that appeared in Friday's paper signed by Harry Springer, I am still going around in circles trying to figure what he was trying to put across.

If my memory serves me right, he signed his name to a letter two years ago condemning the idea of a new school in our district. Now since we have it and we are the envy of communities for miles around, he makes himself a candidate for election to the school board. I would like to know why? Does he have an ax to grind? If he does, let him grind it elsewhere.

The present school board members are to be commended for the good work they have done. I hope they may be able to continue.

America's Opportunity

By David Lawrence

U.S. Should Publicize 'People's Capitalism'

So preoccupied has the nation become with the threats of a hot war that many important moves which could help to win the cold war are being neglected. Yet it is by reaching the hearts and minds of peoples everywhere, including the peoples behind the Iron Curtain, that a hot war can be prevented.

David Lawrence

The Russians, too long have been getting away with the misuse of words. One of the words that they have often bandied about in Soviet radio broadcasts and in the speeches of their leaders is capitalism.

They have built up an impression far and wide that capitalism is a sinful philosophy and that only through an economic system dominated by socialism can people thrive. Yet People's Capitalism has made America the nation with the highest standard of living in the world.

How long will the United States let the Soviet propagandists get away with their distortions of truth?

A remarkable speech on this very point was made the other day by Lee H. Bristol as he addressed the Association of National Advertisers at their annual convention at Hot Springs, Va.

He wasn't discussing his own business of which he is chairman of the board — or the material side of anybody else's business. He was talking about something that would aid his country in time of peril.

AS CHAIRMAN of the Advertising Council of America, which devotes itself to helping in many worthy causes in the national interest, Mr. Bristol made this comment:

"A good start was made when the Advertising Council came up with the words 'People's Capitalism' as a quick and easily understood description of our economy. We know that the term 'People's Capitalism' struck home. Up till then the Russians had established a practical monopoly of the word 'people'—'People's Democracy,' 'People's Government,' 'People's Soviets,' etc.

"Soon after launching 'People's Capitalism,' the Moscow papers started to howl.

"We knew then we had struck their public relations and publicity nerve, and it hurt. Then what happened? That was four or five years ago when there was a strong element in our government who were even then counseling a softer, less irritating public posture toward Russia.

"We don't know the complete inside story in Washington and we probably never will, but this much we do know — the idea of the term 'People's Capitalism' was soft-pedalled and then dropped.

"Speaking personally, I hope it can now be revived. The image it conjures up is true, clear, quickly understood and generally attractive — it rather combines the best features of both.

"We must rededicate our public, our government, our own private lives to making 'People's Capitalism' not only a system of sound economics, but also an inspiration that goes beyond mere material condiserations."

MR. BRISTOL puts his finger on a weakness in Washington. There has for years been timidity in propaganda broadcasts. The Russians can use almost any argument they wish, whether or not it is palatable to America but the American broadcasts have been timid, and, indeed, instructions were issued a few years ago to keep the Voice of America from expressing any opinions of its own.

The attitude of the diplomats in the State Department is always inclined toward soft pedalling strong expressions and the tendency is to use the polite phrases of diplomacy.

This has been changed somewhat recently but not enough for the Voice of America to do the job that has to be done with world opinion in the "cold war."

There are, of course, many fine examples in America of "People's Capitalism." The Bell Telephone System is one. The American Telephone & Telegraph Company has more than 2 million stockholders. No one group of persons or companies owns more than a few per cent of the total. Most of the stockholders are working people who have invested some of their savings in a company that has proved to be superior in telephone service to any government-owned telephone system in the world.

There are several other companies, too, in various industries which are owned by millions of individual stockholders.

The idea that a few rich men own America is a falsehood. The people of the United States control their own economic system.

THE RUSSIAN people could do the same, and they probably would if they ever got the facts about what has happened in America to make the people the true owners of their own enterprises.

"People's Capitalism" is America's best argument against Communist socialism. Maybe if the story is repeatedly told inside as well as outside the United States, it might even convince some of the academic theorists in this country who, in advocating government ownership for almost everything, little realize that this is the sure road, in the long run, to Communist socialism.

There's no reason why the American government and American business and labor groups shouldn't publicize intensively throughout the whole world the great benefits of "People's Capitalism."

It should interest especially the peoples of the Soviet Union and the captive states and also the peoples of the so-called "nonaligned" nations who are being tempted to move toward autocracy rather than democracy in modern government.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — An organization known as the Fiber and Fisher Club was formed at Wellsville High School under the sponsorship of Miss Mary Jenkins.

The First Methodist Episcopal Church observed its 104th anniversary with special services.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Miss Doris Meiser was elected chairman of the Deborah Circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church.

Following 10 consecutive years of service as president of the East Liverpool Dahlia Society, George H. Schepp was succeeded by Harold J. Gallimore.

TEN YEARS AGO — Miss Gretchen Kaufman of Newell and Jerry Flint of Park Ave. were winners in a television show at Cleveland.

J. Nessly Porter, architect, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Colonial Club at the home of Mrs. Robert T. Hall of Park Blvd.

For The Birds

Despite decades of careful study, ornithologists still do not know why birds rub their feathers with live ants.

One of nature's strangest mysteries, "anting" fascinates and confounds bird watchers. A bird, cluthing an ant in its bill, contorts itself to stroke the insect against wing and tail feathers. The bird seems to experience an almost trancelike ecstasy.

A variety of passerine, or perching, birds indulge in anting at times. It is also practiced by a few other birds — for example, the wryneck, green woodpecker and species of parrots.

Anting went virtually unnoticed by bird watchers until 1934 when an Australian schoolboy, Peter Bradley, wrote the nature editor of the Melbourne Argus to report that he had observed starlings placing live ants beneath their wings. He wondered why.

At first the letter made little impression on the nature editor, A. H. Chisholm, but when he happened to read an almost identical query from a Sydney man he realized that he had come upon a discovery.

Site Obtained For Chester Grade School

The Hancock County Board of Education has received the deed for property which it optioned in June as the location for a new $302,600 elementary school in Chester.

Supt. Robert H. Hall announced today the board completed arrangements for purchasing slightly over 16 acres of ground for $5,500 an acre, or $88,126.50, from the Tri-State Terminals, Inc., of Philadelphia.

The former site of the Chester Rolling Mill, the property lies in the rear of the Arner Chester Chapel and stretches to the banks of the Ohio River.

Supt. Hall commented that the property "is excellent for a school site, and in the board's opinion is the only site for Chester's new elementary school."

The Chester school, which will house about 300 pupils, is one of four new buildings planned in a $5 million expansion and modernization program.

The board earlier purchased 97 acres for $30,000 in the Pughtown area from Chester E. Minesinger as the site for a new, 600-pupil Northern Hancock County High school, to be erected along Gas Valley Rd.

The board also has purchased 56 acres for $135,000 in Weirton as the site for a new high school for the county's largest city.

Obtaining of the deed for the property on which the Chester elementary school will be constructed is the final step in getting the necessary land for the modern buildings, Supt. Hall said.

The board met last night in New Cumberland with Kellam & Foley of Columbus, architects, to go over detailed plans and specifications for administrative buildings of the new Weirton high school.

Supt. Hall said the architects are progressing on the plans, and the board anticipates completion of Kellam & Foley's phase of the work by February.

The board may ask for bids for the school construction by February when the architect's plans are completed.

The board hopes that construction of the buildings will get under way by next March or April.

Target date for opening of the buildings is September 1963.

Mrs. Delores Roberta Ekhardt, 50, of Youngstown, a former resident of Wellsville, died of a heart attack Monday morning about 8:30 at the St. Elizabeth Hospital in Youngstown.

She was born in Wellsville Aug. 15, 1911. She was a member of the Christ United Presbyterian Church of Youngstown and the American Congress of Women Bowlers.

She leaves her husband, Jacob A. Ekhardt, a daughter, Miss Sharon Ekhardt, and a son, William Ekhardt, all at home; another daughter, Mrs. Delores Whiteside of Hubbard; three brothers, Grant Stover and Roland Stover, both of East Liverpoool, and Earl Stover of Sarasota, Fla., and three grandchildren. A daughter, Miss Elizabeth Ekhardt, died in 1954.

Services will be held Thursday at 11 a. m. at the Shriver-Allison Funeral Home in Youngstown by the Rev. Paul R. Coleman. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery there.

Friends may call at the funeral home today and Wednesday.

Darlington District Millworker Killed

EAST PALESTINE — A 46-year-old Darlington man was killed instantly Monday afternoon in an accident in the Koppel plant of the Babcock & Wilcox Co. where he was a turn foreman in the blooming mill.

Chester D. Murphy, vice president of the Darlington Borough Council, was killed when he slipped into a revolving mill roll, a spokesman said.

Mr. Murphy was born Jan. 3, 1915, in North Sewickley Township, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Murphy. He was a member of the Mt. Pleasant United Presbyterian Church of Darlington.

Besides his parents, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ursula Croyle Murphy; a son, Kenneth Murphy at home; two daughters, Mrs. John McCarter of Darlington and Mrs. Walter Watrobsky of Kennerdale, Pa.; two brothers, William Murphy in California and Ronald Murphy of North Sewickley Township; two sisters, Mrs. Robert Eaton of Aliquippa and Mrs. Robert Frederick of Rochester, and two grandchildren.

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Lutton Funeral Home in Beaver Falls by the Rev. David Larabee. Burial will be in Grandview Cemetery in Beaver Falls.

Friends may call after 7 tonight at the funeral home, 117 5th Ave., Beaver Falls.

Infant Pumphrey

Mrs. Edith Swearer

Services will be held Wednesday at 1 p. m. at the Daniels Funeral Home at Lakewood for Mrs. Edith Swearer, 83, of Lakewood, who died Sunday morning at the Osteopathic Hospital.

The funeral home had announced previously services were to be held today. Mrs. Swearer had been a patient at the Greystone Nursing Home in Wellsville.

Hancock Group Airs Cattle Disease Fight

NEW CUMBERLAND — Possible methods of cambatting mastitis, a disease which infects udders of cattle, were outlined by Edsel Gainer, assistant extension dairyman, at the first meeting of the season of the Hancock County Agricultural Club Monday night.

Fourteen attended in the office of Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent.

Gainer emphasized the prevention program would include individual testing of samples of milk from each cow in the herd.

The disease causes losses of a half - billion dollars each year to dairy farmers, he said.

Election Day Dawns With Crisp Low Of 25

As they say at the political headquarters — "election day dawned crisp, cool and clear."

As a matter of fact, the mercury fell to the season's low mark of 25 degrees downtown and to clinch a winterlike forecast, the Ohio weatherman said Wednesday will be colder with occasional showers possibly mixed with snow.

Site Obtained For Chester Grade School

The Hancock County Board of Education has received the deed for property which it optioned in June as the location for a new $302,600 elementary school in Chester.

Supt. Robert H. Hall announced today the board completed arrangements for purchasing slightly over 16 acres of ground for $5,500 an acre, or $88,126.50, from the Tri-State Terminals, Inc., of Philadelphia.

The former site of the Chester Rolling Mill, the property lies in the rear of the Arner Chester Chapel and stretches to the banks of the Ohio River.

Supt. Hall commented that the property "is excellent for a school site, and in the board's opinion is the only site for Chester's new elementary school."

The Chester school, which will house about 300 pupils, is one of four new buildings planned in a $5 million expansion and modernization program.

The board earlier purchased 97 acres for $30,000 in the Pughtown area from Chester E. Minesinger as the site for a new, 600-pupil Northern Hancock County High school, to be erected along Gas Valley Rd.

The board also has purchased 56 acres for $135,000 in Weirton as the site for a new high school for the county's largest city.

Obtaining of the deed for the property on which the Chester elementary school will be constructed is the final step in getting the necessary land for the modern buildings, Supt. Hall said.

The board met last night in New Cumberland with Kellam & Foley of Columbus, architects, to go over detailed plans and specifications for administrative buildings of the new Weirton high school.

Supt. Hall said the architects are progressing on the plans, and the board anticipates completion of Kellam & Foley's phase of the work by February.

The board may ask for bids for the school construction by February when the architect's plans are completed.

The board hopes that construction of the buildings will get under way by next March or April.

Fact Vs. Fallacy

95 Per Cent Could Survive Bomb

By PROF. WILLARD F. LIBBY

Many Americans are deceiving themselves about H-bombs and their effects. What are the chief fallacies and the facts?

Fact: Ninety to 95 per cent of us survive, with proper protection.

Fact: This is pure fiction. Deaths from local, close-in fallout could be very high if people didn't have fallout shelter protection. But the worldwide radiation levels, after a war, would have delayed effects just about comparable to those from the normal radiation levels in some parts of the world at present.

Fallacy: No other countries, including Russia, are building shelters or preparing real civil defense. We look silly.

Fact: The Russians are civily defended, are preparing community shelters, and taking many other steps to save lives. We are already far behind them. Sweden and Denmark also have done a great deal in preparing shelters.

Fallacy: There is no hope for me if a bomb explodes within a few miles of me.

Fact: Over the heads of each of 180 million Americans?

Fallacy: It would be impossible to set up civilized life again if cities and factories were destroyed, and farmlands dusted with fallout.

Fact: Great areas would not be touched, including many cities and towns. We could rebuild destroyed areas, if people had not been sickened or weakened by radiation. That CAN be avoided. Intense fallout would not cover all our land, perhaps not more than 10 to 50 per cent at most. And there are means of decontaminating land, or of producing food while avoiding radioactivity hazards.

Fact: The radiation passes through foods or water without changing them, or making them unsafe, unless the fallout dust gets INTO the food or water. Coverings can keep the dust out. X-rays from the fallout would not make people radioactive or "infectious" any more than chest X-rays do.

Fact: Not against a direct hit. But most fallout shelters provide some anti-blast protection, and it can be very good protection.

Fallacy: The blast from big bombs totally destroys everything within 50 miles or more of the explosion.

Fact: Blast could bring down buildings eight miles to 10 miles away, in the case of a 10-megaton bomb. A 100-megaton bomb's damaging blast effects would reach about 20 miles.

Fallacy: Instant radiation from an H-bomb reaches out many miles.

Fact: About two miles from a 10-megaton bomb. If you were that close, and unprotected, the blast and heat would kill you first, very likely.

Fallacy: Only the government can act for us.

Fact: There is much the individual can do for himself. Strong government aid and funds could speed the building of public shelters, community shelters, and shelters in schools.

Fallacy: All children in the future would be stillborn or genetic freaks, due to postwar fallout.

Fact: Postwar fallout would produce some considerable rate of increase over the present rate of abnormal births, but most births would continue to be normal.

Fact: The air is contaminated only WHILE fallout is coming down, and it is safe to breathe when the dust has fallen. The air isn't changed by the passage of fallout.

Fallacy: In a nuclear war, people would give up, become animals.

Soviets May Shut Crossing At U.S. Zone

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviets may close off the East Berlin crossing at the American zone any day now and reroute Allied traffic through a new crossing at the British sector, informed sources said today.

The three Western powers have not received intelligence reports about such a closing, the informants added, but they have observed construction material being brought to the vicinity of the checkpoint in East Berlin.

The ambassadorial group which meets at the State Department to draft contingency plans for Allied moves and countermoves in Berlin discussed this possibility last week. The group—consisting of the ambassadors of Britain, France, and Germany with Foy D. Kohler, U. S. assistant secretary of state, presiding—has reached no decision.

Should the Soviets close "Checkpoint Charlie," the Friedrichstrasse crossing where American and Soviet tanks faced each other for about 16 tense hours in October, their chief reason will be to embarrass the United States. But, officials here believe, they also will put the British into an awkward situation.

Each of the three Allied powers has responded differently to the East Germans' demand for identification from Allied personnel entering East Berlin.

The Americans not only refused to comply but sent armed escorts through the gate whenever a U. S. official in civilian clothes drove to East Berlin.

The French did not comply with the request but made no attempt to force their way into East Berlin.

If a new checkpoint is opened in the British sector, the British will be in charge. The necessity, therefore, to establish a uniform Western policy on how to react to this or any similar Communist demands is more acute than ever.

There are sharp differences of opinion in the Kennedy administration and in the ambassadorial group over what should be done if the crossing is changed, informants said.

Those who demanded last August that the West should prevent by force if necessary the building of the Berlin wall now say that the West should not tolerate another unilateral action by the Soviets.

Teachers

years' training from $3,500 to $3,600; for teachers with more than three years but less than a degree, $3,800 to $3,900; for those with a bachelor's degree, $4,300 to $4,400; for those with five years' training, $4,550 to $4,650, and for those with master's degree, $4,750 to $4,850.

The superintendent emphasized that is the amount the foundation program pays; it is not the salary schedule for city teachers.

With an anticipated 215 approved classroom units, that would provide an additional $21,500, Betts reported.

In addition, the Legislature also increased the amount paid for general operating expenses from $1,600 to $1,700 which would make another $21,500 available, boosting the total amount to $43,000.

Betts said it seemed to him the "fair way" would be to grant $100 increases to certificated personnel (teachers), which would absorb the extra $21,500 anticipated from the various salary categories.

Some 50 custodial, clerical and other employes also could be granted $100 increases from the amount expected from general operating funds, leaving between $15,000 and $16,000 to boost other operating accounts, Betts said.

The superintendent said he was not ready to make a definite recommendation but asked members to give the possibility some consideration.

Meanwhile, Betts invited board members to attend a luncheon meeting of county superintendents and executive heads with State Reps. Clarence L. Wetzel and J. Warren Bettis Friday noon at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon.

The two legislators will be urged to support a move to restore funds lopped off school aid when a special session of the State Legislature convenes next week. The luncheon meeting will air the needs of the various school systems in the county.

The last Legislature cut off $46 million additional requested for operating purposes and $25 million for building construction, Supt. Betts said, but the executive committee of the Ohio School Boards Association is trying to restore the original amounts.

Political Pulse-Takers Watch Elections In East

By The Associated Press

The nation's political pulse-takers are intently watching the voters of New Jersey and New York City today for any symptoms that could linger until the national elections in 1962 and 1964.

Of particular interest was the governor's race in New Jersey, whose unpredictable voters have skipped back and forth between both major parties for the past decade. Here an Eisenhower Republican, James P. Mitchell, was matched against Democrat Richard J. Hughes who carries the approval of the New Frontier. New Jersey was narrowly counted for Kennedy in last year's presidental election.

In New York City's mayoral race, much of the attention is focused on the bitter feud within the Democratic party. Republicans—who often provide little more than token opposition—hope their candidate, Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, can make a strong showing against Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who is trying for a third term.

Virginia voters are expected to follow tradition and elect a Democratic governor. Dozens of other cities across the nation are electing mayors, and Michigan's Wayne County (Detroit) is electing a U.S. representative. Scores of state legislature seats are at stake in New Jersey, Virginia and Kentucky.

In the contest for mayor of New York, Wagner, who broke with Tammany Hall, has President Kennedy's endorsement. The party's state chairman, Michael H. Prendergast, withheld his support, giving it instead to City Comptroller Lawrence E. Gerosa, a Democrat running as an independent.

Wagner is heavily favored. The weather outlook is cloudy with chance of showers. Voting hours are 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. There are 3,506,913 eligible voters. More than two million are expected to vote.

In New Jersey, most political observers favor Mitchell, who was secretary of labor in Dwight D. Eisenhower's Cabinet. The democrats see their man Hughes, a former Superior Court judge, making a photo finish.

The office was open to them by a New Jersey law that prohibits a governor from serving three consecutive terms. Gov. Robert B. Meyner, a Democrat, has held office for eight years.

The New Jersey polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. The weather forecast: cloudy and cool with chance of showers. A vote of 2.25 million, out of a registration of 3,023,384, is expected.

The New Jersey campaign—fought long and hard from one end of the state to the other—ended on a low key, due to the death of Hughes' 85-year-old father on Sunday. Both candidates canceled scheduled eleventh-hour appearances.

Because of the contest's potential importance to off-year elections for Congress next year, both parties wheeled their big political guns into New Jersey. Kennedy and former President Harry S. Truman came in behalf of Hughes. Eisenhower spoke for Mitchell.

Both parties stand to gain or lose prestige in New York and New Jersey—the most important elections before next year's congressional and gubernatorial races on a national scale.

The only other governorship on the line is in Virginia. Voters there are expected to elect a Democrat, Albertis S. Harrison, a former attorney general, over Republican H. Clyde Pearson, a Roanoke lawyer.

Franklin D. Roosevelt (1882-1945) was the first President to fly in an airplane during his administration.

Fact Vs. Fallacy

95 Per Cent Could Survive Bomb

By PROF. WILLARD F. LIBBY

Many Americans are deceiving themselves about H-bombs and their effects. What are the chief fallacies and the facts?

Fact: Ninety to 95 per cent of us survive, with proper protection.

Fact: This is pure fiction. Deaths from local, close-in fallout could be very high if people didn't have fallout shelter protection. But the worldwide radiation levels, after a war, would have delayed effects just about comparable to those from the normal radiation levels in some parts of the world at present.

Fallacy: No other countries, including Russia, are building shelters or preparing real civil defense. We look silly.

Fact: The Russians are civily defended, are preparing community shelters, and taking many other steps to save lives. We are already far behind them. Sweden and Denmark also have done a great deal in preparing shelters.

Fallacy: There is no hope for me if a bomb explodes within a few miles of me.

Fact: Over the heads of each of 180 million Americans?

Fallacy: It would be impossible to set up civilized life again if cities and factories were destroyed, and farmlands dusted with fallout.

Fact: Great areas would not be touched, including many cities and towns. We could rebuild destroyed areas, if people had not been sickened or weakened by radiation. That CAN be avoided. Intense fallout would not cover all our land, perhaps not more than 10 to 50 per cent at most. And there are means of decontaminating land, or of producing food while avoiding radioactivity hazards.

Fact: The radiation passes through foods or water without changing them, or making them unsafe, unless the fallout dust gets INTO the food or water. Coverings can keep the dust out. X-rays from the fallout would not make people radioactive or "infectious" any more than chest X-rays do.

Fact: Not against a direct hit. But most fallout shelters provide some anti-blast protection, and it can be very good protection.

Fallacy: The blast from big bombs totally destroys everything within 50 miles or more of the explosion.

Fact: Blast could bring down buildings eight miles to 10 miles away, in the case of a 10-megaton bomb. A 100-megaton bomb's damaging blast effects would reach about 20 miles.

Fallacy: Instant radiation from an H-bomb reaches out many miles.

Fact: About two miles from a 10-megaton bomb. If you were that close, and unprotected, the blast and heat would kill you first, very likely.

Fallacy: Only the government can act for us.

Fact: There is much the individual can do for himself. Strong government aid and funds could speed the building of public shelters, community shelters, and shelters in schools.

Fallacy: All children in the future would be stillborn or genetic freaks, due to postwar fallout.

Fact: Postwar fallout would produce some considerable rate of increase over the present rate of abnormal births, but most births would continue to be normal.

Fallacy: Fallout contaminates the air it passes through.

Fact: The air is contaminated only WHILE fallout is coming down, and it is safe to breathe when the dust has fallen. The air isn't changed by the passage of fallout.

Fallacy: In a nuclear war, people would give up, become animals.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove stubborn stains on concrete?

A. These will often disappear if rubbed with a hot solution of four ounces of trisodium phosphate in one gallon of water, to which add four ounces of washing soda. After scrubbing, rinse well with clean water.

Q. How can I remove the telltale marks left when a hem has been let out on one of my dresses?

A. Place a cloth dipped in vinegar under the old hem seam, and press with a hot iron. This hint works with wool and cotton — but don't use a hot iron on synthetic fabrics!

Q. How can I clean chamois leather and keep it in good condition?

A. Wash the chamois in warm, soapy water to which a pinch of baking soda has been added. You'll find this treatment will keep the chamois in good, soft condition.

Bell-Players Guide Her

Blind Girl, 16, Marches With Florida School Band

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The girl marches briskly with the band down the football field, guided by two bells and the ringing courage of her heart.

The blazing floodlights never bring squints to Leah Russell's blue eyes; the floodlights are black to her.

" I have only one terrible fear," said Leah, 16, blind since birth. "I'm scared that sometime I may not hear the sound of the bell-players and I'll go marching off by myself—all alone, in the wrong direction. I would be so ashamed."

Almost three years ago Leah began studying the piccolo, painstakingly putting the music into Braille Last year her Southwest Miami High band director, Marvin Mockabee, welcomed her into his 64-member unit.

"As a sitting member only," said Mockabee, "she practiced with us, played in concerts, but I was afraid to try her out as a marcher."

But Leah felt lonely sitting out the football game marches and finally pleaded to be taught to march. It was trying and often frightening for Leah.

"But her patience and determination almost brought tears to our eyes," Mockabee said.

As the band struts down the field two husky bell-players pound their big shiny instruments with Leah marching between them.

With the radar-like hearing of the blind, Leah maintains a straight line of march—the sound of the bells measuring distance for her.

"When the bells stop momentarily, you can see her hesitate," said the band director. "But then the boys whisper, 'Leah, we're coming to the left flank. Or a right flank. Get ready.'"

Someday, she said, "I will become a teacher and perhaps help other boys and girls to march in the dark."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove stubborn stains on concrete?

A. These will often disappear if rubbed with a hot solution of four ounces of trisodium phosphate in one gallon of water, to which add four ounces of washing soda. After scrubbing, rinse well with clean water.

Q. How can I remove the telltale marks left when a hem has been let out on one of my dresses?

A. Place a cloth dipped in vinegar under the old hem seam, and press with a hot iron. This hint works with wool and cotton — but don't use a hot iron on synthetic fabrics!

Q. How can I clean chamois leather and keep it in good condition?

A. Wash the chamois in warm, soapy water to which a pinch of baking soda has been added. You'll find this treatment will keep the chamois in good, soft condition.

Heart Attack Fatal

CHICAGO (AP) — Oscar A. Schneider, 63, consul general of Switzerland in Chicago since 1955, died Monday of a heart attack.

Bell-Players Guide Her

Blind Girl, 16, Marches With Florida School Band

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The girl marches briskly with the band down the football field, guided by two bells and the ringing courage of her heart.

The blazing floodlights never bring squints to Leah Russell's blue eyes; the floodlights are black to her.

"I have only one terrible fear," said Leah, 16, blind since birth. "I'm scared that sometime I may not hear the sound of the bell-players and I'll go marching off by myself—all alone, in the wrong direction. I would be so ashamed."

Almost three years ago Leah began studying the piccolo, painstakingly putting the music into Braille Last year her Southwest Miami High band director, Marvin Mockabee, welcomed her into his 64-member unit.

"As a sitting member only," said Mockabee, "she practiced with us, played in concerts, but I was afraid to try her out as a marcher."

But Leah felt lonely sitting out the football game marches and finally pleaded to be taught to march. It was trying and often frightening for Leah.

"But her patience and determination almost brought tears to our eyes," Mockabee said.

As the band struts down the field two husky bell-players pound their big shiny instruments with Leah marching between them.

With the radar-like hearing of the blind, Leah maintains a straight line of march—the sound of the bells measuring distance for her.

"When the bells stop momentarily, you can see her hesitate," said the band director. "But then the boys whisper, 'Leah, we're coming to the left flank. Or a right flank. Get ready.'"

Someday, she said, "I will become a teacher and perhaps help other boys and girls to march in the dark."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Please don't think I'm a nut. I need help and I don't know where to turn without risking trouble.

Two years ago my husband disappeared. He had left me before (other women) so I wasn't too disturbed. He always came back after a few weeks. About a month later the police came to my home with a wallet they found on a man whose mangled body was picked up near the railroad tracks. The wallet belonged to my husband.

I had a lovely funeral for him and I went through the horrible months of grieving and torturing myself for not having been a better wife. The insurance company sent their check and I moved to a nicer place.

Last night I was watching a sports event on television. The camera turned on the spectators. I could swear I saw my husband. He was with a woman and they seemed to be laughing and talking.

What shall I do? I am in a state of shock as I write this letter. — NO NAME.

Dear No Name: It is more than likely that the man you saw on television was a striking double and not your husband at all.

You should notify the police at once, however. If it was not your husband who was buried, the police would be very much interested in finding out who he was. The insurance company should be notified also. They will be eager to help in the investigation.

You have nothing to fear, regardless. The error (if there was one) was not yours.

Anonymous Cad

Dear Ann: Our daughter's wedding a few months ago was a very happy occasion. It was a beautiful church ceremony and she wore the traditional white gown.

Yesterday I received a letter written by an anonymous person. It said, "Your daughter had no right to wear white and I have proof of this. She was intimate, not only with the fellow she married, but with a few others."

Then the letter went on to say, "I have heard her make some sneering remarks about girls who had to get married. I wish you'd tell her to keep her mouth shut. After all, she was no better—just lucky."

I am heartsick over this and don't know whether to show the letter to my husband or talk to my daughter about it. Please advise me. I am — BROKEN HEARTED.

Dear Broken Hearted: Make confetti out of the letter and then forget it. There's nothing lower than characters who write anonymous notes designed to hurt people or start trouble. A letter without a signature is not worth reading, much less worrying about.

Summer Romance

Dear Ann: A boy I will call Brad dated me all through June, July and August. It was wonderful. If we didn't see each other every day we talked on the phone.

Then Brad went away for two weeks with his folks. He promised to write to me. Well I didn't get even a postcard. When he came home he didn't call. I heard yesterday that he is dating a friend of mine.

I'd give anything to know why he dropped me without a word of explanation. I'm sure I'll be running into him soon. Should I come right out and ask him why the sudden disappearing act? I'd hate to make a fool of myself. — JILTED.

Dear Jilted: Why let him know you feel "dropped"? Be pleasant when you see him and let him wonder why you are so sweet. This, my dear, is known as "the strength of indifference."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Midland Fund Nearing Goal

Nearing the end of its campaign, the Midland Area United Fund is about 90 per cent completed with $40,845 in of its $45,471 goal, Robert C. Kelker, campaign chairman, reported.

Reports were turned in at an informal meeting Monday evening at the home of Nile H. Wain of Beaver Ave., secretary. The meeting at Lincoln High School was canceled due to "open house" in observance of National Education Week.

Kelker said a meeting will be held in about two weeks at the high school for a final report. During that time, chairmen will wind up their door-to-door solicitations and the drive in the mills will be completed.

A breakdown of pledges and donations so far by divisions, including goals in parenthesis, includes: Professional, $395 ($600); construction, $210 ($450); manuvacturing, $37,921 ($39,850); clubs, $25 ($186); public service and real estate and insurance, $546 ($510); retail, $450 ($1,250); education, $691.50 ($900); government, $215 ($250); Midland house-to-house, $240.17 ($350), and Ohio View and Industry, $152 ($550).

The committee gave no reports for communications and transportation and Fairview - Ohioville-Smiths Ferry house-to-house.

General Motors Closes Another Cleveland Plant

CLEVELAND (AP) — General Motors Corp. has announced the closing of its second plant here within two weeks.

V. L. Snow, GM's Euclid Division general manager, said manufacturing now being done at its Clinton Road plant, where some 400 are employed, will be transferred to other Euclid Division plants. He said it is anticipated about 350 Clinton plant workers will be absorbed at the Hudson plant and the rest will be requested to enter operations at the St. Clair Avenue plant. The move is expected to be completed by spring.

Two weeks ago General Motors announced transfer of Cleveland Diesel Engine Division operations to Electro-Motive Division at LaGrange, Ill. GM said at that time the plant's 500 workers would be given the opportunity to transfer to the LaGrange plant or would be offered preferential employment treatment at other GM divisions here.

Ohio Pike Accident Kills Wisconsin Pair

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A car rammed into the rear of a truck about to leave the Ohio Turnpike at the Youngstown Interchange today, killing a Wisconsin couple.

The Ohio Turnpike Patrol identified the dead as Mr. and Mrs. Bernard W. Burgess of Milwaukee.

The patrol said the car bearing the Burgesses struck the truck loaded with bacon and went down into the medial strip valley. The truck driver, George B. Dean, of Bushnell, Ill., was not hurt.

Rep. Bow Hits Supporters For Lower Tariffs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supporters of the move for lowering tariffs and seeking closer ties with European Common Market would "encourage foreign competition . . . (and) establish a federal economic program for the control and direction of injured (domestic) industries," Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio, charged Monday.

Bow, a resident of Canton and representative of Ohio's 16th District, wants to put direct control of tariffs and quotas back in the hands of Congress.

He has introduced a bill designed to increase protection for domestic industries and predicts a stiff battle on the issue next session. The Reciprocal Trade Act is up for renewal June 30.

Many domestic industries, including the pottery industry which employes a number of Bow's constituents have repeatedly complained against tariff and trade policies.

Bow said, "already 107 industries have suffered the effects of ruinous trade policies sufficiently to appeal for relief. Others are feeling the pinch. Many more would suffer from more 'liberal' trade agreements."

More than 90 per cent of the appeals for relief have been turned down either by the Tariff Commission or the President in the last 10 years, Bow said.

The siege of Richmond by the Federals in the Civil War lasted 287 days and was the longest siege in American military history.

2 Escapees Who Beat Sheriff, 71, Hunted

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—State and local police intensified their efforts today to track down two escaped prisoners who beat a 71-year - old sheriff Monday night with makeshift lead pipes.

The victim of the beating was John R. Middlesworth, sheriff of Union County. He identified the escapees as Salvatore J. Vitalie and Emory G. Hyatt.

Middlesworth was attacked when he, his wife and a neighbor, Barbara Norris, went to the county jail to make a routine check and lock up for the night.

Vitalie and Hyatt had broken the lock on their cell door and were hiding in an open cell. Middlesworth said they jumped him, stuffed a cloth rag in his mouth and started hitting him with pipes ripped from a chair.

Thieves Get Surprise

New York City Milk Strike Ends; Arbitration Set

NEW YORK (AP)—A two-week milk drought in the city and Long Island ended on this election day with an agreement to submit to arbitration the last remaining issue in a Teamsters Union strike. The issue involves overtime pay.

An industry spokesman said home deliveries, beginning in some sections of the city at the breakfast hour, would widen to other sections later in the day.

Before the strike began Oct. 24, 6.5 million quarts were consumed each day in the city and another 1.5 million in the Long Island counties of Nassau and Suffolk.

The timing of the arbitration announcement—just 6½ hours before the polls opened—placed the strike smack in the middle of the city's heated mayoral battle.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner, Democrat seeking a third term, made the announcement on a paid political telecast. He had proposed arbitration.

State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, Republican providing the chief opposition to Wagner in today's balloting, said Wagner failed to mention a possible consumer price increase of from one to three cents a quart.

Wagner said the price increase would be no more than "half-a-cent on the average or a little over half-a-cent."

East End Post Holds Memorial Services

The members went in a group to the Martin Funeral Home to pay respects.

During business, a $25 donation was made to Colt Baseball. James Cregar, commander, presided.

Louie Skavarka, second vice commander, and committee served lunch to 30.

It was announced a dance will follow the Veterans Day banquet Saturday night. Vince Mundy's orchestra will play. Tickets for the banquet may be obtained at the post home.

Man's Cutting Note Leads To $9 Return

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Ralph Richards, of Pennsburg, was fined $1 for parking on the wrong side of the street but he sent in $10 with the following note: "Keep the change. If you're that hard up for money, you might need the extra money."

Pottstown Borough Council ordered the treasurer to return the $9.

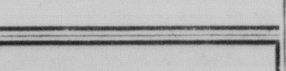
What is an



ELLIPSOID?

An ellipsoid is a solid of which every plane section is an ellipse or a circle.

The application of solid geometry to mechanical engineering is a part of a mechanical engineer's training. Unfortunately many potential engineers may never be able to go to college despite our country's need for highly trained men. Already many of our colleges are overcrowded and in 10 years applications will double. We will need more and better college laboratories and thousands more of the highest quality professors.

Dear No Name: It is more than likely that the man you saw on television was a striking double and not your husband at all.

You should notify the police at once, however. If it was not your husband who was buried, the police would be very much interested in finding out who he was. The insurance company should be notified also. They will be eager to help in the investigation.

You have nothing to fear, regardless. The error (if there was one) was not yours.

Anonymous Cad

Dear Ann: Our daughter's wedding a few months ago was a very happy occasion. It was a beautiful church ceremony and she wore the traditional white gown.

Yesterday I received a letter written by an anonymous person. It said, "Your daughter had no right to wear white and I have proof of this. She was intimate, not only with the fellow she married, but with a few others."

Then the letter went on to say, "I have heard her make some sneering remarks about girls who had to get married. I wish you'd tell her to keep her mouth shut. After all, she was no better—just lucky."

I am heartsick over this and don't know whether to show the letter to my husband or talk to my daughter about it. Please advise me. I am — BROKEN HEARTED.

Dear Broken Hearted: Make confetti out of the letter and then forget it. There's nothing lower than characters who write anonymous notes designed to hurt people or start trouble. A letter without a signature is not worth reading, much less worrying about.

Summer Romance

Dear Ann: A boy I will call Brad dated me all through June, July and August. It was wonderful. If we didn't see each other every day we talked on the phone.

Then Brad went away for two weeks with his folks. He promised to write to me. Well I didn't get even a postcard. When he came home he didn't call. I heard yesterday that he is dating a friend of mine.

I'd give anything to know why he dropped me without a word of explanation. I'm sure I'll be running into him soon. Should I come right out and ask him why the sudden disappearing act? I'd hate to make a fool of myself. — JILTED.

Dear Jilted: Why let him know you feel "dropped"? Be pleasant when you see him and let him wonder why you are so sweet. This, my dear, is known as "the strength of indifference."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Midland Fund Nearing Goal

Nearing the end of its campaign, the Midland Area United Fund is about 90 per cent completed with $40,845 in of its $45,471 goal, Robert C. Kelker, campaign chairman, reported.

Reports were turned in at an informal meeting Monday evening at the home of Nile H. Wain of Beaver Ave., secretary. The meeting at Lincoln High School was canceled due to "open house" in observance of National Education Week.

Kelker said a meeting will be held in about two weeks at the high school for a final report. During that time, chairmen will wind up their door-to-door solicitations and the drive in the mills will be completed.

A breakdown of pledges and donations so far by divisions, including goals in parenthesis, includes: Professional, $395 ($600); construction, $210 ($450); manuvacturing, $37,921 ($39,850); clubs, $25 ($186); public service and real estate and insurance, $546 ($510); retail, $450 ($1,250); education, $691.50 ($900); government, $215 ($250); Midland house-to-house, $240.17 ($350), and Ohio View and Industry, $152 ($550).

The committee gave no reports for communications and transportation and Fairview - Ohioville-Smiths Ferry house-to-house.

General Motors Closes Another Cleveland Plant

CLEVELAND (AP) — General Motors Corp. has announced the closing of its second plant here within two weeks.

V. L. Snow, GM's Euclid Division general manager, said manufacturing now being done at its Clinton Road plant, where some 400 are employed, will be transferred to other Euclid Division plants. He said it is anticipated about 350 Clinton plant workers will be absorbed at the Hudson plant and the rest will be requested to enter operations at the St. Clair Avenue plant. The move is expected to be completed by spring.

Two weeks ago General Motors announced transfer of Cleveland Diesel Engine Division operations to Electro-Motive Division at La-Grange, Ill. GM said at that time the plant's 500 workers would be given the opportunity to transfer to the LaGrange plant or would be offered preferential employment treatment at other GM divisions here.

Ohio Pike Accident Kills Wisconsin Pair

The Ohio Turnpike Patrol identified the dead as Mr. and Mrs. Bernard W. Burgess of Milwaukee.

The patrol said the car bearing the Burgesses struck the truck loaded with bacon and went down into the medial strip valley. The truck driver, George B. Dean, of Bushnell, Ill., was not hurt.

Rep. Bow Hits Supporters For Lower Tariffs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supporters of the move for lowering tariffs and seeking closer ties with European Common Market would "encourage foreign competition . . . (and) establish a federal economic program for the control and direction of injured (domestic) industries," Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio, charged Monday.

Bow, a resident of Canton and representative of Ohio's 16th District, wants to put direct control of tariffs and quotas back in the hands of Congress.

He has introduced a bill designed to increase protection for domestic industries and predicts a stiff battle on the issue next session. The Reciprocal Trade Act is up for renewal June 30.

Many domestic industries, including the pottery industry which employes a number of Bow's constituents have repeatedly complained against tariff and trade policies.

Bow said, "already 107 industries have suffered the effects of ruinous trade policies sufficiently to appeal for relief. Others are feeling the pinch. Many more would suffer from more 'liberal' trade agreements."

More than 90 per cent of the appeals for relief have been turned down either by the Tariff Commission or the President in the last 10 years, Bow said.

The siege of Richmond by the Federals in the Civil War lasted 287 days and was the longest siege in American military history.

2 Escapees Who Beat Sheriff, 71, Hunted

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—State and local police intensified their efforts today to track down two escaped prisoners who beat a 71-year - old sheriff Monday night with makeshift lead pipes.

The victim of the beating was John R. Middlesworth, sheriff of Union County. He identified the escapees as Salvatore J. Vitalie and Emory G. Hyatt.

Middlesworth was attacked when he, his wife and a neighbor, Barbara Norris, went to the county jail to make a routine check and lock up for the night.

Vitalie and Hyatt had broken the lock on their cell door and were hiding in an open cell. Middlesworth said they jumped him, stuffed a cloth rag in his mouth and started hitting him with pipes ripped from a chair.

New York City Milk Strike Ends; Arbitration Set

NEW YORK (AP)—A two-week milk drought in the city and Long Island ended on this election day with an agreement to submit to arbitration the last remaining issue in a Teamsters Union strike. The issue involves overtime pay.

An industry spokesman said home deliveries, beginning in some sections of the city at the breakfast hour, would widen to other sections later in the day.

Before the strike began Oct. 24, 6.5 million quarts were consumed each day in the city and another 1.5 million in the Long Island counties of Nassau and Suffolk.

The timing of the arbitration announcement—just 6½ hours before the polls opened—placed the strike smack in the middle of the city's heated mayoral battle.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner, Democrat seeking a third term, made the announcement on a paid political telecast. He had proposed arbitration.

State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, Republican providing the chief opposition to Wagner in today's balloting, said Wagner failed to mention a possible consumer price increase of from one to three cents a quart.

Wagner said the price increase would be no more than "half-a-cent on the average or a little over half-a-cent."

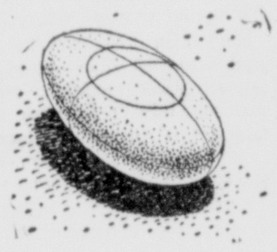
What is an



ELLIPSOID?

An ellipsoid is a solid of which every plane section is an ellipse or a circle.

The application of solid geometry to mechanical engineering is a part of a mechanical engineer's training. Unfortunately many potential engineers may never be able to go to college despite our country's need for highly trained men. Already many of our colleges are overcrowded and in 10 years applications will double. We will need more and better college laboratories and thousands more of the highest quality professors.

Midland Post Joins Parade

Midland American Legion Post 481 discussed plans Monday evening to participate in a parade Saturday — Veteran's Day — at Baden, climaxing a week of activities.

The Beaver County American Legion observance, being held at Baden this year, began with memorial services Sunday.

A past commanders' banquet will be held Wednesday evening and a 40 & 8 parade and jamboree Thursday evening.

The Midland post will enter a marching unit, a color guard, along with gold star mothers in the parade Saturday. The Lincoln High School band will also march, sponsored by Post 481.

The parade will form at 10 a. m. and move at 10:30 a. m. A gold star mothers banquet will follow.

William Riddle, first vice commander, presided in the absence of George Huha, commander. A report was given of the post's Halloween party Oct. 28 which over 500 children attended. Woodrow Jones was chairman.

The post reported it is continuing with its toy program and needs toys, Harry Hulton said. Anyone wishing to donate toys may contact the post at MI. 3-7984 for pickup.

U.S. And Ohio Aid Proposed For Pollution

Federal and state officials should be asked to come to East Liverpool to observe the Ohio River and confer with local officials as a way of interesting higher echelons of government in enforcing anti - pollution laws, representatives of three district boat clubs told Council Monday night.

Stirred to action after tar, oil and other waste polluted the streams last summer, the boat club representatives conceded they feel no new local legislation is necessary if U. S. and Ohio authorities can be persuaded to enforce laws already on the books.

The club spokesmen pointed out the recreation facilities offered by the Ohio River off East Liverpool and Wellsville represent an economic advantage to the two communities because they attract dozens of boaters from distant points on every summer weekend. The boaters spend money here for meals, hotel and motel accommodations and other items, they said.

They also pointed to the advantage of an unlimited supply of clear water in attracting new industries to the riverfront area. The full potential of the stream has not been attained, either from the standpoint of recreation or industry, they argued.

Lt. Boso said he feels enforcement of anti - pollution laws would be given a boost if the municipal government invited federal and state officials and representatives of the Ohio River Sanitation Commission at Cincinnati to observe local conditions and discuss the pollution problem. He said a governmental body can obtain far more co-operation from U. S. and Ohio officials than the privately-operated boat clubs.

The officer added that a new Tri-State Federation of Boat Clubs is in the process of being organized to represent boaters throughout the region — in Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania and along both the Ohio and its tributaries.

Councilman Donald Hancock promised Council will investigate the pollution control problem. He pointed out a number of agencies have jurisdiction over the stream, including the Corps of Engineers and the Coast Guard.

Councilman John Melvin said that Council "has been concerned with this condition for some time." He pointed out Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper already is investigating the legal aspects, particularly the problems posed by overlapping jurisdictions on the stream.

Councilman Norman Bucher promised the delegation he favors "any controls on pollution that can be set up legally by the city."

Meanwhile, Vice Adm. J. A. Hirshfield, acting commandant of the Coast Guard headquarters in Washington, has submitted a report to Rep. Wayne L. Hays on the inspection of the Ohio River areas in East Liverpool and Wellsville made Aug. 31 following repeated complaints of pollution.

No contamination was found at the time of the inspection, the admiral's report said. It detailed conversations between the inspector and Police Chief Americo Radeschi and Spahr, commodore of the Wellsville Boat Club. The report said Spahr blamed one case of pollution on oil spilled from a barge at an East Liverpool terminal, but the terminal manager blamed the pollution on oil drifting downstream from unknown sources.

"The investigation failed to uncover sufficient evidence against any company or person," Adm. Hirshfield reported.

He said the interested persons in the East Liverpool - Wellsville area were advised on the procedure to follow in future cases of pollution. They were told to attempt to ascertain the source, collect samples of the oil, take photographs and contact the nearest Coast Guard unit or a unit of the Corps of Engineers, the admiral reported.

Glenmoor Area Man Fined On 2 Charges

Regis J. Burns, 34, of Swaney Airport near Glenmoor was fined a total of $75 on two traffic charges by County Judge Herbert Arfman at East Palestine Monday.

Burns was fined $50 and costs —with $35 suspended — for driving with an unsafe vehicle. He was taken to the County Jail in lieu of payment.

In Local Fund Campaigns

Firm Gives 'United' Way

In response to the current Community Fund campaign, employes of the Hall China Co. have set up what they call a "United Charities Fund".

John Thompson (center), company treasurer, and Elmer Robinson (right), chairman of the Master Shop Committee, are shown turning over a check for $3,662 to the fund, representing the combined gifts of company and employes. William Hocking Jr., co-chairman of the campaign's Industrial Division, was present to accept the contribution. He said the gift brings the over-all drive total to $54,700, or better than 70 per cent of the goal of $77,600.

According to Thompson, more than 50 per cent of the company's employes have signed up to date for the payroll deduction plan of contributing through the "United Charities" fund. However, he emphasized that more than 60 per cent have contributed to the Community Fund campaign.

Set up on a smaller, but similar plan to that of Crucible Steel's "Combined Charities Fund", a committee of Hall China employes will apportion gifts throughout the year to stipulated charities. Thompson reported that the plan was "well received" by employes and company officials alike.

"We expect the "united" plan of giving to save both time and money for all of us at Hall China," he said. "Through budgeted payroll deductions, it gives our employes a less painful way to fulfill obligations to all local fund campaigns and eliminates the need for duplicate giving at their homes, since each participant in the plan will have an identifying card. We also feel the plan will save countless hours on the part of campaign workers in the future, since a canvass of individuals will not be necessary. We recommend that other businesses investigate the merits of the plan and shall be glad to discuss details of its operation."

Fund-Raising Events

Auto Show And Cake Sale Planned By City Jaycees

Plans for two future fund-raising projects were outlined at a meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The board approved plans for an Auto Show sometime in December. Frank Potts, ways and means chairman, said about 34 of 40 possible spaces at the former American Paper Products plant on Walnut St. have been sold to various dealers and agencies.

Dick Cherry, chairman, reported the annual fruit cake sale will get under way soon. He said the committee will sell the same brand as last year.

Ronald Garland of Wyoming Ave. was accepted as a new member.

Paul Zehnder, chairman, reported plans have been started for the annual Bosses Night banquet in January.

Robert Lewis said he has checked with local school officials on the arrangements for setting up a citizens scholarship fund. Plans call for asking for donations from all residents of the city. The fund would be administered by a Board of Directors to be set up later.

H. James Allison reported 10 couples have been signed for the chartered bus to Youngstown for the All-State meeting dinner Sunday, Nov. 19. He said newly-formed Convention Club plans to construct floats for various merchants in town for the annual Christmas parade Friday, Nov. 24.

About 25 units have been signed for the Yule parade. Paul Seckman is chairman. The board voted to enter a float.

Letters requesting donations for the annual Toys-for-Tots program will be sent out soon. Other plans for obtaining toys for needy children also were discussed. Russell Brown is chairman.

The get-out-the-vote committee will conduct a mock election today in the high school. Debates on various issues were held yesterday. The committee is providing mock ballots for the students. They will vote on the same issues as in the general election. Alfred Fricano is chairman.

It was reported all arrangements are set for the election returns project tonight.

Ike Gets Checkup

Fires

Minor injuries to 10 firemen in the Bel-Air fire were reported.

More than 2,000 persons had been evacuated from one of the nation's richest residential areas. Residents leaving the area with armloads of possessions, leading horses, pets and children, suggested refugees fleeing from war.

Magnates, movie stars, school children and housewives fled from homes and classrooms to escape the blaze Monday. Fire officials called it the most damaging in Southern California history.

Some of the movie stars' homes reportedly cost more than $100,000.

The main fire is in rugged, mountainous terrain extending westward to the sea and dividing the San Fernando Valley from Los Angeles and its western suburbs. The sprawling blaze is roughly 10 miles northwest of downtown Los Angeles and three miles northwest of Beverly Hills. Brentwood, Bel-Air and the Hollywood hills are suburban communities.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown declared Los Angeles County a disaster area.

The city fire department said it counted more than 200 homes destroyed—many valued at more than $100,000 each. A public information officer for the department said the total "easily could go as high as 300."

Post Donates To Yearbook

A contribution of $20 for the South Side Athletic Association for sponsoring a yearbook was approved by the Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163 Monday night.

It was announced $25 has been contributed to the Chester High School band for a trip Oct. 27 to St. Marys.

Archie West, second vice commander, reported Christmas and New Year decorations have been purchased and Graven Lyle, service officer, reported a canopy has been installed over the side entrance of the home.

Charles Huffman, Americanism officer, suggested a formal flag burning and post-everlasting ceremony to be held for the post anniversary in March. Plans will be furthered at later meetings.

The auxiliary was granted permission to use the home Nov. 17 for a spaghetti supper, and the Cherokee 4-H Club will use the hall for a Christmas party in December.

Kenneth Garey was named Legionnaire of the Month and will receive a Legion jacket. Lunch was served 27 by Dewey Price and committee.

2 Shooting Case Witnesses Fined

Two Waterford Park race track employes, held in jail on open charges since a companion and an East End man were wounded Friday night in a struggle over a shotgun, were fined $30 and costs each Monday in Municipal Court.

Ralph Turner of Grove City near Columbus and Richard Willard, who listed the race track address, drew the fines when arraigned before Acting Judge Paul Tobin on disorderly conduct charges.

The pair admitted they were intoxicated but denied they were involved in the fight which led to the wounding of Turner's brother, Lawrence, and Joseph Moss, 503 Virginia Ave., authorities said.

Moss is free on a $65 property bond pending a hearing on a fighting charge to which he pleaded innocent yesterday. Lawrence Turner remains in City Hospital with wounds suffered in the shooting while he and Moss allegedly struggled over the shotgun.

Hillside Parking Change Will Wait For Bad Weather

The city's winter parking plan, which permits motorists to park against the flow of traffic, particularly on hillside streets, will not go into effect until necessitated by bad weather, Safety-Service Director Robert Owen and Police Chief Americo Radeschi said today.

The city officials warned normal parking regulations will remain in effect until the change is made.

They said they have received numerous inquiries about when the so-called "winter" parking will be permitted, but explained they hope to be able to hold off until mid-December.

Owen and Radeschi said parking regulations can be relaxed under a 90-day emergency basis, but the three-month period should be used during the worst weather, chiefly from mid-December to mid-March.

By permitting traffic to park against the flow of traffic, motorists can face their cars downhill so they are able to pull away from the curbs on ice and snow - covered streets.

$316,499 Due City In Taxes

East Liverpool's municipal government will receive $316,499 from real estate taxes for its 1962 operations, based on 7.8 mills, according to the tax rates for next year set by the County Budget Commission at Lisbon and approved by Council Monday night.

The figures show the city will receive $146,076 from 3.6 mills levied inside the constitutional 10-mill limit and $170,423 from 4.2 mills outside the 10-mill limit.

The general fund will receive $87,240 from 2.15 mills inside. The bond retirement fund will get $34,490 from eighty-five hundredths mill and the fire and police pension funds will be given $12,173 each on levies of three - tenths mill, also inside the 10-mill limit.

Funds levied outside the 10-mill limit, all voted by the public, are: Firemen's levy, $40,577 on 1 mill; garbage levy, $101,442 on 2.5-mill, and hospital levy, $28,404 on seven-tenths mill.

Midland Post Joins Parade

Midland American Legion Post 481 discussed plans Monday evening to participate in a parade Saturday — Veteran's Day — at Baden, climaxing a week of activities.

The Beaver County American Legion observance, being held at Baden this year, began with memorial services Sunday.

A past commanders' banquet will be held Wednesday evening and a 40 & 8 parade and jamboree Thursday evening.

The Midland post will enter a marching unit, a color guard, along with gold star mothers in the parade Saturday. The Lincoln High School band will also march, sponsored by Post 481.

The parade will form at 10 a. m. and move at 10:30 a. m. A gold star mothers banquet will follow.

William Riddle, first vice commander, presided in the absence of George Huha, commander. A report was given of the post's Halloween party Oct. 28 which over 500 children attended. Woodrow Jones was chairman.

The post reported it is continuing with its toy program and needs toys, Harry Hulton said. Anyone wishing to donate toys may contact the post at MI. 3-7984 for pickup.

U.S. And Ohio Aid Proposed For Pollution

Federal and state officials should be asked to come to East Liverpool to observe the Ohio River and confer with local officials as a way of interesting higher echelons of government in enforcing anti - pollution laws, representatives of three district boat clubs told Council Monday night.

Stirred to action after tar, oil and other waste polluted the streams last summer, the boat club representatives conceded they feel no new local legislation is necessary if U. S. and Ohio authorities can be persuaded to enforce laws already on the books.

The club spokesmen pointed out the recreation facilities offered by the Ohio River off East Liverpool and Wellsville represent an economic advantage to the two communities because they attract dozens of boaters from distant points on every summer weekend. The boaters spend money here for meals, hotel and motel accommodations and other items, they said.

They also pointed to the advantage of an unlimited supply of clear water in attracting new industries to the riverfront area. The full potential of the stream has not been attained, either from the standpoint of recreation or industry, they argued.

Lt. Boso said he feels enforcement of anti - pollution laws would be given a boost if the municipal government invited federal and state officials and representatives of the Ohio River Sanitation Commission at Cincinnati to observe local conditions and discuss the pollution problem. He said a governmental body can obtain far more co-operation from U. S. and Ohio officials than the privately-operated boat clubs.

The officer added that a new Tri-State Federation of Boat Clubs is in the process of being organized to represent boaters throughout the region — in Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania and along both the Ohio and its tributaries.

Councilman Donald Hancock promised Council will investigate the pollution control problem. He pointed out a number of agencies have jurisdiction over the stream, including the Corps of Engineers and the Coast Guard.

Councilman John Melvin said that Council "has been concerned with this condition for some time." He pointed out Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper already is investigating the legal aspects, particularly the problems posed by overlapping jurisdictions on the stream.

Councilman Norman Bucher promised the delegation he favors "any controls on pollution that can be set up legally by the city."

Meanwhile, Vice Adm. J. A. Hirshfield, acting commandant of the Coast Guard headquarters in Washington, has submitted a report to Rep. Wayne L. Hays on the inspection of the Ohio River areas in East Liverpool and Wellsville made Aug. 31 following repeated complaints of pollution.

No contamination was found at the time of the inspection, the admiral's report said. It detailed conversations between the inspector and Police Chief Americo Radeschi and Spahr, commodore of the Wellsville Boat Club. The report said Spahr blamed one case of pollution on oil spilled from a barge at an East Liverpool terminal, but the terminal manager blamed the pollution on oil drifting downstream from unknown sources.

"The investigation failed to uncover sufficient evidence against any company or person," Adm. Hirshfield reported.

He said the interested persons in the East Liverpool - Wellsville area were advised on the procedure to follow in future cases of pollution. They were told to attempt to ascertain the source, collect samples of the oil, take photographs and contact the nearest Coast Guard unit or a unit of the Corps of Engineers, the admiral reported.

Glenmoor Area Man Fined On 2 Charges

Regis J. Burns, 34, of Swaney Airport near Glenmoor was fined a total of $75 on two traffic charges by County Judge Herbert Arfman at East Palestine Monday.

Burns was fined $50 and costs —with $35 suspended — for driving with an unsafe vehicle. He was taken to the County Jail in lieu of payment.

Three Akron drivers for the Yankee Trucking Lines were fined a total of $239 and costs each on charges of overload and overweight.

In Local Fund Campaigns

Firm Gives 'United' Way

In response to the current Community Fund campaign, employes of the Hall China Co. have set up what they call a "United Charities Fund".

John Thompson (center), company treasurer, and Elmer Robinson (right), chairman of the Master Shop Committee, are shown turning over a check for $3,662 to the fund, representing the combined gifts of company and employes. William Hocking Jr., co-chairman of the campaign's Industrial Division, was present to accept the contribution. He said the gift brings the over-all drive total to $54,700, or better than 70 per cent of the goal of $77,600.

According to Thompson, more than 50 per cent of the company's employes have signed up to date for the payroll deduction plan of contributing through the "United Charities" fund. However, he emphasized that more than 60 per cent have contributed to the Community Fund campaign.

Set up on a smaller, but similar plan to that of Crucible Steel's "Combined Charities Fund", a committee of Hall China employes will apportion gifts throughout the year to stipulated charities. Thompson reported that the plan was "well received" by employes and company officials alike.

"We expect the "united" plan of giving to save both time and money for all of us at Hall China," he said. "Through budgeted payroll deductions, it gives our employes a less painful way to fulfill obligations to all local fund campaigns and eliminates the need for duplicate giving at their homes, since each participant in the plan will have an identifying card. We also feel the plan will save countless hours on the part of campaign workers in the future, since a canvass of individuals will not be necessary. We recommend that other businesses investigate the merits of the plan and shall be glad to discuss details of its operation."

Fund-Raising Events

Auto Show And Cake Sale Planned By City Jaycees

Plans for two future fund-raising projects were outlined at a meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The board approved plans for an Auto Show sometime in December. Frank Potts, ways and means chairman, said about 34 of 40 possible spaces at the former American Paper Products plant on Walnut St. have been sold to various dealers and agencies.

Dick Cherry, chairman, reported the annual fruit cake sale will get under way soon. He said the committee will sell the same brand as last year.

Ronald Garland of Wyoming Ave. was accepted as a new member.

Paul Zehnder, chairman, reported plans have been started for the annual Bosses Night banquet in January.

Robert Lewis said he has checked with local school officials on the arrangements for setting up a citizens scholarship fund. Plans call for asking for donations from all residents of the city. The fund would be administered by a Board of Directors to be set up later.

H. James Allison reported 10 couples have been signed for the chartered bus to Youngstown for the All-State meeting dinner Sunday, Nov. 19. He said newly-formed Convention Club plans to construct floats for various merchants in town for the annual Christmas parade Friday, Nov. 24.

About 25 units have been signed for the Yule parade. Paul Seckman is chairman. The board voted to enter a float.

Letters requesting donations for the annual Toys-for-Tots program will be sent out soon. Other plans for obtaining toys for needy children also were discussed. Russell Brown is chairman.

The get-out-the-vote committee will conduct a mock election today in the high school. Debates on various issues were held yesterday. The committee is providing mock ballots for the students. They will vote on the same issues as in the general election. Alfred Fricano is chairman.

It was reported all arrangements are set for the election returns project tonight.

Fires

Minor injuries to 10 firemen in the Bel-Air fire were reported.

More than 2,000 persons had been evacuated from one of the nation's richest residential areas. Residents leaving the area with armloads of possessions, leading horses, pets and children, suggested refugees fleeing from war.

Magnates, movie stars, school children and housewives fled from homes and classrooms to escape the blaze Monday. Fire officials called it the most damaging in Southern California history.

Some of the movie stars' homes reportedly cost more than $100,000.

The main fire is in rugged, mountainous terrain extending westward to the sea and dividing the San Fernando Valley from Los Angeles and its western suburbs. The sprawling blaze is roughly 10 miles northwest of downtown Los Angeles and three miles northwest of Beverly Hills. Brentwood, Bel-Air and the Hollywood hills are suburban communities.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown declared Los Angeles County a disaster area.

The city fire department said it counted more than 200 homes destroyed—many valued at more than $100,000 each. A public information officer for the department said the total "easily could go as high as 300."

Post Donates To Yearbook

A contribution of $20 for the South Side Athletic Association for sponsoring a yearbook was approved by the Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163 Monday night.

It was announced $25 has been contributed to the Chester High School band for a trip Oct. 27 to St. Marys.

Archie West, second vice commander, reported Christmas and New Year decorations have been purchased and Graven Lyle, service officer, reported a canopy has been installed over the side entrance of the home.

Charles Huffman, Americanism officer, suggested a formal flag burning and post-everlasting ceremony to be held for the post anniversary in March. Plans will be furthered at later meetings.

The auxiliary was granted permission to use the home Nov. 17 for a spaghetti supper, and the Cherokee 4-H Club will use the hall for a Christmas party in December.

Kenneth Garey was named Legionnaire of the Month and will receive a Legion jacket. Lunch was served 27 by Dewey Price and committee.

2 Shooting Case Witnesses Fined

Two Waterford Park race track employes, held in jail on open charges since a companion and an East End man were wounded Friday night in a struggle over a shotgun, were fined $30 and costs each Monday in Municipal Court.

Ralph Turner of Grove City near Columbus and Richard Willard, who listed the race track address, drew the fines when arraigned before Acting Judge Paul Tobin on disorderly conduct charges.

The pair admitted they were intoxicated but denied they were involved in the fight which led to the wounding of Turner's brother, Lawrence, and Joseph Moss, 503 Virginia Ave., authorities said.

Moss is free on a $65 property bond pending a hearing on a fighting charge to which he pleaded innocent yesterday. Lawrence Turner remains in City Hospital with wounds suffered in the shooting while he and Moss allegedly struggled over the shotgun.

Wells High's Band Given Parade O.K.

Permission for Wells High School's marching band to participate in East Liverpool's annual Christmas parade Nov. 24 was granted Monday night by the Hancock County Board of Education at a meeting in New Cumberland.

The board also approved a request of Principal E. R. Slack for Mrs. Carol Cameron and three students to attend a Y-Teen conference Friday through Sunday at Jacksons Mills.

Students attending from Wells High will be Elizabeth Hupp, Marilyn Mills and Karen Duncan.

Mrs. Charles French of Chester was employed as an instructional aide for Chester Central School. Miss Suzanne Walls and Miss Margaret Ann Blattler were also employed as elementary teachers.

Miss Walls probably will be assigned to Liberty School in Weirton where experimental classes are underway in teaching French to fourth, fifth, and sixth graders through educational TV station WQED, Channel 13, of Pittsburgh.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Janet Decker of Cove Junior High in Weirton.

Russell Sole, co-ordinator of Weir High School's vocational training program, was authorized to attend a vocational meeting Thursday and Friday at Cedar Lake.

Weir High School's band was authorized to appear in an auto show parade in Steubenville Nov. 24.

Dr. W. Dale Williams, president, presided. Next meeting is Nov. 20.

4 Are Killed And 9 Hurt In Carrier Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Flames flashed through the machinery room of the hard-luck U.S.S. Constellation, taking the lives of four men and injuring nine others as the sleek new aircraft carrier cruised on its trial run.

The Navy said the ship—hit by a major blaze in drydock that killed 50 men last December—suffered only minor damage in Monday's fire. The blaze broke out when fuel oil apparently was accidentally sprayed onto a hot steam line.

The dead were identified as:

All the injured were Navy enlisted men, none in critical condition.

Steinbuch survived the Dec. 19 fire which delayed completion of the 77,000-ton carrier seven months and tacked an estimated $47 million onto the original 275 cost.

Monday's fire was under control within 10 minutes, Capt. Thomas J. Walker of Edgartown, Mass., commanding officer, said in a statement released by the Pentagon.

The Navy said "the apparent cause of the fire was the failure of a fuel oil service pump release valve which permitted a flange to separate spraying fuel oil on a 1100 degree (Fahrenheit) steam line."

25 Attend Father-Son Event Of Church Men

Twenty-five attended the "Father-Son Night" observance held Monday by the Methodist Men of the Orchard Grove Methodist Church.

Ray Peduzzi, assistant East Liverpool High School football coach, was guest speaker. He also screened films of local games.

Fred Hopper and Charles Jackson were in charge of the program, according to Richard Weston, publicity chairman.

Nebo Grange Plans Meeting Wednesday

LISBON — The Mt. Nebo Grange will meet Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the Grange Hall and the lecturer's program will be on citizenship. Charles L. Morlan, master, will preside.

Thanksgiving Rites Set

Ministers At Wellsville Elect Rev. Arden Beck

New officers were elected for the coming year and plans outlined for union Thanksgiving services at a meeting of the Wellsville Area Ministerial Association Monday morning at the Central Federal Savings & Loan Association building.

The Rev. Arden Beck, pastor of the First Methodist Church, was named president to succeed the Rev. William A. Hewitt of the Central Methodist Church. Rev. Beck now is serving as vice president - treasurer.

Other officers named were the Rev. James Sanko of the Riverside United Presbyterian Church, vice president - treasurer, and Robert Andrews, minister of the First Christian Church, secretary.

The union Thanksgiving service will be Nov. 23 at 10 a. m. at the First Methodist Church. The Rev. Bruce Davis of the Covenant United Presbyterian Church will speak.

Rev. Beck is general chairman and will arrange for special music. He will delegate the duties of other members of the association.

A free-will offering will be taken. Half will be retained by the association to defray expenses for the annual Leadership Training School and the remainder will go to CROP — the Christian Rural Overseas Program of Relief.

Rev. Beck conducted devotions, using Ps. 24. Andrews offered prayer. Reports were heard from Rev. Sanko, secretary, and Rev. Beck, treasurer.

A letter was read from Thomas Hammerton, chairman of the Protestant committee on scouting in the Columbiana Boy Scout Council, on financial support given for chaplain services at Camp Twin Spruce. Rev. Hewitt, a member of the committee, reported on the last meeting he attended.

Rev. Beck was directed to send a book as a gift to the Rev. James Lassiter, a former member of the association now in Youngstown.

REV. ARDEN BECK
Succeeds Rev. William Hewitt.

Rev. Hewitt was elected to check with radio station WOHI on the possibility of taping meditations to be used in emergency situations when ministers cannot be present.

Rev. Sanko was named to plan for observance of National Youth Week in January. A play, "The Most Beautiful Night" (Young), will be presented on WOHI.

Andrews will investigate the possibility of having a sign erected at the entrances to the city, offering a welcome from the churches.

The association purchased a $15 Christmas Seal tuberculosis certificate. Schedules were reviewed for visitations to rest homes, the high school and City Council devotions.

Bennett D. Taylor Jr. of Lisbon, Columbiana Boy Scout Council executive, was guest speaker. His topic was "The Relationship of Scouting to the Local Church."

Next meeting is Dec. 4.

Area Officers Elected

United Presbyterian Men Conduct Wellsville Rally

Sixty attended the annual fall rally of the United Presbyterian Men of the Steubenville Presbytery Sunday afternoon at the Riverside United Presbyterian Church at Wellsville. New officers were elected.

They were installed by the Rev. David Thomas.

Leslie Rhinehart of Carrollton, out-going president of men's work in the Steubenville Presbytery, conducted the session. The Rev. James D. Sanko, host pastor, was in charge of registration.

The Rev. David Lee Thomas of Carrollton conducted devotions on the parable of the prodigal son in Luke 15:11-32.

The Rev. Harry Eberts of the First church at Wooster, former moderator of the Synod of Ohio, spoke on "The Nature of Our Ministry Today." Asking, "Has the day of the Presbyterian passed?", he discussed present - day attitudes and ideas with those of John Calvin, father of Presbyterianism. Rev. Eberts is considered an expert on Calvinistic theology.

"Whether or not the day of the Presbyterian has passed depends greatly on the appreciation of the contrast we have made and see in contemporary church life," he said.

A panel discussion followed on the question of the ministry today. The panelists were Rev. Sanko, Rev. Eberts and the Rev. George Jenkins, Presbytery executive, and three laymen, Ray Munsee of Steubenville, George Osterman of Minerva and John Hastine of Uhrichsville.

Rev. Jenkins made the summation. Dinner was served 55 by the Women's Association of the host church under the direction of Mrs. Betty Bright, president. The Junior-Senior High United Presbyterian Youth Group assisted in the preparation and serving of the meal.

Salineville Club Elects Officers

Mrs. Olive Bridge has been elected president of the Hilltoppers Club of Salineville. Mrs. Francis Wilson is secretary-treasurer.

A dinner party is planned at Kellogg's Restaurant in December. Mrs. Erna Pastore will be hostess for the next meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Maher of High St. visited Sunday with their daughter, Sister St. Joseph, of Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. James Whelan and family and Mrs. Emma Whelan visited at Cleveland Sunday.

Miss Gladys Jewell of Cleveland was a weekend guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Jewell.

William Stephens of School House Hill has returned from City Hospital, where he was a patient.

Indented individual sponge cakes, available at many markets, may be used for Baked Alaska. Fill the indentations in six of the cakes with ice cream and cover with a meringue made from two egg whites, three tablespoons sugar, a dash of salt and a little vanilla. Make sure the meringue completely covers the ice cream and bake in a hot oven just until the toping is tinged golden brown.

Newell Lions Assign Tasks

Chairmen for future projects were named by Leonard Copestick, president, at a dinner meeting of the Newell Lions Club Monday night in the Shamrock Restaurant.

Named for the club's annual Christmas basket project are Albert Logston, David Jester and J. Fred Allison.

The club sold over 200 packages of light bulbs last week for its sight conservation fund, and will continue later this week to solicit areas of the community not covered earlier.

Logston reported for the sight-saving committee.

Area Officer To Visit Chester Lions Club

C. E. Queen of Fairmont, governor of District 29-L, will visit the Chester Lions Club at a dinner meeting Thursday night at 6:30 at the First Christian Church.

Mrs. Lillian Wagner of Georgetown will present a musical program, "Make Mine Music."

Queen, owner of the Fairmont Motor Service, will advise club officers on administration and community service. Queen has served as zone chairman and deputy district governor.

Walter Jordan, president, will be in charge. John Abrams is program chairman.

a remonstrance petition which would have required 35 per cent of the qualified voters of both districts. However, if the petition contained 55 per cent of the voters of Franklin district, it would have qualified as a legal petition for a vote, the judge indicated.

Whether the whole Southern Local and former Franklin Local would vote on the consolidation of Franklin with East, Fox and Augusta districts in Carroll County, or whether just Franklin would vote, remained unclear, the judge yesterday pointing out that this matter was not at issue in the hearing.

MEANWHILE, electors of the newly-merged district voted today in a write-in election to pick five members of a Board of Education for the district — three for four-year terms and two for two-year terms.

In handing down his ruling yesterday, Judge Buzzard said he could find no legal stipulation on the length of time a merged area had to petition for a vote on a transfer to another district or county, but so long as their petition represented 55 per cent of the qualified voters, the petition must go to the Board of Elections to be certified.

Jack Baker, executive head of Southern-Franklin, said he asked the county board to establish a date for organization of the new interim board of the merged district.

AN ORGANIZATION meeting was slated last month, but was postponed because of the uncertainty surrounding the court issue. The interim board will serve until Jan. 3 when a board, elected by write-in votes today, will take office.

Mr. and Mrs. William Shipe and family of Washington, Pa., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Pitzer.

Mrs. Paul Morris and son, William, of Lisbon visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wright.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Bitner of Fairmont, W. Va., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gorby.

Mr. and Mrs. William Brown of Hymera, Ind., were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Locke and children of Weirton were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tullis.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morris and Mrs. Ruth Cope visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Evans of Columbus.

Seaman Charles Holsinger of Quonset Point, R. I., visited over the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Holsinger, and grandmother, Mrs. Essie McDonald.

Utility Will Ask Permission To Pass On Levies

The Monongahela Power Co. today announced it will seek Public Service Commission approval to pass along municipal gross sales taxes and other special taxes—such as that established at Weirton—to electric customers in the municipalities levying the taxes.

Don Potter, president of the utility, said the application will be filed Dec. 7. The action, he said, is made necessary by a growing tendency by municipalities to levy taxes on the electric company.

Potter said Monongehela Power has always favored civic improvements, and has been willing to pay its fair share of the cost of services. "The company does not propose to pass on directly to customers the property taxes, fire and police service fees and similar levies which are normal and proper."

However, he termed special utility taxes "inequitable," and said the Weirton tax is "highly discriminatory," being levied only against Monongehela and a gas supplier.

Wells High's Band Given Parade O.K.

Permission for Wells High School's marching band to participate in East Liverpool's annual Christmas parade Nov. 24 was granted Monday night by the Hancock County Board of Education at a meeting in New Cumberland.

The board also approved a request of Principal E. R. Slack for Mrs. Carol Cameron and three students to attend a Y-Teen conference Friday through Sunday at Jacksons Mills.

Students attending from Wells High will be Elizabeth Hupp, Marilyn Mills and Karen Duncan.

Mrs. Charles French of Chester was employed as an instructional aide for Chester Central School. Miss Suzanne Walls and Miss Margaret Ann Blattler were also employed as elementary teachers.

Miss Walls probably will be assigned to Liberty School in Weirton where experimental classes are underway in teaching French to fourth, fifth, and sixth graders through educational TV station WQED, Channel 13, of Pittsburgh.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Janet Decker of Cove Junior High in Weirton.

Russell Sole, co-ordinator of Weir High School's vocational training program, was authorized to attend a vocational meeting Thursday and Friday at Cedar Lake.

Weir High School's band was authorized to appear in an auto show parade in Steubenville Nov. 24.

Dr. W. Dale Williams, president, presided. Next meeting is Nov. 20.

4 Are Killed And 9 Hurt In Carrier Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Flames flashed through the machinery room of the hard-luck U.S.S. Constellation, taking the lives of four men and injuring nine others as the sleek new aircraft carrier cruised on its trial run.

The Navy said the ship—hit by a major blaze in drydock that killed 50 men last December—suffered only minor damage in Monday's fire. The blaze broke out when fuel oil apparently was accidentally sprayed onto a hot steam line.

The dead were identified as:

All the injured were Navy enlisted men, none in critical condition.

Steinbuch survived the Dec. 19 fire which delayed completion of the 77,000-ton carrier seven months and tacked an estimated $47 million onto the original 275 cost.

Monday's fire was under control within 10 minutes, Capt. Thomas J. Walker of Edgartown, Mass., commanding officer, said in a statement released by the Pentagon.

The Navy said "the apparent cause of the fire was the failure of a fuel oil service pump release valve which permitted a flange to separate spraying fuel oil on a 1100 degree (Fahrenheit) steam line."

25 Attend Father-Son Event Of Church Men

Twenty-five attended the "Father-Son Night" observance held Monday by the Methodist Men of the Orchard Grove Methodist Church.

Ray Peduzzi, assistant East Liverpool High School football coach, was guest speaker. He also screened films of local games.

Fred Hopper and Charles Jackson were in charge of the program, according to Richard Weston, publicity chairman.

Nebo Grange Plans Meeting Wednesday

LISBON — The Mt. Nebo Grange will meet Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the Grange Hall and the lecturer's program will be on citizenship. Charles L. Morlan, master, will preside.

The second meeting on 'Ohio's Future" will be held Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Aiken of Leetonia R. D. 1. The first meeting was held last Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morlan.

Thanksgiving Rites Set

Ministers At Wellsville Elect Rev. Arden Beck

New officers were elected for the coming year and plans outlined for union Thanksgiving services at a meeting of the Wellsville Area Ministerial Association Monday morning at the Central Federal Savings & Loan Association building.

REV. ARDEN BECK
Succeeds Rev. William Hewitt.

The Rev. Arden Beck, pastor of the First Methodist Church, was named president to succeed the Rev. William A. Hewitt of the Central Methodist Church. Rev. Beck now is serving as vice president - treasurer.

Other officers named were the Rev. James Sanko of the Riverside United Presbyterian Church, vice president - treasurer, and Robert Andrews, minister of the First Christian Church, secretary.

The union Thanksgiving service will be Nov. 23 at 10 a. m. at the First Methodist Church. The Rev. Bruce Davis of the Covenant United Presbyterian Church will speak.

Rev. Beck is general chairman and will arrange for special music. He will delegate the duties of other members of the association.

A free-will offering will be taken. Half will be retained by the association to defray expenses for the annual Leadership Training School and the remainder will go to CROP — the Christian Rural Overseas Program of Relief.

Rev. Beck conducted devotions, using Ps. 24. Andrews offered prayer. Reports were heard from Rev. Sanko, secretary, and Rev. Beck, treasurer.

A letter was read from Thomas Hammerton, chairman of the Protestant committee on scouting in the Columbiana Boy Scout Council, on financial support given for chaplain services at Camp Twin Spruce. Rev. Hewitt, a member of the committee, reported on the last meeting he attended.

Rev. Beck was directed to send a book as a gift to the Rev. James Lassiter, a former member of the association now in Youngstown.

Rev. Hewitt was elected to check with radio station WOHI on the possibility of taping meditations to be used in emergency situations when ministers cannot be present.

Rev. Sanko was named to plan for observance of National Youth Week in January. A play, "The Most Beautiful Night" (Young), will be presented on WOHI.

Andrews will investigate the possibility of having a sign erected at the entrances to the city, offering a welcome from the churches.

The association purchased a $15 Christmas Seal tuberculosis certificate. Schedules were reviewed for visitations to rest homes, the high school and City Council devotions.

Bennett D. Taylor Jr. of Lisbon, Columbiana Boy Scout Council executive, was guest speaker. His topic was "The Relationship of Scouting to the Local Church."

Next meeting is Dec. 4.

Area Officers Elected

United Presbyterian Men Conduct Wellsville Rally

Sixty attended the annual fall rally of the United Presbyterian Men of the Steubenville Presbytery Sunday afternoon at the Riverside United Presbyterian Church at Wellsville. New officers were elected.

They were installed by the Rev. David Thomas.

Leslie Rhinehart of Carrollton, out-going president of men's work in the Steubenville Presbytery, conducted the session. The Rev. James D. Sanko, host pastor, was in charge of registration.

The Rev. David Lee Thomas of Carrollton conducted devotions on the parable of the prodigal son in Luke 15:11-32.

The Rev. Harry Eberts of the First church at Wooster, former moderator of the Synod of Ohio, spoke on "The Nature of Our Ministry Today." Asking, "Has the day of the Presbyterian passed?", he discussed present - day attitudes and ideas with those of John Calvin, father of Presbyterianism. Rev. Eberts is considered an expert on Calvinistic theology.

"Whether or not the day of the Presbyterian has passed depends greatly on the appreciation of the contrast we have made and see in contemporary church life," he said.

A panel discussion followed on the question of the ministry today. The panelists were Rev. Sanko, Rev. Eberts and the Rev. George Jenkins, Presbytery executive, and three laymen, Ray Munsee of Steubenville, George Osterman of Minerva and John Hastine of Uhrichsville.

Rev. Jenkins made the summation. Dinner was served 55 by the Women's Association of the host church under the direction of Mrs. Betty Bright, president. The Junior-Senior High United Presbyterian Youth Group assisted in the preparation and serving of the meal.

Salineville Club Elects Officers

Mrs. Olive Bridge has been elected president of the Hilltoppers Club of Salineville. Mrs. Francis Wilson is secretary-treasurer.

A dinner party is planned at Kellogg's Restaurant in December. Mrs. Erna Pastore will be hostess for the next meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Maher of High St. visited Sunday with their daughter, Sister St. Joseph, of Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. James Whelan and family and Mrs. Emma Whelan visited at Cleveland Sunday.

Miss Gladys Jewell of Cleveland was a weekend guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Jewell.

William Stephens of School House Hill has returned from City Hospital, where he was a patient.

Indented individual sponge cakes, available at many markets, may be used for Baked Alaska. Fill the indentations in six of the cakes with ice cream and cover with a meringue made from two egg whites, three tablespoons sugar, a dash of salt and a little vanilla. Make sure the meringue completely covers the ice cream and bake in a hot oven just until the toping is tinged golden brown.

Out Of The Air

RICHARD K. DOAN

Howard K. Smith Departs

The departure of Howard K. Smith from CBS News was abrupt in its disclosure, but had been in the making for many months.

It was no secret in television news circles that the chief CBS Washington correspondent, who also was general manager of the network's Washington bureau, had been in periodial disagreement with his 20-year employer since early last year.

A long-time associate of Smith's told this writer, "We are surprised by the announcement that Howard was leaving, but it was not unexpected."

ALTHOUGH both Smith and CBS News steadfastly have refused to elaborate on the "difference in interpretation of CBS news policy," given as the reason for his leaving, it is known that Smith felt he should have greater liberties in interpreting news than the network was willing to permit.

A high-ranking CBS executive, even before last week's blowup, privately disclosed that the network was encountering difficulties with its chief Washington correspondent.

"Smith," he said, "has become so deeply concerned over three or four issues that he wants to talk about nothing else."

WHILE IT CANNOT be denied that Howard K. Smith has carved out a distinguished record as a radio and TV reporter and analyst — he probably holds more awards for his reporting than any newsman now on the air — his walkout in pursuance of what he obviously regards as a matter of principle reflects a perennial problem in broadcast journalism:

How far shall the networks, and stations also for that matter, permit newsmen to go in "interpreting" news?

It's a hard question. The complex nature of world developments nowadays seems to call for as much clarification and explanation as possible. And yet efforts in this direction frequently lead to interpretations reflecting the newsman's personal outlook.

Smith is an extremely capable hand who should not be lost to the TV news field — and that's editorializing — but perhaps it will be necessary one day soon for the networks to arrive at the formulation of policy which permits both interpretive reporting and editorial opinion.

Both would be useful, but both also need clearly to be defined.

Lias Defeated In Money Case

WHEELING (AP) — U. S. District Judge Charles F. Paul has set tentatively for Friday a conference to implement a jury finding that $63,756 belonged to William G. (Big Bill) Lias and not to members of his family.

A federal court jury yesterday awarded that amount — slightly more than half of the $126,442 on deposit in Canadian banks that was in question — to the federal government.

Lias contended the money belonged to his wife and children, but the government wanted it all to help settle the prohibition era figure's monumental tax bill that now ranges to about $2 million, including interest.

The trial lasted six days. Neither side indicated whether an appeal would be made. Judge Paul gave both sides 10 days in which to file any written motions.

Chester Mothers Plan Grid Dinner

Final plans for the annual Chester High School varisty football banquet Nov. 18 were made at a meeting of the Football and Basketball Mothers Monday night with Mrs. Charles Taylor of Florida Ave., president.

Mrs. Taylor named committee chairmen for the event to be held at the Masonic Temple. They are Mrs. Mildred Jarvis and Mrs. Paul Clunk, diningroom, and Mrs. Donald Hissam and Mrs. Taylor, kitchen.

Lunch was served 14 by Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. William Mackall. A Christmas party and gift exchange will be held at the meeting Dec. 4 with Mrs. Taylor.

New Regulation Issued

West Virginia Tax Law Is Clarified For Schools

CHARLESTON (AP) — Tax Commissioner C. Howard Hardesty Jr. has clarified for West Virginia school officials the consumers' sales tax law as it concerns the state's schools.

In issuing a new regulation, Hardesty said receipts of the tax from the schools should triple. Last fiscal year, they totaled about $170,000.

Hardesty said the regulation will mean smaller tax remittances by schools that have in the past been collecting the levy on all taxable activities. Only a minority has done so.

The commissioner's regulation is an outgrowth of Parkersburg High School's efforts to get its tax bill revised downward. The Tax Department sought to recover about $3,000 in back taxes plus $1,000 in penalties from Parkersburg High After a hearing, the department's contention held up, except that Hardesty allowed the school's claim that yearbook sales to students should not be taxed.

This, plus the waiver of penalties, reduced the Parkersburg High assessment to about $2,500, Consumers' Sales Tax Chief Max Bunn said.

The regulation provides that tickets to interscholastic athletic events, whether purchased by students or outsiders, will be taxable. But tickets bought by pupils for such inside events as a class play are exempt. Tickets sold to parents will be subject to the levy, however.

Also exempt will be school newspapers and yearbooks compiled by students and sold to students. Yearbook sales were taxable under the old regulation.

Among taxable items are goods sold at concession stands, snack bars and bookstores, except textbooks and related materials; class jewelry and allied items; food, except sales to students in schools as part of a non-profit hot lunch program; sales by and activities of PTA and booster groups, and yearbooks and newspapers sold to non-students.

Exempt transactions include locker, clothing and equipment rental, where the property belongs to the school and is furnished solely to students; and class dues and library fines.

Hardesty's directive instructs the schools to file within 60 days returns covering back taxes due for the preceeding five years. Penalties for back taxes will be waived.

Schools that paid taxes this year on items that are not now taxable would be entitled to refunds, Hardesty said.

Not Allowed On Lenin Stand

Former Soviet President Rebuffed At Celebration

MOSCOW (AP)—Former President Klementi Y. Voroshilov was rebuffed today when he tried to force himself onto the Lenin mausoleum reviewing stand for the parade celebrating the 44th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

The 80-year-old marshal, who has been among those taking the salute from atop the tomb every year since the parades began, was denounced at the recent 22nd congress of the Soviet Communist party as a Stalinist.

He apologized for his sins and Premier Khrushchev said he forgave him. But forgiveness did not get him his former place of honor overlooking Red Square.

Dressed in a black overcoat and a black astrakhan hat, Voroshilov moved slowly through the square just before the parade began. An officer in the elaborate blue and gold uniform of the Moscow garrison barred his way near the entrance to the tomb. The marshal argued and gesticulated broadly. The officer just kept shrugging his shoulders.

Eventually the old marshal, a former army commander, was allowed to enter the tomb. There he argued again with men in civilian clothes.

After a few minutes he was escorted out by two men in dark blue overcoats and green plush hats, the usual uniform of the secret police.

Voroshilov was taken to a spot near the tomb where a middle-aged woman in a white uniform was selling ice cream. One of the green-hatted men stayed with him as he watched the parade from there.

As soon as Voroshilov was disposed of, Khrushchev and the other members of the Presidium mounted to the top of the tomb to take the salute.

The Soviet defense minister, Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, made the keynote speech in which he boasted as usual that the Soviet Union now has weapons 'powerful enough to smash any aggressor."

Celebrezze Steps Into Dispute In Building Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze has stepped in to keep the two sides negotiating a labor dispute that has idled 125 big building projects in Cuyahoga and surrounding counties for nearly a month.

Representatives of employer groups and Ironworkers Union Local 17 met Monday for seven hours in City Hall, but no progress was reported toward ending the strike-lockout that started Oct. 9.

Thomas E. McDonald, head of Local 17, said an impasse had been reached.

He met with representatives of three contractor associations—the Cleveland Building Trades Employers Association, the Associated General Contractors of America and the Steel and Iron Contractors Association. Spokesmen for these groups said if giving McDonald everything he asks for means impasse, "then it is an impasse."

TV Commercials 'Leave A Mark'

The daughter wanted to know how the parent arrived at this conclusion.

"The skunk left its odor," the mother explained.

The child pondered the problem and then asked, "was it roll-on or from a spray can?"

Diamondback Rattler Doesn't Always Rattle

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Contrary to popular belief, the Eastern Diamondback rattlesnake, largest and most poisonous viper native to North America, doesn't always sound a warning before he strikes.

Another belief — that he has to be coiled to strike — also is not true.

The rattler usually buzzes the horny rattles at the end of his tail before striking, but he sometimes neglects to do so. And he can launch his incredibly fast lunge from any position.

Girls, 4, 5, Unharmed In Kidnap Case

"I've got a secret. It's our secret. Don't tell anybody. We'll go out and get some candy. Your mommy and daddy said it's all right for you to go."

He walked out of the party room with Marissa Schneider, 5, and her step-sister, Tammy West, 4. The girls' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schneider, were touring the class rooms. A janitress, left in charge of the playroom, had gone to the ladies' room.

Both little girls were recovered unharmed. The abductor, described as a man in his late 30s, told Tammy to go back to the school when they were about a block away.

Tammy was found standing at the intersection. She said the man put Marissa in a car and drove off.

Almost an hour later, Mrs. Frances Stidham found Marissa standing by the entrance of a cemetery. The little girl said the man had gone to get her candy and she was waiting for him to come back. Mrs. Stidham said she was cold and crying.

She took the child to nearby North Fairmont Grade School—where she herself had been attending an open house party—and a police cruiser rushed up to return Marissa to her frantic parents at Westwood, two miles away.

Howard K. Smith Departs

The departure of Howard K. Smith from CBS News was abrupt in its disclosure, but had been in the making for many months.

It was no secret in television news circles that the chief CBS Washington correspondent, who also was general manager of the network's Washington bureau, had been in periodial disagreement with his 20-year employer since early last year.

A long-time associate of Smith's told this writer, "We are surprised by the announcement that Howard was leaving, but it was not unexpected."

ALTHOUGH both Smith and CBS News steadfastly have refused to elaborate on the "difference in interpretation of CBS news policy," given as the reason for his leaving, it is known that Smith felt he should have greater liberties in interpreting news than the network was willing to permit.

A high-ranking CBS executive, even before last week's blowup, privately disclosed that the network was encountering difficulties with its chief Washington correspondent.

"Smith," he said, "has become so deeply concerned over three or four issues that he wants to talk about nothing else."

WHILE IT CANNOT be denied that Howard K. Smith has carved out a distinguished record as a radio and TV reporter and analyst — he probably holds more awards for his reporting than any newsman now on the air — his walkout in pursuance of what he obviously regards as a matter of principle reflects a perennial problem in broadcast journalism:

How far shall the networks, and stations also for that matter, permit newsmen to go in "interpreting" news?

It's a hard question. The complex nature of world developments nowadays seems to call for as much clarification and explanation as possible. And yet efforts in this direction frequently lead to interpretations reflecting the newsman's personal outlook.

Smith is an extremely capable hand who should not be lost to the TV news field — and that's editorializing — but perhaps it will be necessary one day soon for the networks to arrive at the formulation of policy which permits both interpretive reporting and editorial opinion.

Both would be useful, but both also need clearly to be defined.

New Regulation Issued

West Virginia Tax Law Is Clarified For Schools

CHARLESTON (AP) — Tax Commissioner C. Howard Hardesty Jr. has clarified for West Virginia school officials the consumers' sales tax law as it concerns the state's schools.

In issuing a new regulation, Hardesty said receipts of the tax from the schools should triple. Last fiscal year, they totaled about $170,000.

Hardesty said the regulation will mean smaller tax remittances by schools that have in the past been collecting the levy on all taxable activities. Only a minority has done so.

The commissioner's regulation is an outgrowth of Parkersburg High School's efforts to get its tax bill revised downward. The Tax Department sought to recover about $3,000 in back taxes plus $1,000 in penalties from Parkersburg High After a hearing, the department's contention held up, except that Hardesty allowed the school's claim that yearbook sales to students should not be taxed.

This, plus the waiver of penalties, reduced the Parkersburg High assessment to about $2,500, Consumers' Sales Tax Chief Max Bunn said.

The regulation provides that tickets to interscholastic athletic events, whether purchased by students or outsiders, will be taxable. But tickets bought by pupils for such inside events as a class play are exempt. Tickets sold to parents will be subject to the levy, however.

Also exempt will be school newspapers and yearbooks compiled by students and sold to students. Yearbook sales were taxable under the old regulation.

Among taxable items are goods sold at concession stands, snack bars and bookstores, except textbooks and related materials; class jewelry and allied items; food, except sales to students in schools as part of a non-profit hot lunch program; sales by and activities of PTA and booster groups, and yearbooks and newspapers sold to non-students.

Exempt transactions include locker, clothing and equipment rental, where the property belongs to the school and is furnished solely to students; and class dues and library fines.

Hardesty's directive instructs the schools to file within 60 days returns covering back taxes due for the preceeding five years. Penalties for back taxes will be waived.

Schools that paid taxes this year on items that are not now taxable would be entitled to refunds, Hardesty said.

Former Soviet President Rebuffed At Celebration

MOSCOW (AP)—Former President Klementi Y. Voroshilov was rebuffed today when he tried to force himself onto the Lenin mausoleum reviewing stand for the parade celebrating the 44th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

The 80-year-old marshal, who has been among those taking the salute from atop the tomb every year since the parades began, was denounced at the recent 22nd congress of the Soviet Communist party as a Stalinist.

He apologized for his sins and Premier Khrushchev said he forgave him. But forgiveness did not get him his former place of honor overlooking Red Square.

Dressed in a black overcoat and a black astrakhan hat, Voroshilov moved slowly through the square just before the parade began. An officer in the elaborate blue and gold uniform of the Moscow garrison barred his way near the entrance to the tomb. The marshal argued and gesticulated broadly. The officer just kept shrugging his shoulders.

Eventually the old marshal, a former army commander, was allowed to enter the tomb. There he argued again with men in civilian clothes.

After a few minutes he was escorted out by two men in dark blue overcoats and green plush hats, the usual uniform of the secret police.

Voroshilov was taken to a spot near the tomb where a middle-aged woman in a white uniform was selling ice cream. One of the green-hatted men stayed with him as he watched the parade from there.

The Soviet defense minister, Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, made the keynote speech in which he boasted as usual that the Soviet Union now has weapons 'powerful enough to smash any aggressor."

Celebrezze Steps Into Dispute In Building Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze has stepped in to keep the two sides negotiating a labor dispute that has idled 125 big building projects in Cuyahoga and surrounding counties for nearly a month.

Representatives of employer groups and Ironworkers Union Local 17 met Monday for seven hours in City Hall, but no progress was reported toward ending the strike-lockout that started Oct. 9.

Thomas E. McDonald, head of Local 17, said an impasse had been reached.

He met with representatives of three contractor associations—the Cleveland Building Trades Employers Association, the Associated General Contractors of America and the Steel and Iron Contractors Association. Spokesmen for these groups said if giving McDonald everything he asks for means impasse, "then it is an impasse."

TV Commercials 'Leave A Mark'

Diamondback Rattler Doesn't Always Rattle

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Contrary to popular belief, the Eastern Diamondback rattlesnake, largest and most poisonous viper native to North America, doesn't always sound a warning before he strikes.

Another belief — that he has to be coiled to strike — also is not true.

The rattler usually buzzes the horny rattles at the end of his tail before striking, but he sometimes neglects to do so. And he can launch his incredibly fast lunge from any position.

Girls, 4, 5, Unharmed In Kidnap Case

"I've got a secret. It's our secret. Don't tell anybody. We'll go out and get some candy. Your mommy and daddy said it's all right for you to go."

He walked out of the party room with Marissa Schneider, 5, and her step-sister, Tammy West, 4. The girls' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schneider, were touring the class rooms. A janitress, left in charge of the playroom, had gone to the ladies' room.

Both little girls were recovered unharmed. The abductor, described as a man in his late 30s, told Tammy to go back to the school when they were about a block away.

Almost an hour later, Mrs. Frances Stidham found Marissa standing by the entrance of a cemetery. The little girl said the man had gone to get her candy and she was waiting for him to come back. Mrs. Stidham said she was cold and crying.

She took the child to nearby North Fairmont Grade School—where she herself had been attending an open house party—and a police cruiser rushed up to return Marissa to her frantic parents at Westwood, two miles away.

Baby Should Be Fed 'Slow And Easy'

Thanks to the guidance of the pediatrician (baby doctor) and the printed information available, most mothers know what foods are wholesome for the baby and tot. Far fewer have the skill at cultivating in him enjoyment of such foods. If the youngster doesn't want the food offered him, or as much of any food as the mother supposes he should have, she's likely to push it into him, as if she were putting it into a pan or machine. In doing so, she overlooks the fact that the youngster does the eating; that the more often she tries to force food into him the less he wants or enjoys it.

Dr. Garry Meyers

SO, BEGINNING with the bottle, if your baby turns his head and tightens his jaws as you offer more of it, put the bottle out of sight. If he doesn't want much or any of the milk for a few successive feedings, consult your pediatrician.

As you introduce strained, semi-solid foods from a sterilized can or from what you have prepared, dip the tip of the spoon in the broth and put it slowly, gently to his lips. Because of its strangeness, the baby may make grimaces and turn his mouth away. Another gentle application may cause him to accept it; still another, to like it.

If, instead, he grows more resistant, try no further. At a later feeding, try him again with this same food or another one.

IF, BY AND BY, enough of the food is on the tip of the spoon to be visible, be sure the portion is hardly bigger than a pea. Then if the baby likes it, you may be tempted to put too much on the spoon, to feed him faster and faster, even to push it into him after he has had as much as he wants. Before long he may eject the food from his mouth or even gag.

If you cram his mouth full of food, many a youngster under one or two years of age may not chew or swallow it. How many mothers write of the youngster who holds food in his mouth!

A good rule is to quit offering more of any kind of food the baby has seemed to like at the first sign he wants no more of it. Aim to keep him hungry, to vary the attractive semi-solid foods you offer him and not to press on him more of it than he will enjoy. Let "Slow and easy" be your slogan.

AS SOON AS your child begins teething, or has a few teeth, provide him with a teething ring or the like to chew on, or a safe chicken bone to gnaw on, or bits of cracker or hard toast he can pick up with his fingers. Ample, early chewing exercise will prove useful to him later for enjoying food.

My bulletin "Eating Problems: Their Prevention and Solution" may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Charter Arrives For Church Club

The Christian Followers of Christ Civics Club of St. Aloysius Parochial School has received its official charter from the Commission on American Citizenship in Washington, D. C

The charter formally recognizes affiliation of the local unit, comprised of eighth graders, with the national organization at the Catholic University of America.

Officers of the newly - organized club include Patricia Meadows, president; William Patrick, vice president; Pamela Archer, recording secretary; Lynn Connell, treasurer and corresponding secretary, and Michael McKinnon, sergeant-at-arms.

This year's program theme is "Your Family In Today's World."

Mrs. Mary Jane Frontone of the Ohio State Employment Service will speak at a meeting Wednesday afternoon. Sister Mary Cylene, school principal, and the seventh graders will be guests.

Slight Increase Seen In Claims Of Jobless

Unemployment claims totaled 536 for the week ending last Saturday, an increase of two over the previous week, Harry L. Dinsmore, manager of the Ohio State Employment Service office, said today.

Dinsmore said the breakdown showed 420 claims filed under the state law and 116 under the federal extension.

The breakdown listed 65 new claims and 355 continuing claims processed under the regular program and 11 new and 105 continuing received under the federal extension.

Broadcasting Firm Seeks Stay Of Order

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Crosley Broadcasting Co. is petitioning the Federal Communications Commission for a stay of an order to transfer Channel 13 at Indianapolis from WLW-I to WIBC, Inc.

The order was issued Oct. 27. It is to go into effect Nov. 30.

Crosley contends awarding the channel to WIBC would not provide more diversity in news broadcasts and programming in the Indianapolis area because WIBC owns several radio stations there. Crosley operates television stations at Cincinnati, Dayton and Columbus.

Poor Diet Leads To Trouble

"I have reduced from 210 to 183 pounds but I can't go any lower. If I eat one good meal I seem to gain three to four pounds. I can only lose by almost starving. I'm 5 feet 7 tall and I'm 26 years old, and have four children.

Ida Jean Kain

"A friend who started reducing at 240 is now down to 170 pounds. She is 5 feet 7 tall and 27 years old. She barely eats one good meal a day. We surely need help and some encouragement."

Something is seriously wrong. It is obvious that you are not including adequate protein, minerals and vitamins in your diet and this false gain represents an edema. A safe reducing diet is deficient in one respect only—calories.

THE BODY has no effective reserve of protein, minerals and vitamins to draw upon. When your daily diet fails to furnish these vital nutrients the body feeds on itself! You are suffering from malnutrition. See your doctor. . . without delay.

It is so foolish to half - starve your body. Change the character of your diet so as to step up the protein, iron and proteetive nutrients.

You will lose fat faster and feel infinitely better if you build each meal around a protein food of good quality — lean meat, fish or fowl, eggs, cheese, cottage cheese, plus skim milk or buttermilk for needed calcium. Be sure to include vegetables and fruits in your daily menus.

The young mothers who have a family to look after need more than 1,000 calories a day. On a 1,200 calorie diet, made up of the protective foods, you will feel peppy and happy and lose a pound or two a week.

Eat three balanced meals a day and restrict your dinnertime calories to 450. It's fattening practice to slight food during the active part of the day and overeat at dinner, for late day calories are more likely to be stored.

THE CHOOSE To Lose Diet leaflet gives a pattern by which meals can be planned. It is not so much a diet as it is a way of eating to reduce.

By applying the science of nutrition to meal planning, you can be on the best diet possible and lose on schedule. You want to reduce excess fat, you do not want to endanger your health.

You two girls are going about reducing in a foolish, even dangerous way. Get your nutrition back on the beam without delay.

Send a stamped, self - addressed, long envelope to "Choose To Lose Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

A Break And Statistics . . .

As the seconds ticked away Saturday night at Patterson Field, it became more and more apparent that the team which received that first big break might come out with a victory in the titantic struggle which developed between Beaver Local and Wellsville.

The breaking point finally came late in the fourth quarter of the hard-fought contest. The 15-yard personal foul penalty assessed against Wellsville was the break that was needed.

Coach Jack O'Rourke's team was way in front statistic-wise. Beaver Local had the Tigers outdistanced 11-1 in first downs and gained 211 to 56 yards on the ground

Both lines played outstanding defensive ball. This is emphasized by the number of punts. There were 10 in all, six by Wellsville and four by Beaver Local, as the offense on both sides ran out of gas on several occasions.

THE SURPRISE of the game was fullback George Gaydos. Maybe this is exaggerating some, but Gaydos probably carried more and gained more yards in the Wellsville game than he did all season.

This was part of O'Rourke's strategy since Hoppel and Possage had been the alternating ball cariers through the first eight games.

Gaydos answered the challenge and probably gave the best performance of his high school carrer. He gained over 100 yards.

Pittsburgh Rens—Impressive . . .

WHEN YOU see Pittsburgh's new Civic Auditorium, if you are anything like us, it probably will take the first half of a Pittsburgh Ren basketball game or the first period of a Pittsburgh Hornet Hockey game to get over the beauty and vastness of the indoor sports arena.

It is outstanding structure and every seat in the place is a good one. We saw it for the first time Sunday night when the Rens opened the new American Basketball League with an impressive 87-82 victory over a good Cleveland Piper outfit.

If the American League follows the pattern of Sunday's game, which was basketball as we like it, it won't compare with the NBA. The scores in the NBA are much higher in what is a "shooting contest," but the new ABL seems to be a more exciting brand of ball.

Defense is played in the American League and instead of the offensive team having to shoot within 24 seconds the new loop has upped it to 30 seconds.

The league also uses the three-point rule for any goal scored outside a certain area, which extends outside the foul circle. A player is awarded three points for a bucket from that area.

WE TALKED to John McLenden, the Pipers' coach, about Bevo Francis. The ex-Wellsville and Rio Grande star is still with the Pipers, but did not make the trip to Pittsburgh Sunday.

He probably will dress for Cleveland's home games. An American League team is allowed to keep 12 players of the first month of the season.

GEORGE PATTERSON, the former Toledo U. star, and Walt Mangham of New Castle and Marquette University, who both played in the Tri-State tournaments in East Liverpool last spring, are members of the Rens. It was Patterson's 10 points in the second half which sparked the Pittsburgh Club Sunday.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

THE HIGH quality of Ohio Valley scholastic football will be subjected to considerable attention in a Life magazine article sometime next year.

Mark Kaufman, a top sports photographer, covered the Martins Ferry - Steubenville Big Red game recently on an assignment for a magazine feature dealing with sociological aspects of high school football.

According to Bill Van Horne, sports editor ohtfe Martins Ferry Times - Leader, the magazine apparently felt that the quality of Ohio Valley football is just as good as at Massillon and Western Pennsylvania, but has not received as much publicity.

Incidentally, Martins Ferry has won 29 games in succession and has not been defeated in its last 32 starts. The Ferrians boast two strong All-Ohio candidates in fullback Larry Duck, 216-pounds, and halfback Vic Rose.

GENE BELL, who led the district in scoring when he was an All-Ohio back on the 1955 undefeated Potter team, is a regular on his base team in Korea.

Gene, a speedster for the Potters, is playing at halfback. He has scored four touchdowns so far this season.

BILL SOUTHAN, formerly of East Liverpool and now of Columbus, passed along an article to us that appeared in the Varsity "O" magazine from Ohio State and a Columbus newspaper.

It predicted there will be no Ohio State football tickets for the public five years from now. It points out that at present there are 27,500 students at Ohio State and the Alumni and others must be taken care of.

Advance student - faculty sale this year reached a new high of 30,925 and the paid-up alumni members take better than 32,000. Capacity at Ohio Stadium is 78,951, but the Bucks have been drawing about 82,000.

TWO managers have expressed interest in the City Basketball League, but we haven't heard from any others. It's getting late and the league should be formed in the next couple weeks.

A meeting for anyone interested in entering a team in the City Basketball League will be held Thursday at 8 p. m. at the Travelers Hotel. In case you can't attend the meeting, but still wish to enter a team please contact yours truly at the Review.

Lady Boosters Set Nov. 27 For Potter Football Dinner

The dinner will be held at the St. Ann's Church in East End.

Nonpareil To See Potter-Salem Movies

Movies of the Potter - Salem game will be screened and plans discussed for the annual football banquet when the Blue and White Nonpareil Club meets tonight at 8 in the YMCA. Russell E. Hall is president.

Plans were made for a bake sale to be held sometime this month.

New officers will be installed at the next meeting Monday at 7:30 in the Hi-Teen Rooms. Mrs. Alma Hall, the outgoing president, presided at last night's meeting.

Jockey Hall Of Fame Lists 2 More Names

BALTIMORE (AP) — Linus (Pony) McAtee and Joe Notter, two noted jockeys of yesteryear, were elected today to the National Jockeys Hall of Fame.

McAtee led in the annual balloting by sportswriters throughout the nation, but because the closeness of the vote (297-291), the shrine's permanent nominating committee decided to honor both men this year.

Notter, 72, of Floral Park, N.Y., rode from 1904 through 1918. His purse-winning record of $464,322 in 1908 stood until it was broken by Earl Sande in 1923.

The lights will be burning brightly on district gridirons this weekend with most squads ending their 1961 campaigns at home.

Eight games are on tap for Friday, and one other Saturday night pitting once-beaten Beaver Local against Springfield of Mahoning County.

All except East Liverpool will end their seasons in joining Midland, South Side, Leetonia, Salineville and Newell which terminated their slates earlier.

One of three squads will wear the district crown after this weekend, but the race for individual scoring honors figures as almost a certainty to be decided between two players.

Contenders for the district team title are Stanton Local (7-1-0), Beaver Local (6-1-2) and Columbiana (6-2).

Stanton Local's Stan Wickham and Beaver Local's Carl Hoppel are the leading contenders for the scoring title. Hoppel, who has scored at least once in every game, leads with 85. Wickham follows closely with 76.

Texas Also Shows Lead In Rushing

NEW YORK (AP)—The powerful Texas Longhorns lead the nation's major college football teams in total and rushing yardage for the third consecutive week.

The Longhorns have an average 325 yards rushing and 431 over-all while compiling an unblemished record for seven games. They gained 431 yards—their exact season's average—in beating SMU last Saturday, according to statistics compiled by the NCAA Service Bureau.

Mississippi, which was knocked from the unbeaten ranks by Louisiana State, remained the runnerup in total offense with a 417.7 average followed by Utah State 387.6 and New Mexico State 372.9.

The Detroit Titans still hold a commanding lead over Mississippi in passing. Detroit has averaged 218.2 yards a game to Ole Miss' 179.4.

Mississippi has passed for the most touchdowns, 15, and has the lowest average of interceptions, 2.8 on only four interceptions in 145 pitches.

Frick Favors 'Spitball' To Help Pitchers

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Beleaguered big league baseball pitchers, stung by a record 2,730 home runs last season, have a strong ally in Commissioner Ford Frick.

"I hope they bring back the spitball," Frick said today. "The pitchers need help. Most of the rule changes the past few years have favored the batter. Something has to be done to give the game more balance."

According to Frick, a proposal to legalize the spitter was submitted to the major league rules committee last month. The group is expected to consider it during the majors' annual meetings early in December in Tampa, Fla. Jim Gallagher, veteran executive most recently with Philadelphia, is the committee chairman.

"A similar proposal was submitted to the committee a few years ago but was turned down," Frick recalled. "This time I think there's even more need for the spitter. The fans will eventually get tired of seeing all those home runs. The spitball would help bring back the stolen base, the hit-and-run and the sacrifice and would give the fans something new."

The spitball, outlawed in the early 1920s, moves up to the plate like a knuckler, only faster, Frick said.

8 Tilts Slated Friday; 3 Schools In Race For Top Honors

Coach Don McBride's Irons could be given some anxious moments in their last game. Malvern is reported a league leader in Carroll County. A local official who worked the Malvern-West Lafayette game earlier commented the Malvern squad "is the most eager ball club I've seen all season."

After a disappointing performance against Beaver Local last week, Wellsville High's Tigers bid to regain a little prestige in entertaining unbeaten Warren St. Mary's at Nicholson Stadium.

Coach Ken Woods' Tigers are underdogs against the Warren club, which won the Turnpike Conference with five victories. St. Mary's is 8-0-1 overall. The Mohawks tied Girard, 6-6, in the season's opener.

Chester travels to New Cumberland and is a two-to-three touchdown underdog against Coach John Kuzio's surprising Blue Raiders (6-2-1). Leading New Cumberland in its finale is quarterback Allen Katzenmeyer, whose 18-point burst in a loss at Jefferson Union moved him from eighth to fourth in the district scoring race.

The Beavers show the best defensive record in the district. Opponents have been permitted only 42 points in nine games, while the Beavers have registered 205.

Houston, San Diego Lead Offense, Defense

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Houston stepped up its offense and San Diego its defense in the American Football League last week.

Houston moved farther out front in offense, running its average to 438 yards per game—20 yards more. The Oilers do most of their moving in the air, showing 318 yards passing.

San Diego, the unbeaten leader of the Western Division, is stingier than ever on defense. The tightfisted Chargers have given up only 225 yards per outing, of which just 89 are on rushing.

Houston ranks third in defense, behind New York. The Oilers are allowing 300 yards per game, New York 285.

Texas marched into first place in the weekly Associated Press poll of a 48-man committee of sports writers and sportscasters today after both Michigan State and Mississippi were upended. Michigan State had ruled the roost for three weeks.

The unbeaten Texas Longhorns, 7-0 winners over Southern Methodist for their seventh straight, assumed the lead with only three games to play.

Alabama, also unbeaten in seven, took over second position by drubbing Mississippi State 24-0. Ohio State, 29-13 winner over Iowa, bolted into third place in the big shuffle.

Louisiana State, 10-7 conqueror of previously unbeaten Mississippi, advanced to the No. 4 slot and Minnesota, which knocked Michigan State out of the unbeaten class 13-0, took over fifth.

The points are figured on the basis of 10 for first, 9 for second and so on down to one for 10th place. On that basis, Texas has 473 points and Alabama 410.

There are no pairings involving teams from the top ten in this week's schedule.

The only unbeaten, untied clubs in the top ten are Texas, Alabama and Colorado. Ohio State has not lost but was tied by Texas Christian.

1.	Texas (35)	473

Let Opponents Make Mistakes

Minnesota Made The Big Play To Upset Spartans

By JIM ROGERS

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Ability to make the big play when the chance comes.

"We concentrate on trying to take the mistakes out of football—and then let our opponents beat themselves by making a mistake or two."

Rival coaches, aghast over the Michigan State defeat, agree that Minnesota's game is sometimes methodical and unimaginative. Some add the word lucky, too. They admit their mistakes, point to some Gopher errors and cite injuries as factors. But seldom do they say it was because Minnesota has a better team.

Against Michigan State Minnesota came up five times with a vital play.

"We like to kick on third down, kick off instead of receive and stick to a running attack as much as possible, mainly to place the pressure on the other team," Warmath explained. "We figure if the opposition has the ball deep in its own territory it is more likely to make a harmful error.

"We play the percentages a great deal and sometimes shock the fans with our conservatism, but it is all for a definite purpose. You might say we play a defensive ball game."

MSU Fullback Holds Big 10 Points Lead

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan State fullback George Saimes of Canton, Ohio, remained in first place in the Big Ten all-games scoring record despite his team's shutout by Minnesota Saturday.

Saimes has 42 points on seven touchdowns.

Three Ohio State players were listed among the Big Ten's scoring leaders. Bob Ferguson has 30 points on five touchdowns, Paul Warfield has 24 points on four TDs and Dick Van Raaphorst has 23 points on 14 points after touchdown and three field goals.

Texas Also Shows Lead In Rushing

NEW YORK (AP)—The powerful Texas Longhorns lead the nation's major college football teams in total and rushing yardage for the third consecutive week.

The Longhorns have an average 325 yards rushing and 431 over-all while compiling an unblemished record for seven games. They gained 431 yards—their exact season's average—in beating SMU last Saturday, according to statistics compiled by the NCAA Service Bureau.

Mississippi, which was knocked from the unbeaten ranks by Louisiana State, remained the runnerup in total offense with a 417.7 average followed by Utah State 387.6 and New Mexico State 372.9.

The Detroit Titans still hold a commanding lead over Mississippi in passing. Detroit has averaged 218.2 yards a game to Ole Miss' 179.4.

Mississippi has passed for the most touchdowns, 15, and has the lowest average of interceptions, 2.8 on only four interceptions in 145 pitches.

Frick Favors 'Spitball' To Help Pitchers

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Beleaguered big league baseball pitchers, stung by a record 2,730 home runs last season, have a strong ally in Commissioner Ford Frick.

"I hope they bring back the spitball," Frick said today. "The pitchers need help. Most of the rule changes the past few years have favored the batter. Something has to be done to give the game more balance."

According to Frick, a proposal to legalize the spitter was submitted to the major league rules committee last month. The group is expected to consider it during the majors' annual meetings early in December in Tampa, Fla. Jim Gallagher, veteran executive most recently with Philadelphia, is the committee chairman.

"A similar proposal was submitted to the committee a few years ago but was turned down," Frick recalled. "This time I think there's even more need for the spitter. The fans will eventually get tired of seeing all those home runs. The spitball would help bring back the stolen base, the hit-and-run and the sacrifice and would give the fans something new."

The spitball, outlawed in the early 1920s, moves up to the plate like a knuckler, only faster, Frick said.

Let Opponents Make Mistakes

Minnesota Made The Big Play To Upset Spartans

By JIM ROGERS

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Ability to make the big play when the chance comes.

"We play a methodical type of game which is not very interesting to the spectator," says Gopher Coach Murray Warmath. "We concentrate on trying to take the mistakes out of football—and then let our opponents beat themselves by making a mistake or two."

Rival coaches, aghast over the Michigan State defeat, agree that Minnesota's game is sometimes methodical and unimaginative. Some add the word lucky, too. They admit their mistakes, point to some Gopher errors and cite injuries as factors. But seldom do they say it was because Minnesota has a better team.

An expert watching Minnesota for the first time Saturday compared the Gophers with boxer Tiger Jones, saying, "It doesn't look like he is winning until you start counting up the points in the sixth round."

Against Michigan State Minnesota came up five times with a vital play.

"We like to kick on third down, kick off instead of receive and stick to a running attack as much as possible, mainly to place the pressure on the other team," Warmath explained. "We figure if the opposition has the ball deep in its own territory it is more likely to make a harmful error.

"We play the percentages a great deal and sometimes shock the fans with our conservatism, but it is all for a definite purpose. You might say we play a defensive ball game."

MSU Fullback Holds Big 10 Points Lead

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan State fullback George Saimes of Canton, Ohio, remained in first place in the Big Ten all-games scoring record despite his team's shutout by Minnesota Saturday.

Saimes has 42 points on seven touchdowns.

Three Ohio State players were listed among the Big Ten's scoring leaders. Bob Ferguson has 30 points on five touchdowns, Paul Warfield has 24 points on four TDs and Dick Van Raaphorst has 23 points on 14 points after touchdown and three field goals.

Crimson Tide In 2nd Place

'Pat & Mike' Combination Carrying Alabama To Top

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Alabama's Crimson Tide, back among the elite of college football after a decade of mediocrity, have spelled success this year with a pair of Qs, and a couple of blokes named Pat and Mike.

The Qs stand for "quarterback" and "quickness", the hallmark of its rapid-fire offense and a rock-robbed defense. The Pat is also the quarterback, Pat Trammell.

This combination has led Coach Bear Bryant's team to a 7-0 record, and has helped it to be ranked No. 2 in The Associated Press' latest poll after whomping Mississippi State last Saturday, 24-0.

All elements have blended precisely. Trammell is ranked fifth nationally in total offense with 956 yards running and passing, and 11th in passing with 730 yards in completing 54 of 93 attempts.

Alabama is second nationally in total defense, allowing only 911 yards in seven games for a 130.1 average, and second in rushing defense with a miserly 55.1 per game average. It has allowed only 3.1 points per game, lowest in the nation.

Trammell has passed for five touchdowns, and scored eight. Fracchia has tallied four times and been the hatchet man on key yardage situations.

Both will be ready this Saturday when the Tide plays Richmond of the Southern Conference, causing the Spiders Coach Ed Merrick to crack, "I hope my boys won't be overconfident."

Richmond may be without halfback Earl Stoudt, its All Conference halfback and leading ground gainer, who injured a knee in last week's 11-0 victory over Virginia Tech.

Texas, the No. 1 team, will have to face Baylor without fullback Ray Poage, out for the second straight week. Third-ranked Ohio State, playing Indiana, probably will be without quarterback Bill Mrukowski, who suffered a gashed finger in the Buckeyes victory over Iowa.

Penn State lost guard Bob Hart for the year because of a recurring ankle injury that will require surgery. Jerry Gross, the University of Detroit's quarterback who led the nation in total offense part of this season, was operated on Monday for a fracture of the right leg he suffered last week against Army. He is finished for 1961.

Notre Dame is expected to have guard Nick Buonoconte and end Jim Kelly back for this week's game at Pitt, when the Irish try to break a three-game losing string. Notre Dame fullback Mike Lind may be out another week with a pulled back muscle.

Graham Is Given Second Term At Sportsman's Club

Carl Graham, president, and other officers of the Chester-Newell Farmers & Sportsmen's Club were re-elected at a meeting Monday night at the clubhouse at Gas Valley.

Yearly reports were given. It was announced the club grounds will be closed for running of dogs Nov. 24-25 to permit members to zero in rifles.

OSU Academic Senate Opposes Rose Bowl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "The academic senate of Ohio State is opposed to the Rose Bowl game and probably would not let the school accept a bid, were one received," says a director of the Big Ten Club of Southern California.

Ken Hooton, speaking Monday for the club, added: "It is my personal opinion that Minnesota would not accept (either), even though it is an individual matter now for the schools. A repeat trip would be contrary to Big Ten thinking."

Niles Cuts Into Massillon's Lead, But Not Enough To Worry Champs

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It's election day—and 47 sports writers named Massillon's Tigers as Ohio's top high school football team in the weekly Associated Press poll today.

But the margin was whittled somewhat from last week's totals, as Niles McKinley crept up on the pace-setters. On the 10-9-8-etc. voting basis, Massillon led by only 99 poll points today, compared with 158 a week ago.

Fremont Ross, 36-8 loser to Marion Harding, and twice-beaten Cincinnati Purcell dropped out of the Top Ten. Martins Ferry and Toledo Macomber eased into the last two spots, Martins Ferry making its first appearance despite eight straight wins this year and an unbeaten string of 29—probably the state's best among the Class AA schools.

Bellevue, with nine wins and a robust scoring mark, climbed a notch to sixth. Hamilton Garfield moved up to seventh and Kettering Fairmont jumped to eighth.

Cambridge loosed a shotgun offense and passed 58 times in an attempt to upset Martins Ferry, completing 20 for 229 yards, but lost 46-8. Cambridge ran the ball only six times.

Allen Kirkpatrick of New London became the first player to score on Huron this year, led 6-0 at the half, but lost 30-6. Huron puts its 9-0 record on the line against 8-1 Lorain St. Mary Friday night.

Sandusky meets Marion Harding Friday, and if Sandusky wins, both will tie with Fremont Ross at 4-1 for the Buckeye Conference crown. Marion could take it all with a win or tie.

The Alliance-Steubenville game had plenty of fireworks. Harry Wilson of the Big Red scored on a 64-yard jaunt over tackle to tie it in the final period, but 13 seconds later Glenn Hill, Alliance's scat back, raced the kickoff back 85 yards for the decided in the 28-22 contest.

Charles (Choo-Choo) Stevenson, 161-pound, 5-foot-4 fullback for Perkins Twp., a Class AA school just outside Sandusky, has scored 23 touchdowns and five conversions for 148 points in a 6-3 season.

The Weavers had a tough time in Mansfield over the weekend. Henry Weaver, Mansfield senior's state sprint and hurdle champ, suffered torn knee ligaments on his third carry, one for 90 yards, against Toledo Woodward—and is out for the season. And Gary Weaver of Mansfield Madison pulled ligaments in his ankle Saturday night in losing 18-8 to Toledo Macomber for Madison's first setback.

Scoring leader? Larry Zuercher of Dalton scored five touchdowns and a two-point conversion in the 48-6 win over Rittman, eighth in a row for Dalton. Larry has 178 points for the eight encounters.

OSU Alumni Secretary Slams Grid Standards

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—John B. (Jack) Fullen, Ohio State University alumni secretary, commented Monday—apparently with tongue-in-cheek—that maybe Ohio State ought to hire a pro football team to play on Saturdays and run it under a new bureau of football.

Fullen, in a signed editorial in the Ohio State Lantern, student newspaper, expressed his irk with the faculty council's mid-October approval of a $416,000-a-year athletic scholarship program.

Fullen said that under the program an athlete getting a 1.7 scholastic average in his freshman year "will be eligible to receive the full cost of board, room, tuition and books," and a reduced class schedule of 12 hours in season compared with the minimum of 15 for other students.

"They are not raising the standards at all," Fullen said. "They stay just as easy as they were.

"What the spokesman (for the council) really means is that, in recruiting a prospect — and are they everymore recruited — they want to know whether he is worth spending the money on."

Fullen also was irked at what he said was football coach Woody Hayes' comment that the job of football players is "to some extent football."

"The job of these boys is to get an education," said Fullen, who then wryly proposed the hiring of a pro team to play on Saturdays.

Engineers Find Sleeper In 191-Pound Fullback

By VERNON BUTLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP) — A fullback who came to Georgia Tech without a scholarship is the unsung fellow who is leading the Yellow Jackets on their spectacular comeback.

Mike McNames couldn't push the scales as far as 170 pounds when he showed up for practice four years ago. He weighed no more than 177 in 1959 when Coach Bobby Dodd awarded him a football grant-in-aid and held him out for seasoning and weight-gaining.

Now McNames, weighing a solid 191, is Tech's bread-and-butter yardage man. The Vidalia, Ga., junior, who seldom gets mentioned in discussions of the Tech offense, leads the team in rushing with 293 yards, an average of four yards every time he carries the ball.

He has had a big hand in every touchdown drive of this successful season in which Tech has beaten six of its first seven foes. In last week's 20-0 victory over Florida, the nationally ranked Engineers moved 23 yards for their first touchdown. McNames got 12 of them. They toured 44 yards through tough Florida defenders for the second. McNames got 31 of these. On the third drive he carried twice for 12 yards just before halfback Chick Graning ran 28 for the score.

"Mike is the best fullback we have had at Tech since Ken Owen in 1956," Dodd said today. "As a runner he isn't as likely to go all the way as Owen, but there are some things he does even better. He is the best blocking fullback I've coached in a good many years, and he plays corner linebacker in excellent fashion. McNames has been consistently good all season. Certainly his play has been a key to our success this year."

Weir Needs Win To Gain W. Va. Finals

PARKERSBURG (AP) — Parkersburg, Bluefield and Ravenswood have been tentatively selected as sites for the state high school football playoff games Nov. 18.

The West Virginia Secondary Schools Activities Commission, in announcing the selection of the sites, said the Class AAA game will be played here between Weirton and St. Albans, provided Weirton defeats Parkersburg in their final regular season game Friday night.

Should Weirton, the defending Class AAA champion, lose to Parkersburg, St. Albans would meet Huntington at Charleston's Laidley Field. Again, the commission noted, such a St. Albans - Huntington clash would depend on both those teams winning their final games this week. St. Albans plays winless Barboursville and Huntington tackles Huntington East.

The Class AA playoff opponents —Mount Hope and Williamson — each has one game remaining. The two teams will play at Bluefield on Nov. 18.

Pipers, Frisco Wins ABL Games

By The Associated Press

A crowd of 3,107 welcomed the Kansas City Steers at their first home game in the American Basketball League Monday night and watched their team lose to Cleveland 110-106.

League-leading San Francisco also assumed the spoiler's role, defeating the Los Angeles Jets 116-113 in the opener at Los Angeles. The crowd there was 1,634.

Cleveland's 6-foot Roger Taylor, former Illinois star, proved the little man still has a place. He scored 35 points with a soft, outside shot. Bill Bridges led Kansas City with 24.

In Los Angeles, George Yardley of the Jets and Whitey Bell of the Saints ignited a brief fight. None of the players involved was ejected.

San Francisco was behind 10 points midway through the third period but a 3-point basket by Bell put the Saints ahead as the quarter ended. San Francisco never again relinquished the lead.

Dave Gunther scored 27 points for San Francisco. Bell had 26.

Canadiens' Provost Leads NHL Scoring

MONTREAL (AP) — Fleet Claude Provost, a 28-year-old ring wing, is atop the National Hockey League scoring race for the first time in seven seasons with the Montreal Canadiens.

Provost, who never has scored more than 19 goals in a season, has 10 this year in the Canadiens' first 11 games. He also has 10 assists for 20 points, two more than slumping Andy Bathgate of New York.

Bathgate got only one assist in three games last week, while Provost picked up five points, three goals and two assists, to vault past Bathgate in the official league statistics, released today.

Provost's 10 goals leads the league in that department, while Bathgate has the most assists, 13.

Crimson Tide In 2nd Place

'Pat & Mike' Combination Carrying Alabama To Top

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Alabama's Crimson Tide, back among the elite of college football after a decade of mediocrity, have spelled success this year with a pair of Qs, and a couple of blokes named Pat and Mike.

The Qs stand for "quarterback" and "quickness", the hallmark of its rapid-fire offense and a rock-robbed defense. The Pat is also the quarterback, Pat Trammell.

This combination has led Coach Bear Bryant's team to a 7-0 record, and has helped it to be ranked No. 2 in The Associated Press' latest poll after whomping Mississippi State last Saturday, 24-0.

All elements have blended precisely. Trammell is ranked fifth nationally in total offense with 956 yards running and passing, and 11th in passing with 730 yards in completing 54 of 93 attempts.

Alabama is second nationally in total defense, allowing only 911 yards in seven games for a 130.1 average, and second in rushing defense with a miserly 55.1 per game average. It has allowed only 3.1 points per game, lowest in the nation.

Trammell has passed for five touchdowns, and scored eight. Fracchia has tallied four times and been the hatchet man on key yardage situations.

Both will be ready this Saturday when the Tide plays Richmond of the Southern Conference, causing the Spiders Coach Ed Merrick to crack, "I hope my boys won't be overconfident."

Richmond may be without halfback Earl Stoudt, its All Conference halfback and leading ground gainer, who injured a knee in last week's 11-0 victory over Virginia Tech.

Texas, the No. 1 team, will have to face Baylor without fullback Ray Poage, out for the second straight week. Third-ranked Ohio State, playing Indiana, probably will be without quarterback Bill Mrukowski, who suffered a gashed finger in the Buckeyes victory over Iowa.

Penn State lost guard Bob Hart for the year because of a recurring ankle injury that will require surgery. Jerry Gross, the University of Detroit's quarterback who led the nation in total offense part of this season, was operated on Monday for a fracture of the right leg he suffered last week against Army. He is finished for 1961.

Notre Dame is expected to have guard Nick Buonoconte and end Jim Kelly back for this week's game at Pitt, when the Irish try to break a three-game losing string. Notre Dame fullback Mike Lind may be out another week with a pulled back muscle.

OSU Academic Senate Opposes Rose Bowl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "The academic senate of Ohio State is opposed to the Rose Bowl game and probably would not let the school accept a bid, were one received," says a director of the Big Ten Club of Southern California.

Ken Hooton, speaking Monday for the club, added: "It is my personal opinion that Minnesota would not accept (either), even though it is an individual matter now for the schools. A repeat trip would be contrary to Big Ten thinking."

Niles Cuts Into Massillon's Lead, But Not Enough To Worry Champs

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It's election day—and 47 sports writers named Massillon's Tigers as Ohio's top high school football team in the weekly Associated Press poll today.

But the margin was whittled somewhat from last week's totals, as Niles McKinley crept up on the pace-setters. On the 10-9-8-etc. voting basis, Massillon led by only 99 poll points today, compared with 158 a week ago.

Fremont Ross, 36-8 loser to Marion Harding, and twice-beaten Cincinnati Purcell dropped out of the Top Ten. Martins Ferry and Toledo Macomber eased into the last two spots, Martins Ferry making its first appearance despite eight straight wins this year and an unbeaten string of 29—probably the state's best among the Class AA schools.

Bellevue, with nine wins and a robust scoring mark, climbed a notch to sixth. Hamilton Garfield moved up to seventh and Kettering Fairmont jumped to eighth.

From here and there:

Cambridge loosed a shotgun offense and passed 58 times in an attempt to upset Martins Ferry, completing 20 for 229 yards, but lost 46-8. Cambridge ran the ball only six times.

Allen Kirkpatrick of New London became the first player to score on Huron this year, led 6-0 at the half, but lost 30-6. Huron puts its 9-0 record on the line against 8-1 Lorain St. Mary Friday night.

Sandusky meets Marion Harding Friday, and if Sandusky wins, both will tie with Fremont Ross at 4-1 for the Buckeye Conference crown. Marion could take it all with a win or tie.

The big "Butler County" bowl is scheduled this week as fifth-ranked Middletown meets seventh ranked Hamilton Garfield at Hamilton.

Eastlake North (7-2) surprised everyone with a 34-8 win over Berea — the Cleveland district's top-rated team.

The Alliance-Steubenville game had plenty of fireworks. Harry Wilson of the Big Red scored on a 64-yard jaunt over tackle to tie it in the final period, but 13 seconds later Glenn Hill, Alliance's scat back, raced the kickoff back 85 yards for the decided in the 28-22 contest.

Charles (Choo-Choo) Stevenson, 161-pound, 5-foot-4 fullback for Perkins Twp., a Class AA school just outside Sandusky, has scored 23 touchdowns and five conversions for 148 points in a 6-3 season.

The Weavers had a tough time in Mansfield over the weekend. Henry Weaver, Mansfield senior's state sprint and hurdle champ, suffered torn knee ligaments on his third carry, one for 90 yards, against Toledo Woodward—and is out for the season. And Gary Weaver of Mansfield Madison pulled ligaments in his ankle Saturday night in losing 18-8 to Toledo Macomber for Madison's first setback.

Scoring leader? Larry Zuercher of Dalton scored five touchdowns and a two-point conversion in the 48-6 win over Rittman, eighth in a row for Dalton. Larry has 178 points for the eight encounters.

OSU Alumni Secretary Slams Grid Standards

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—John B. (Jack) Fullen, Ohio State University alumni secretary, commented Monday—apparently with tongue-in-cheek—that maybe Ohio State ought to hire a pro football team to play on Saturdays and run it under a new bureau of football.

Fullen, in a signed editorial in the Ohio State Lantern, student newspaper, expressed his irk with the faculty council's mid-October approval of a $416,000 - a - year athletic scholarship program.

Fullen said that under the program an athlete getting a 1.7 scholastic average in his freshman year "will be eligible to receive the full cost of board, room, tuition and books," and a reduced class schedule of 12 hours in season compared with the minimum of 15 for other students.

The alumni secretary assailed the council's claim that the program would raise athletes' scholastic requirements.

"They are not raising the standards at all," Fullen said. "They stay just as easy as they were.

"What the spokesman (for the council) really means is that, in recruiting a prospect — and are they everymore recruited — they want to know whether he is worth spending the money on."

Fullen also was irked at what he said was football coach Woody Hayes' comment that the job of football players is "to some extent football."

"The job of these boys is to get an education," said Fullen, who then wryly proposed the hiring of a pro team to play on Saturdays.

Engineers Find Sleeper In 191-Pound Fullback

By VERNON BUTLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP) — A fullback who came to Georgia Tech without a scholarship is the unsung fellow who is leading the Yellow Jackets on their spectacular comeback.

Mike McNames couldn't push the scales as far as 170 pounds when he showed up for practice four years ago. He weighed no more than 177 in 1959 when Coach Bobby Dodd awarded him a football grant-in-aid and held him out for seasoning and weight-gaining.

Now McNames, weighing a solid 191, is Tech's bread-and-butter yardage man. The Vidalia, Ga., junior, who seldom gets mentioned in discussions of the Tech offense, leads the team in rushing with 293 yards, an average of four yards every time he carries the ball.

He has had a big hand in every touchdown drive of this successful season in which Tech has beaten six of its first seven foes. In last week's 20-0 victory over Florida, the nationally ranked Engineers moved 23 yards for their first touchdown. McNames got 12 of them. They toured 44 yards through tough Florida defenders for the second. McNames got 31 of these. On the third drive he carried twice for 12 yards just before halfback Chick Graning ran 28 for the score.

"Mike is the best fullback we have had at Tech since Ken Owen in 1956," Dodd said today. "As a runner he isn't as likely to go all the way as Owen, but there are some things he does even better. He is the best blocking fullback I've coached in a good many years, and he plays corner linebacker in excellent fashion. McNames has been consistently good all season. Certainly his play has been a key to our success this year."

Rayburn Had Restful Day, Still Serious

BONHAM, Tex. (AP) — Sam Rayburn's doctor said the House speaker, ill with cancer, was stronger and spent a restful day Monday. His condition remains serious.

Dr. Joe Risser said Rayburn, 79, was visited by his sisters and by Miss Alla Clary, his Washington secretary for 42 years.

Weir Needs Win To Gain W. Va. Finals

PARKERSBURG (AP) — Parkersburg, Bluefield and Ravenswood have been tentatively selected as sites for the state high school football playoff games Nov. 18.

The West Virginia Secondary Schools Activities Commission, in announcing the selection of the sites, said the Class AAA game will be played here between Weirton and St. Albans, provided Weirton defeats Parkersburg in their final regular season game Friday night.

Should Weirton, the defending Class AAA champion, lose to Parkersburg, St. Albans would meet Huntington at Charleston's Laidley Field. Again, the commission noted, such a St. Albans - Huntington clash would depend on both those teams winning their final games this week. St. Albans plays winless Barboursville and Huntington tackles Huntington East.

The Class AA playoff opponents —Mount Hope and Williamson — each has one game remaining. The two teams will play at Bluefield on Nov. 18.

The Class A game between Winfield and Williamstown was set for Nov. 18 at Ravenswood.

Pipers, Frisco Wins ABL Games

By The Associated Press

A crowd of 3,107 welcomed the Kansas City Steers at their first home game in the American Basketball League Monday night and watched their team lose to Cleveland 110-106.

League-leading San Francisco also assumed the spoiler's role, defeating the Los Angeles Jets 116-113 in the opener at Los Angeles. The crowd there was 1,634.

Cleveland's 6-foot Roger Taylor, former Illinois star, proved the little man still has a place. He scored 35 points with a soft, outside shot. Bill Bridges led Kansas City with 24.

In Los Angeles, George Yardley of the Jets and Whitey Bell of the Saints ignited a brief fight. None of the players involved was ejected.

San Francisco was behind 10 points midway through the third period but a 3-point basket by Bell put the Saints ahead as the quarter ended. San Francisco never again relinquished the lead.

Dave Gunther scored 27 points for San Francisco. Bell had 26.

Canadiens' Provost Leads NHL Scoring

MONTREAL (AP) — Fleet Claude Provost, a 28-year-old ring wing, is atop the National Hockey League scoring race for the first time in seven seasons with the Montreal Canadiens.

Provost, who never has scored more than 19 goals in a season, has 10 this year in the Canadiens' first 11 games. He also has 10 assists for 20 points, two more than slumping Andy Bathgate of New York.

Bathgate got only one assist in three games last week, while Provost picked up five points, three goals and two assists, to vault past Bathgate in the official league statistics, released today.

Provost's 10 goals leads the league in that department, while Bathgate has the most assists, 13.

3 CARDS OF THANKS

WE wish to take this opportunity to thank the many friends and neighbors for their sympathy during our recent bereavement and loss of our son and grandson, Michael Lee Cranston. Also those who sent floral offerings and especially Dr. John Hayes and staff. Also the Rev. Roy Perkins and family. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cranston and Family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cranston and Family.

WE want to extend our sincere thanks and gratitude to the many friends and neighbors who assisted in anyway during the death of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Maude M. Fluno, and to those who sent flowers and donated cars, expecially Rev. John L. Clark. The Fluno Family.

CUB SCOUT Pack 25 wishes to thank the people of Chester for their cooperation in our recent successful Pop Bottle Drive.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

3 CARDS OF THANKS

WE wish to take this opportunity to thank the many friends and neighbors for their sympathy during our recent bereavement and loss of our son and grandson, Michael Lee Cranston. Also those who sent floral offerings and especially Dr. John Hayes and staff. Also the Rev. Roy Perkins and family. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cranston and Family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cranston and Family.

WE want to extend our sincere thanks and gratitude to the many friends and neighbors who assisted in anyway during the death of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Maude M. Fluno, and to those who sent flowers and donated cars, expecially Rev. John L. Clark. The Fluno Family.

CUB SCOUT Pack 25 wishes to thank the people of Chester for their cooperation in our recent successful Pop Bottle Drive.

One bedroom on the first floor and two upstairs. Extra nice location in Pleasant Heights on Spring Grove Avenue just two doors off Lisbon Street and one block from school. You're on city sewer and water with no worries. Leave the car in the nice garage and catch a bus to town just 200 ft. from home, on bad mornings. Full basement, gas furnace and a low interest mortgage for about $7,000. No, we're not trying to mislead you — we're trying to lead you right to 840 Spring Grove Avenue.

You'll have to prove it to me if you think there is more home for sale for $3,700. than the one at 113 W. 2nd Street. Gas heat, 7 rooms and bath.
